Group Now Weighing Move To Have Newton's Voters Rule on Canine Question

A group of Newton residents, who supported the leash law petition aimed at restricting the freedom of the city's dogs, are now weighing the possibility of a move to place the issue on the ballot in next year's municipal election, The Graphic learned today.

If they decide upon such an undertaking, they probably will attempt it as private citizens, entirely apart from and independent of the PTA Council which sponsored the leash measure that was rejected last week by the Board of Aldermen.

Leaders of the group, who feel they were given a "run-around" by the Aldermen, have conferred with officials at the State House concerning the steps they would be obliged to take in order to bring the issue to a head and have it settled by the people of Newton in the privacy of their voting booths.

They have been informed that the most practical and feasible method of procedure would be to submit a petition to the Board of Aldermen asking that the matter be placed on the ballot as a referendum in the 1959 election.

While the city fathers both this year and in 1957 rejected measures which would have restricted the wanderings of Newton dogs, it is felt that they would not deny the people of Newton the right to vote on the matter.

Should the Aldermen block a referendum on the highly controversial leash law issue, supporters of the move could carry

Two Newton Nurses Guests Of Royal Family in Belgium

A royal welcome and entertainment on a scale usually reserved only for the world's most noted or wearers of the purple has been tendered two Newton nurses in Belgium.

The nurses are the Misses Betty E. Lank, anesthetist, and Marie Dresser. They attended Prince Alexandre, son of Belgium's ex-King Leopold and the Princess de Rethy, when the prince underwent surgery for the constriction of the aorta at Children's Medical Center, Boston.

The Newton nurses reached Brussels in mid-April, attending four other patients who had been treated at the Boston hospital by Dr. Robert H. Gross.

Following their arrival, they became guests of Belgium's royal family.

They lived at the royal palace of Laeken, attended a court ball and visited the World's Fair at Brussels.

A palace spokesman told the press that they were then to be guests of Leopold and the Princess at Hinteriss, the Austrian hunting lodge owned by the royal couple.

Urge Low-Rent Housing For Senior Citizens Here

While Newton does not have as many low-income senior citizens as many communities, it does have enough to warrant the establishment of public housing for them, particularly when it will be completely paid for by the state.

This will be the point of view expressed by members of the Mayor's Advisory Committee on Affairs Concerning Our Senior Citizens when they appear before the Board of Aldermen Monday evening in an effort to have them establish a Newton Housing Authority.

Chairman of the committee is Miss Adelaide Ball, who points out that more than 10 per cent of Newton's population is over 65.

"Many of these people would not be interested in or eligible for public housing," she said, "but to a large number it would be a boon, taking them out of sub-standard rooms or apartments, often on the third floor, sometimes without heat,

Meaner Than The Meanest

Sometimes the world can be cursed with something meaner than the "meanest thief." Such a one turned up in the Knotty Pine Lunch at 295 Auburn street, Auburndale. While the attention of the proprietor, Robert Schlossberg, was directed elsewhere, the thief walked off with a box containing an estimated $8. The box was a collection container used for cerebral palsy victims.

City-Wide Coverage For Refugee Clothing Drive

A whirlwind, city-wide clothing and shoe drive in behalf of 40,000 displaced persons in Europe will be held in Newton on Friday evening, May 9, and Saturday, May 10.

The Newton city government, school department, civil defense, and Boy Scouts have eagerly joined in a cooperative effort to ease the distress and suffering of the men, women, and children who live as free people in squalid conditions following their escape from suppression in Communist dominated countries.

Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., in accepting the honorary chairmanship of the drive, called for the generous support of all residents of the Garden City.

Active chairman for the drive will be Bernard Pearson, 131 Windsor Road, Waban. Mr. Pearson has long been active in civic affairs. He is president of Talbot-Windsor Corp., intelligence officer of the Newton Civil Defense, and president of Rehabilitation Services—an organization working in cooperation with the Massachusetts penal system.

Assisting him will be Dr. Harold Gores, superintendent of Newton schools; Leigh Packer, director of Civil Defense, and Ralph B. Johnson, executive director of Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Defeat of Withholding Tax Bill Poses Big Problem for Furcolo

Governor Furcolo is confronted with a financial problem to which there is no apparent solution as a result of the defeat of his withholding income tax bill.

He must either slash State expenditures drastically or find some new source of revenue, and the likelihood of his obtaining the enactment of any new tax appears pretty remote.

Ironically, the Governor's best hope might be a modified sales tax. But the prospect of the Legislature passing any form of sales tax bill in an election year is not exactly bright.

Furcolo is being importuned by some of his advisors to revive his withholding tax proposal and resubmit it to the Legislature with a special message. What that would accomplish other than to waste more time is not clear to this onlooker.

In order to achieve the enactment of the withholding bill, the Governor would have to persuade six Senators who voted against the measure on Monday to shift their positions. On the very face of it that would be an impossibility.

Every bit of pressure which could be brought into play was employed in an attempt to line up 21 Senators behind the bill. Every argument which could be voiced was advanced.

House, Golf Shop Are Broken Into

Newton police received reports of breaks in a golf shop and a vacant home within a 24 hour period early this week.

The golf shop at the Charles River Country Club, Newton Centre, was entered between 5 p.m. Monday and 8:30 a.m. Tuesday by forcing the front door after attempts to open three windows failed.

Money was taken from the cigarette machine and an inventory of the shop will be made to determine if anything else was stolen. The break was discovered by the caddiemaster, Martin Reardon.

A vacant house was entered by forcing a window at 507 Centre street, Newton, Edward Burns of the John T. Burns Realty Co. reported. Burned matches were found inside the house.

Both breaks are being investigated.

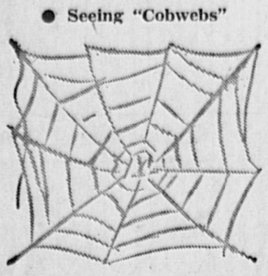
WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

● Seeing "Cobwebs"



Q. "I have been seeing 'cobwebs' before one eye for several months. What is your theory on cause and cure?—Mrs. J. S."

A. Floating spots before the eyes are due to changes in the vitreous. The normal vitreous is a gel or semifluid that completely fills the eyeball. It acts as a cushion to help keep the surfaces of the eye in position. In a young person who has suffered no eye disease or injury, the vitreous is perfectly clear. As we get older the vitreous changes somewhat. Among the changes is the formation of vitreous strands or threads. Vitreous changes may have no effect at all on the general health of the eye or they may mean a great deal to the eye doctor. If the spots before your eye bother you, consult your doctor. He can tell whether anything is wrong.

Material in MEDICAL MIRROR is based on various scientific publications and does not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease requires the skill and knowledge which only a physician can apply by personally attending the patient.

When a sixth grader gives up a day of his school vacation "to go to school," there must be some attraction. In the case of 32 Newton sixth graders who did just that—there was. The judge dismissed the charges against Goldstein and Arnold. The alleged victim of the surgery failed to identify Goldstein as the man who performed the alleged operation. Arnold had been charged with being an accessory.

After he had been cleared by the court, Goldstein was arrested by Inspector Joseph Connolly of the State Health Department on a warrant which charged issuance of a prescription of narcotics illegally.

their fight to the State Legislature. The legislative processes are rather complicated and involved, however.

No final decision yet has been made on the matter, but a spokesman for the leash law proponents, who asked not to be quoted by name, told The Graphic today that the possibility of seeking a referendum on the question of enacting a leash law, is being given serious consideration.

"What we eventually decide to do will depend upon the response we get and on the desires of a majority of the people who have been active in this movement," she declared.

"We now realize that the Board of Aldermen are not likely to do anything about Newton's dog problem," she continued.

"Therefore, we apparently are confronted with a choice of either letting the matter drop or of accomplishing the enactment of a new ordinance to meet the situation by some means other than through Aldermanic action.

"A good many of us feel that the problem is much too important to be dropped merely because the Aldermen are unwilling to face up to it.

"What we may do is to file a people's petition with the Aldermen and ask that they place a proposed dog leash ordinance on the ballot in next year's municipal election.

"Such a petition would not ask the Aldermen to record themselves for or against a dog leash law.

"Whatever their feelings on the matter may be, I do not believe the Aldermen would deny the basic right of the people of Newton to exercise the democratic process and vote on the question of whether or not their city should have a dog leash ordinance.

"That would settle the matter once and for all.

"If a majority of the people vote for a leash law, we would have one.

"If a majority of the voters recorded themselves against such an ordinance, we would, of course, discontinue our efforts.

"That would be a true expression of self-government. It would enable the people of Newton to indicate by their ballots exactly what they want done.

"Certainly, the Aldermen could scarcely refuse to allow this question to go to the very people who elect them.

"If we get enough support and if sufficient people are desirous of joining in presenting such a petition to the Aldermen, I believe that one will be submitted.

"Then we could find out whether a majority of the people in Newton do or do not want a leash law," she stated.

Panel To Discuss 'Teen Problems In Auburndale

Facts, figures, exhibits and suggestions on teen-age problems will be presented by a panel of authorities in a discussion Tuesday evening, May 6, sponsored by the Corpus Christi Catholic Church in Auburndale.

Beginning at 8:15 p.m., in the church auditorium, "The Situation Facing Teen-Agers Today" wil be probed by District Attorney James O'Dea, Superintendent of Schools Harold B. Gores, and Father John O'Brien, assistant director of the C.Y.O. for the Archdiocese of Boston.

Moderator will be Charles Feeley, safety officer of the Newton Police Department. A question period will follow the discussion.

In urging parents and the general public to attend, Father John L. Johnson, pastor, stated "The carefree, boys-will-be-boys attitude of yesteryear is completely outdated by the current situation. The FBI crime report shows that 47 per cent of the arrests for major crimes last year involved people under 18 years of age. No thinking parent can afford to take these figures lightly.

"We are grateful that such well-known authorities on the youth situation have volunteered to participate in this forum and invite all interested Newtonites to attend."

and sometimes actually unsafe."

"State funds are available for this project," Miss Ball said, "and the 40 apartments we envision would cost the city nothing. Newton pays a good deal into the state treasury and should get some back."

To become eligible for state funds, a community must set up a housing authority, four members of which would be appointed by the Mayor and one by the State Housing Authority. Mayor Howard Whitmore and Miss Ball's committee are urging that such an authority be established.

Members of the committee, who have studied the problem for several months, are Rep. Irene K. Thresher, Miss Helen I. Sandstrom of the Pomroy House, Francis J. Murphy of the St. Vincent de Paul, and Ernest O. Seyfarth of the Newton Council of Churches.

"People working with the elderly in our city see firsthand the uncomfortable circumstances in which many of them live," Miss Ball declared, "and believe it to be important that some low-cost housing be provided for them within the community."

To be eligible for the apartments, which have been built in over 50 Massachusetts towns and cities including Brookline and Waltham, residents must be over 65, citizens of the U.S., and have an income under $2500 for a single person, and under $3000 for a couple.

The state requires that the project be located near transportation and a shopping center. In some instances, cities have given the land but this is not always the case. Rents average $50 a month including heat and utilities, and are used by the state to finance the program.

The hearing on the matter is scheduled for 7:45 p.m. Monday night, May 5, at City Hall. The public is invited to express their views on the subject. Members of the Mayor's Council for the Aging will speak on behalf of the establishment of a housing authority as a preliminary step to the erection of low-cost housing.

Teddy Snow Crop At Waban Super Market Tuesday

Teddy Snow Crop, lovable little trade personality familiar to millions of American children from eight to 80, is scheduled to pay a visit to Waban Super Market, Tuesday, May 6, at 3 p.m.

Teddy, who stands 36 inches high and weighs in at only 75 pounds, is the busiest bear in existence. He has appeared thousands of times on television in both live and filmed program commercials; he has appeared with many of television's top stars, including Arthur Godfrey, Sid Caesar, , Jimmy Durante, Martha Raye, Danny Thomas, Imogene Coca and Ed Wynn.

State Fair season finds Teddy in great demand from coast to coast, having appeared at least once over the years at every major fair in the country. In many cases, Teddy is welcomed by thousands of youngsters at the airport. He is a key figure in parades down main street and out to the fair grounds.

Youngsters know Teddy Snow Crop as a lovable, soft, fun-loving pixie on hand to entertain them. Like many other trade charcters, Teddy appeared originally only on the packages and labels of Snow Crop frozen food products and in the company's advertising and sales promotion material as a product identification without animation. A few years ago, however, the company brought Teddy to life and made him a traveling emissary of good will.

Being a live Teddy Bear, Teddy Snow Crop can put on a full half-hour show without once repeating an act. He dances, plays baseball, imitates Davy Crockett, stages a shooting match with himself and does countless other acts, all in pantomime. He is aided by a veteran professional actor, George W. Moore.

Political Overtones

When Governor Furcolo and his own lieutenants couldn't muster the necessary votes, they endeavored to enlist the help of city and town officials on the ground that their communities would share in the windfall resulting from the overlapping of taxes during the first part of 1959.

That accomplished exactly nothing. The withholding tax bill went down the drain, and with it went the prospective "windfall" which the Governor had hoped would enable him to balance the State budget for the next fiscal year.

In itself the defeat of the withholding measure was a blow to the Governor's prestige, but the loss of the stop-gap revenue which would have helped to tide him over the fiscal year starting July 1 may prove even more disastrous.

Herter's Campaign Advanced By Debate With Gov. Furcolo

Political observers are divided in their opinions as to whether Governor Furcolo or Executive Councillor Herter had the edge in their television debate last week, but they are pretty much in agreement that the verbal encounter enabled Herter to record a gain in his race with Attorney General George Fingold for the Republican nomination for Governor.

The outcome of the Herter-Fingold fight is still in doubt and may remain that way until scores of undecided delegates cast their votes at the GOP pre-primary State convention to be held at Worcester in mid-June.

But it is pretty safe to say that Herter is in a better position today and has a stronger chance of winning his party's gubernatorial endorsement than he did a few weeks ago.

When Governor Furcolo challenged Herter and Fingold to a debate, after the two had blasted his $50 million unemployment relief bill and Herter accepted, while Fingold declined, it had several effects:

1. It moved Herter into the forefront as a Republican spokesman.

2. It centered public attention upon him and gave him an opportunity to demonstrate his rather substantial oratorical talents.

3. In the process he made an excellent impression upon his huge listening audience and presumably upon the Republican delegates who were watching their own television screens.

While Herter was debating Furcolo, it must be remembered that for the present, at least, he is running against Fingold, not Furcolo.

Herter and Fingold will battle it out at Worcester for the GOP convention gubernatorial endorsement six weeks from now and may conceivably wage a final fight in the primary next September, depending on whether Fingold agrees in advance to abide by the convention's decision.

Councillor Herter announced in one of his addresses that he was willing to stand or fall on the action of the convention—if Fingold agreed to do the same. So far the Attorney General hasn't formally declared his position in that regard.

In attempting to size up and follow the trend of the Herter-Fingold encounter, it seems pretty clear that the televised debate did give added impetus to Herter's drive.

On the other hand, Governor Furcolo didn't do himself any harm either by participating in the debate, and it afforded him a means of presenting his arguments to an audience which stretched across the Commonwealth.

Furcolo is an accomplished and persuasive speaker. He's probably the best orator the Democratic party in Massachusetts can offer today, and it would not be surprising if he seized on any future opportunities for debates with Herter across the Commonwealth.

From a public standpoint the Furcolo-Herter debate came pretty close to being a standoff. Which of the two you considered had the edge necessarily depended on which set of facts you accepted and which line of reasoning you felt carried the greater logic.

Furcolo and Herter made statements which were in direct conflict. It was difficult for a reader to decide which was right and which was wrong, although it has been pretty well established, as Herter claimed, that the passage of the bill would be tantamount to writing a $50 million check for a committee which has not yet even been appointed.

One assertion which can be made without fear of dispute is that further debates such as that staged between Furcolo and Herter would be very desirable from the public standpoint and would stimulate a greater public interest of the dominant public issues of the day.

Those Little Leaguers

A very successful scout who has "sent up" a number of successful players to the big leagues has a stock speech. He gives it every year — without bothering to change more than a phrase here and there. It was written originally as one of those "Thought-Provoking" things.

It's sort of a sad speech. It's built around the theory that you don't get any good baseball players among the youngsters any more — at least not in the volume of yesteryear. The scout says youth today has been weaned away from the game. Youngsters would rather play some other game or seek some other diversion.

The speech gets pretty corny when the scout approches the end. He thinks too many potentially good youngsters would rather become juvenile delinquents than play baseball.

We think the scout is wrong. We don't question him about the quality or quantity of the big league talent waiting around to be offered staggering bonuses.

He could be right on that score.

But if he thinks the modern boy isn't interested in baseball as a sport he should be around town these days when the Little Leaguers are getting ready for action. If those boys haven't any enthusiasm — there's no such thing as enthusiasm left in this world.

There'll be parents here who'll be obliged to change vacation plans because a young scion of the familly can't go away with the family on a vacation trip. Too busy playing third base for his L.L. team.

There'll be mothers, too, who'll be making the lives of Little Leagues managers and coaches one of turbulent harassment. You know those mothers — the gals who didn't know a baseball glove from a goalie's pad before they discovered their little Johnny was interested in a first string spot on his team.

"My Johnny has it all over that skinny little guy you're using. Why my Johnny . . ."

We love the youngsters. We love their proud mothers, too. It's entirely possible that not a single boy from our own Little Leagues teams will ever attain big league stardom.

So what!

They'll be having a lot of fun this spring. Good, healthful, zestful fun, too.

They'll be learning a couple of tough lessons, too. They'll be learing first, how to win; and secondly, probably most importantly, they'll be learning how to lose.

The local teams deserve a lot or support from adults. That support should be more than a pat on the back now and then.

Go out and see the youngsters. Listen to their little triumphs. Sympathize with their disappointments.

You'll be helping them in another big game.

That's the game of life — where it is tough to learn how to win properly and tougher to learn how to accept setbacks gracefully.

You'll find a Little League team in operation right near your home. Adopt it as one of your favorite teams for the summer.

And give it a little support.

"Newton Centre Days" Will Offer Values For Everyone

From the youngest member of the family to the grandparents, there will be something for every member of the household at the first annual "Newton Centre Days" to be sponsored by the merchants of the area on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 15, 16 and 17.

It was unanimously voted at a meeting held recently by the Newton Centre Merchants Association to present a gala bargain spree in all member stores over the three-day period.

Officers of the association are: Bernard H. Dresner, president; Joseph Sherman, vice-president; Frank K. Whoolway, secretary and Robert Clinton, treasurer.

Planned as a gesture of appreciation by the merchants for the wonderful patronage enjoyed by them over the fall and winter season, the sale will be a festival of values saying thank you."

Participating merchants are determined to guarantee the success of the sale in order to attract increased business in the area and to make known the many genuine bargains waiting for thrifty shoppers at their stores.

Watch The Graphic in coming issues for more information concerning this unusual event. The sale also will be advertised in the columns of this newspaper and by other promotional means.

Says City Should Pay Attention to Pay Differentials

More attention should be paid to the matter of equalizing salaries and wages prevailing between workers holding school jobs and other municipal employees engaged in similar duties outside the school system, Executive Director Lorenz, F. Muther, Jr., of the Newton Taxpayers' Association believes.

In this month's issue of the Newton Taxpayers' Topics, under the heading, "Ameliorate City-School Wage Differential," Mr. Muther writes as follows:

"One of the irritating factors in the feelings of city employees is that workers performing similar duties for the School Department are paid sustantially more than those employed through City Hall.

"To raise the city side workers in the various similar activities — janitor, clerk, etc. — would either upset the over-all city wage schedules or involve raising all city workers at a heavy cost.

"In this connection, for next year, we should point out that the Mayor and Aldermen can cut the School Department budget. If the School Committee insists, the amounts cut must be restored, or penalties are applied. However, if the School Committee takes no further action, the cuts stand.

"We believe this aspect of the budget process, especially as applied to workers performing similar jobs in the two branches of the local government, could well receive more attention in the future."

C of C to Report Soon On Old Rice and Mason Schools

The Chamber of Commerce study on the best use of the Mason and Rice School, which are to be replaced by new buildings, will be published in report form soon.

The study has extended over a period of six months and has been carried out by the Newton Centre Development Committee of the Chamber, under direction of Past President Murray E. Sholkin.

It is planned to submit the report to the Board of Aldermen and the Mayor.

The current issue of the Chamber's "Bulletin," comments: "The tremendous amount of data has been and is still in the process of being compiled relative to the possible use of this land.

"Questionnaires have been distributed to all of the business men in Newton Centre asking for their suggestions and comments on the future use of these properties. The final report which this committee will submit will be one of the most comprehensive studies ever made by any local organization for the benefit of the entire community."

Chi Rho Play Wins 2d Spot In Area Contest

Chi Rho of Sacred Hearts parish was the runner-up in the Boston Archdiocesan dramatics contest with its production of "The Ugly Duckling." The finals were held last Sunday in Conception Hall, Cambridge.

Arthur Angel, who played the lead, was named to the all-star cast. Other cast members included: the Misses Gerri Cofflero, Helen Hagopian, Rosemary Keefe and Carl Hagopian, Peter O'Rourke and Steve Zaboya.

The play, directed by Mr. and Mrs. John Shields, was judged the winner in the recent semi-finals.

30 Teenagers on Trip to Historic Spots in South

Car-washing, candy sales and other odd jobs earned $1440.03 for the Newton Corner Young People's Fellowship Operation Gettysburg, and 30 Newton teenagers journeyed to Gettysburg, Valley Forge, Williamsburg and other historic spots in the South.

Idea for the adventure was the brainchild of Dick and Ruthie Salinger, who made the trip last year. They proposed this year's trip fro a group from the Eliot, Grace and Newton Methodist Churches.

The Navy has added two new torpedoes to its anti-submarine warfare arsenal, one designed for launching from surface ship's and the other from either aircraft or surface ships. The former, called the Mark 32, does not have to be fired through torpedoe tubes. It can simply be tossed overboard and once in the water, its homing system will guide it unerringly to its target.

PLANS ARE BEING MADE for the second annual "Springtime Dinner Dance" to be held May 25 at the Hotel Fensgate and sponsored by the Goodwill League, Inc. The Robert Breck Brigham Hospital for arthritics will benefit. On committee are, left to right, Mrs. Joseph Yanofsky, Mrs. Nathan Goodman and Mrs. William Pollak.

Headlights and Highlights From Newton High School

By JUDY ARNOLD

HIGHLIGHTS . . . In the seventh annual Newton High Science Fair, James Draper's "Rocket Experimentation Leading to Activated Water Rocketry", Eliot Gardner's "Problems in Amateur Rocketry", Edward Cohen's "Measurements and Contrast Problems in Zonal Photographic Devices", and Melvin Peabody and Eb Praeger's "Metallurgy" were the exhibits that received first prizes. From the 110 exhibits, those of George Crevoshay, Peter Gilson, Roger Kaufman, Paul McCalden, John Swanton and Mark Brenner rated second prizes. Honorable mentions were presented to John G. Sawyer, Mike Schreter, Nancie Schuman, Pamela Hoyt, Helga Mueller, Arlon Ober, Steven Johnson and Dale Shubert, Amateur Telescope Makers and Observers of Newton, Peter Shrier and Simon Shapiro, Eleanor Little, William Anthony, Martha Bilezikian, William Lakin, Otto Aufranc, William O'Connell, William Howard, Joyce Hurley, Bruce Perry, Cochran Clark and the Latin Club.

In connection with the many scholastic changes that will be wrought in the Newton High program next year, an entirely new Curriculum, I-T, will be available to boys in the Technical High School to give them more advanced training in academic subjects.

While senioritis hits the upperclassmen, as more and more twelfth graders receive letter of acceptance from colleges, the juniors are in the stages of college applications. Several four-year colleges have introduced a new program whereby the students will receive notice of the Admissions' Board's decision during the early part of December rather than in May. Many of the schools initiating this program insist that the student apply to that one college and naturally, most of them require Achievement Tests and Aptitudes from the students.

Joseph Schneider and William Lakin, two sophomores, have been claimed high-scorers on a history examination given last month. Their papers will now be sent to New York for national competition.

Last week's Senior Standouts were Eberhardt Praeger, Fred Bemis, Bob Spate and Brad Harding.

POTS AND DASHES . . . Harold Clancy, Managing Editor of the Boston Herald-Traveler, addressed a meeting where awards were presented to the editors of last year's Newtonite. Members of this year's journalism class, next year's prospective members, those belonging to Tusitala and the English Club and several other students were invited to attend.

AFTER-CLASS . . . Recently, the International Club presided over by Jane Gilbern, president, sponsored a round-table discussion about the policy of the United States government toward neutral countries. Dr. Jacques Elis, a graduate student at the Harvard Law School, spoke on the Algerian situation and later participated in a discussion on this subject. A general review and criticism of all past activities as well as an examination of the ideas and purposes of the club was then held. At its meeting last Thursday, the group listened to Mr. Robert Gustan, the man who led the walk for peace to the United Nations.

THE MARQUEE . . . Last month, the all-state chorus, orchestra, and band performed before an audience of thirty-six hundred at the Springfield Municipal Auditorium. Ann Holmes, Phil Currier, John Brockman, and Elaine Remley represented the A Capella Choir and the orchestra was represented by Frank Maurer, Double bass, Olga Langille, viola, Martha Hume, violin, Seta der Hohannesian, flute, Arthur Tennenbaum, bassoon and Ed Fineberg, French horn. These pupils were chosen for their talent, character, and citizenship.

Carol Opper and Gilda Ingall headed Lucy Colton, Elcha Shain, Helen Pugatch, Susan Flowers, Meryl Oven, Arleen Bergart, Yvonne Baudin, Arleen Widett, Sue Sherman, Sue Cohen, Liz Lubell, and Jenina Foley, the members of the make-up committee, for the Drama Club play which was presented to the senior class during home-room period last Wednesday.

A series of assemblies concerning music is in the process of being presented to the students at Newton High. At last week's assembly, rhythm's part in music was discussed by Mr. Lasker. Next week another phase of harmony will be explained to the groups.

Newton High's "Green Pastures" and Saint Sebastian Country Day School's "See How They Run" copped top honors at the Massachusetts State Drama Festival held at the John Hancock Hall. Thirteen plays were presented comparable to a Broadway opening night. The performances lasted from Friday night through Saturday afternoon and evening. A banquet and dance were held in the Dorothy Quincy Suite for the cast members and their guests on Saturday evening. John Deming and Howie Gidez were chosen members of the All-State Cast. "Good-Bye to the Clown," interpreted by Marblehead High, was the alternate selected in case one of the other two plays should be unable to attend the New England Festival to be held in Montpelier, Vermont this week-end. All the cast members received Globe Keys and the play was given the Thespian award.

THE OUT-DOOR TYPE . . . Diane Rote, Mary Jo Jepson, Janice Capello, Marie Hawkes, Priscilla Thurston, Joyce Frances, Carol Gilman, Carol Berberian, and Flora Butterfield received awards for their participation in this winter's junior varsity basketball team. Varsity basketball players Elna Anderson, Andrea Wragg, Catherine Jepson, Judy Moreau, Sandy Van Steenberger, Debbie Greene, Marie Thurber, Nancy Dogerty, Betty Andersen, Marjorie Gilmartin and Sandy Gibbs were the girls who accepted honors for their work.

The Outing Club sponsored an excursion to the Waltham Boys' Club last week for its members. The girls swam in the pool there for an hour. Senior life savers who had volunteered to do so were life guards at the event, and a committee planned water games.

Ben Clark and Ken Loring Raymond soloed and got pilot's licenses recently through the Aviation Club. This group is also planning to sponsor an activity whereby teachers will be flown over Newton High School, although the members of the club will not do the actual piloting.

The nine cheerleaders to be chosen after tryouts in May will be selected on the basis of eligibility, citizenship, skill, and appearance. The practices will be held during the entire month of May twice a week. The candidates will be asked to sign up the first Monday and Tuesday following vacation. Those who desire to try out must be eligible, must have attended three practices, and must have the approval of three major subject teachers. A preliminary tryout will be held after the practices and the cheerleaders for next year will be chosen at the final tryout in June.

For the first time at Newton High, the Boys' Physical Education Department will this year plan a spring intramural program. Baseball, softball, tennis, golf, and track will be offered. The intramural season will start in the beginning of May when teams will be organized. Softball and baseball will be organized into two leagues, one for sophomores and the other for juniors and seniors. Tennis will also be scheduled with two leagues, both of which will sponsor singles and doubles tournaments. Intramural track will combine all three grades, and golf will be played at a nearby course.

Forty-three applicants are competing for the twenty odd positions on the varsity and junior varsity tennis team. The first match of this year was against St. Mark's on the Newton courts on April 23.

The Girls' Athletic Board is planning an archery playday for the spring. They hope to invite four or five other schools to compete in the tournament. The after-school softball program is also being formed at the present time.

"SHOPPING AROUND WITH RITA"

Isn't the news of Newton's very own Flower Show . . . the most thing ever. It is just wonderful the way everyone is working so enthusiastically to make it a huge success. The show which promises to be five thrill packed days of excitement is sponsored by the wonderful Newton's Kiwanis Club which as you know devotes all of its energies to the underprivileged children. Mr. Oxner and his associates are literally "up to their ears" in plans which include Mayor Whitmore opening the show (with a pair of garden shears) . . . The main area of the Armory, where the show is to be held, will be laid out as a romantic garden complete with gorgeous fountain, patios, and rose gardens . . . and picture windows from two delightful houses will overlook the landscaped gardens . . . Thousands of tulips and flowers will be flown from Holland including some new breeds that will not be sold commercially here for another year or two. A special feature of the show will be an entire area demonstrating flower arrangements for very little money. These arrangements are being very ably handled by Mrs. C. L. Hauthaway, Mrs. Richard Roquemore, Mrs. Charles Grover, Mrs. Edward Leonard, Mrs. William Helms, Mrs. Ralph Keyes, and Miss Josephine Douglas. The price of admission will be only 90 cents and tickets can be purchased from any Kiwanian or at most of your local flower shops . . . When the kiddies break open their piggy banks to buy something "extra special" for Mommie, direct them to Edward's in West Newton . . . You will be surprised how far they can stretch their pennies . . . They will find cute Hallmark cards, those wonderful Postcript Nylons that everyone raves about, a wonderful array of kitchen gadgets and ever so many clever gifts to thrill her . . .

And now . . . Mom, what kind of a summer are you planning for the youngsters . . . If it is to be a day camp . . . consider the many advantages of the Algonquin Day Camp . . . Miss Dennehy has located the camp at new headquarters in Weston which provides ideal facilities for the extensive program . . . Of special interest to every Mother is the news that every child will be served a full course luncheon with a well balanced menu. TELE-VIEWING THE NEWS

By LEE LOUMOS

In this day and age the many uses of magnetic tape recording influence our lives everywhere we look. It's hardly news by now that video tape recording is a reality. It was used for the first time in the news coverage of Pres. Eisenhower's inauguration in January 1957. Since then its use has expanded regularly. Video tape seems to be the perfect answer to problems that the kinescope method had failed to solve very satisfactorily. It enables the net work to record a program for later broadcast and still furnish an excellent picture reproduction to audiences in the later time zones.

Much newer, of course, is the development of color video tape. This method of recording a full color program has been successfully demonstrated by the Radio Corporation of America, and they expect to have it on the market before the end of 1958.

At first thought it may seem to be an easy step from monochrome to color video tape recording . . . but consider that an entirely new system of recording signals had to be worked out. In other words, the colors have to be translated into a language that the tape recorder can understand. In fact, the recorder has to be "bi-lingual" so that it will produce a good black-and-white picture as well as a true color reproduction in the playback.

Development of this process is just the latest of RCA's triumphs in the Color-TV field. Enhance your home now with a new "Living Color" set from our complete display. RCA Victor brings you the finest, clearest picture in both black-and-white and color . . . "Two Sets in One," expertly installed by

BODY WAVE $10.00

The Body Wave is a form of permanent waving used on hair that either has a little natural wave or hair that waves easily.

It does not add appreciably to the amount of wave already in the hair, but gives such strength and resiliency to the wave as to make the hair seem naturally wavy and remarkably easy to put up.

It is for hair to which the ordinary permanent wave (however soft) gives too much curl.

Dave Craig Blanks Latin, Allowing Only 3 Hits

Dave Craig fanned 10, scattered three hits and otherwise displayed mid-season form to give Newton High a 3-0 shutout win over Cambridge Latin.

It was the Tigers' second league win and their fifth straight victory against high school opponents.

The tall southpaw was never in real trouble and he derived excellent support from his teammates, particularly Catcher "Manny" Connerney, Bill Gordon and O'Laughlin.

The classy pitching and tight defensive play were needed, however, for the Tigers found Walt Plausky pretty stingy himself as far as basehits were concerned. Plausky allowed only three hits to match the output off Craig. Still he walked eight to Craig's five. Besides that, some leaky fielding made two of Newton's runs of the tainted, unearned character.

Newton picked up two scores in the third. Buddy Russo walked. Connerney brought him home with a single after he had been sacrificed to second. Connerney stole second and promptly came home when Palusky three the ball into centerfield and the wild heave found its way past the centerfielder.

Jim Leonard reached third via a force play and a single by Seeley in the fifth. He made it all the way when Latin messed up the relay intended to get him going into third.

Tiger Trackmen Score 97½ Points In Quad Meeting

Newton High's well balanced track team served notice it's going to be tough this season when it ran up 97 1-2 points, highest total ever put together by a Tiger team in an outdoor meet, in a quadrangular engagement at Dickinson Field.

The Newton boys simply demolished the hopes of Watertown, Boston Technical and Charlestown High. Watertown copped second place with a meagre 30 points Tech had 17 1-2 and Charlestown 4.

The Tigers took 10 of 14 first place medals. The scoring was well distributed, too, with Jim Yancey turning in the only double-win. He took first place in the 100-yard dash and with a 21-foot, 10-inch leap easily carried off top honors in the broad jump.

It appeared that the Tigers were going to get some real competition in the relay, but Vin Cooney, running anchor, made up 20 yards to win that one going away.

Something unusual in such meets occurred in the mile. The Tigers took all the scoring places—in fact the first four in order of finish were Gerry Rose, Phil Johnson, Ernie Raymond and Bob Robinson.

The summary:

120-yard high hurdles — Won by Cooley (BT); 2, Young (N). T—17.8.

Newton Highlands Baseball Tryouts Set for Saturday

Three years ago, a smlal number of Newton Highlands residents created the Newton Highlands Athletic Association for the benefit of the children in the area. Little publicized, the group does much in providing and promoting supervised activities for the youth of the community.

In addition to the sponsorship and financial responsibility for the Little League team in Newton Highlands, the Association also sponsors basketball for the boys and dancing for the girls during the summer months.

Baseball is the major activity at the moment, and the group has just completed tryouts for their Major League team, the Newton Highlands Red Sox, which is managed and coached by James Cail and Al Ferreri. The first game will be held at Richardson Field in Woburn.

Saturday, at 10 a.m., tryouts for the four Newton Highlands Minor League teams will be held at Cold Springs Playground. The Minor League teams will be selected after Saturday tryouts and the first game will be held on May 7.

Games during the season will be held on Wednesday at 6:15 p.m. and on Saturdays at 9:30 a.m. A good turnout of parents is hoped for to form an active rooting section.

Tigers Bombard Rindge 18-0 for 3rd League Win

Newton High's third straight Suburban League baseball win, gained at the expense of Rindge Tech, wasn't exactly a tight-lipped workout for the Tigers. But it did serve to put some fat on the boys' batting averages. They collected 18 hits and 18 runs while denying the Cantabridgians a single run.

In the game played at Russell Field Cambridge, the Tigers used three pitchers, Ron O'Laughlin, Lefty Dave Seeley and Charlie Snider. The coaching staff thought they needed the work. They limited the Rindge offense to five hits. It brought the Tigers pitching performance to this stage of the Suburban League race with a pretty fair record.

In the first three games of league significance the Tigers mound staff had refused to yield a single earned run.

Steve Gordon was the big hitsmith in the Orange bombardment. He collected four hits.

The heavy shelling didn't occur until the eighth inning when the Tigers came up with 10 big hits.

Sacred Heart, taking dead aim on a repeat-performance in winning the Catholic Suburban League title, found St. Patrick's of Stoneham easy to manage as the Newton team ground out its fifth straight win — 10-2.

Jim Fitzpatrick held the Stoneham boys to five hits and collected three himself as he led the localites to the victory. He fanned 11 and walked only two. The Barrys had acquired a 7-0 lead before the visitors to Victory Field had dented the plate.

Bob Nangle also came up with three hits, while Ozzie McConathy and Joe Cunning collected two apiece.

Three Newton Centre Men Named Trustees

Three Newton Centre men have been named to the Board of Trustees of the Baptist Home of Massachusetts at its 67th annual meeting held recently at headquarters on Commonwealth avenue in Chestnut Hill.

They are Tressler W. Callihan, Wendell R. K Mick, and Dr. Elmer C. Bartels. Frederick N. Marr of Milton was re-elected president.

Mr. Marr said that plans were moving forward rapidly for ground breaking ceremonies in the near future for two new wings at the rear of the Home, including an infirmary, which will make it possible to double the capacity of the Home from 56 to 120. A total of some $24,000 toward the $350,000 goal has been raised.

38—GARDENING

will be extended during the month of May so we will be able to supply the many people who placed their order with us, as well as the many people who need loam and because of the unusual rainy season, have not yet ordered their loam. Due to the rainy weather and the great amount of orders we have received, it has been impossible for us to fill all orders. Everyone will be supplied as soon as possible and at the $2.75 cu. yd. price within the 12 mile area from Medway, as well as the minimum extra charge for longer hauls. This loam is quite free of stone, is pulverized and of excellent quality.

St. Sebastian's And NHS Drama Groups on Top

Young actors from St. Sebastian's Country Day School and Newton High School added further laurels to their histrionic accomplishments at the two-day New England Drama Festival conducted at Montpeliler, Vt.

They shared with representatives of North Haven, Conn., High School, in the top rating of "excellent" given by the judges. St. Sebastian's placed three actors and Newton High one, among the 12 adjudged worthy of membership in a mythical All-New England cast.

The actors singled out were Joseph Harrington, James McCourt and Barry Maher of St. Sebastian's and Howard Gidez of Newton High.

St. Sebastian's presented Philip King's "See How They Run," under direction of the Rev. Richard J. Powers. Newton High's play was Marc Connelly's "Green Pastures." Its directors were William B. Spink and Helen M. Ryan.

Heart Association Survey To Involve 200 Children From Seven Local Schools

Two hundred children from seven schools in Newton will participate in a health survey unique in the nation, the Massachusetts Heart Association's Greater Boston Chapter announced today.

They will be among 5,000 school children across the state who will join with their parents in a pilot survey designed to shed new light on the incidence of rheumatic fever, rheumatic and congenital heart disease among youngsters.

Starting May 5, questionaires will be given to the children in the Stearns School, Lincoln-Elliot Schol, Angier School, Frank A. Day Jr., High School, Newton High School, Our Lady of Help of Christians High School, and Sacred Heart Parish School, to be taken home and filled out by parents.

Questions delve into the children's medical histories and those of each parent.

Results, when compiled, will give a projectible picture and provide information now lacking for Massachusetts Heart Association researchers and others in the field of medicine.

The Association has under consideration the possibility of extending the survey later this year to Massachusetts' entire school population of more than one million. The survey includes public, private and parochial schools.

Dr. Benedict F. Massell, chairman of the Association's rheumatic fever services committee, stressed that while there is no compulsion to fill out and return the questionaires, success of the project, important to the health of Massachusetts' children, depends entirely upon cooperation by the parents.

Rheumatic fever causes more long-time illness in children than any other disease. It is also important because it tends to recur and because it may be followed by damage to the heart itself.

A generous part of the Association's research program is devoted to this field because of its vital importance to heart health.

To Ask Traffic Study In Effort To Control Trucks

The Aldermanic Street Traffic Committee will recommend a study of truck traffic on Watertown street and Cherry street in West Newton it was reported, following public hearings on two petitions for new traffic regulations on the named streets.

Led by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wolfenden, 31 residents of Watertown street urged banning heavy traffic and a 20 mile an hour speed limit between Walnut street, Newtonville, and West Newton Square.

A dozen citizens of Cherry street, led by Ralph M. McGrath of 243 Cherry street, a long time resident, asked restraint against oil truck traffic on the street.

Two officials of the State Department of Public Works were on hand to outline the steps that must be taken for the imposition of speed limits or trucking bans.

Robert Brooks, highway traffic inspector, and his assistant, John Burke, pointed out that to secure the imposition of a speed limit on the street, the Board of Aldermen must petition the Department of Public Works for a study, and to procure a trucking ban, an alternate route must be provided.

After the hearings, Committee Chairman Charles H. Cosgrove reported that the committee will recommend that the full Board of Aldermen request the Department of Public Works to make the required studies.

City Treasurer Whitman Elected By State Group

City Treasurer Archie R. Whitman of 15 Ithaca cir., Newton Lower Falls, was elected president of the Massachusetts Collectors and Treasurers Association at the organization's annual meeting.

He has been in the treasurer's office since Nov. 1, 1944, when he began service as assistant to the then city treasurer, Clarence C. Colby. He was appointed controller of accounts in 1945, upon the retirement of Daniel A. White. He became treasurer and collector of taxes on the death of Mr. Colby in the fall of 1947.

He has served as director of the Municipal Finance Officers Association of the U. S. and Canada for a term of three years and is a past president of the New England State Municipal Finance Officers Association.

He is a director of the West Newton Co-operative Bank and a member of the Newton Rotary Club.

Kiwanis Club Flower Show On Wednesday

Mayor Howard Whitmore, using a pair of garden shears, will open the Kiwanis Flower Show next Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the West Newton Armory.

Cyril Oxner, manager of the show, announces that the best in flower arrangements and garden designs will be shown. One of the features will be a beautiful fountain, especially designed by the Fountainhaid Co., of Lynn. The company has agreed that all coins thrown in the fountain will be turned over to the Kiwanis Underprivileged Child Fund.

Mrs. Percy Merry and Mrs. Paul Samuelson, both of Needham, will stage arrangements on fine furniture loaned by the Mayflower Furniture Co.

'Place to Live' Panel Discussion

Charles E. Downe, Newton city planner, Andrew Schwab, local realtor and Representative Irene K. Thresher, will participate in a panel discussion at St. John's Episcopal Church, Newtonville, on Friday afternoon of next week.

Their subject will be "A Place to Live in Newton." Moderator will be the Rev. Sydney Adams, executive secretary of the Newton Council of Churches. The Rev. Wilbur J. Kingwill, rector of St. John's will greet the women.

Following the program, the women will gather in the church sanctuary for a devotional service led by Mrs. Homer G. Bean. Mrs. James H. Burns, president, will preside at the business meeting when officers for the coming year will be elected.

Organized Crime In State Multimillion Dollar Take Scored By Attorney Daly

A talk by Attorney L. Sheldon Daly last night at the First Baptist Church in Newton Centre indicated that Massachusetts is no more free from organized crime than any other large population center in the country and that the city of Newton is involved.

Mr. Daly, public member of the special Massachusetts Crime Commission, spoke on the commission's four years of work terminating in 1957. Reading from the "Two Billion Dollar Business," extracts from the Crime Commission's report, Mr. Daly showed that bookies and sellers of lottery tickets all pay tribute to the syndicates that bootleg liquor, sell narcotics and encourage prostitution.

"When you hand money, a few nickels and dimes, to a bookie or a seller of lottery tickets," Mr. Daly said, "you are lining the pockets of the 'respectable' big bosses, contributing to delinquency close to home and to the corruption of police and politicians."

"Lotteries are big business in Massachusetts. They are robbing the people of millions of dollars. The money spent for illegal gambling in this state costs of running the Commonwealth every year would pay all the wealth," he continued.

The meeting, sponsored by the Christian Social Progress Committee of the First Baptist Church, was well attended by the members, whose interest and concern was reflected in the lively discussion period which followed Mr. Daly's talk.

Too Small For A New House

The lot on which Cecil M. Leacy, 10 Brook street, Newton, proposed to construct a new dwelling at 449 Highland street, Newton, was "woefully inadequate," the Newton Zoning Board of Appeals ruled when Leacy's petition came before it. It turned him down.

Prowlers Invade Centre Dwelling

Prowlers caused considerable damage and carried away an electric motor and part of an intercommunication system from the unoccupied house at 1424 Centre street, Newton Centre. Claude B. Cross of 255 Dudley street, Brookline, executor of the estate, said entry was apparently gained by forcing a panel of a side door.

Toll Road Extension to Wreck Big Area on City's North Side

More Than 300 Homes And Business Establishments Likely To Be Demolished

A proposed extension of the Massachusetts toll road through Newton would cause a staggering loss of taxable property for the city, would wipe out many homes and commercial establishments, deal a heavy blow to business and at least temporarily wreck a large section of the city.

Yet, the powers vested in Chairman William F. Callahan of the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority are so broad and far-reaching that there apparently is not a single thing Newton officials can do about the situation.

Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., estimates that approximately $4,000,000 worth of taxable property would be demolished to make way for the suggested new highway if it is built along the roadbed of the Boston & Albany railroad. That would automatically mean an increase of close to $1.50 on the city's tax rate.

In addition, the Mayor figures that damage running somewhere between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 may be caused to other property which would be located in close proximity to the toll road.

One estimate is that approximately 311 structures, many of them homes and some business places, would be torn down if the Turnpike Authority makes a 100-foot wide taking in connec-

Moonlight Swim in Charles Enables Boy to Escape Police

A 13-year-old boy gave up his outer clothing and took a desperate moonlight swim in the Charles River to escape police at the Newton-Brighton line.

All he has to do to get his shoes, trousers and shirt back is to call either at Newton police station or that of the MDC at Riverdale. They'll arrange for the return. They are also ready to arrange for the youngster's appearance in a juvenile session of court.

Police have been keeping a watch on the banks of the Charles recently since an outbreak of thievery in boats tied up along the river got under way two months ago.

About 1:30 a.m., the other morning MDC officers John Meaney and Christopher Montgomery spotted some activity on a boat moored off Brook street near the Brookline line. They discerned a boy in an outboard motor craft and shouted for him to come ashore.

A few seconds passed as the boy quickly divested himself of his clothing and then dove in and disappeared. Whether he made for the distant opposite shore or for a point somewhere further up or down the river

Drive By Democratic Leaders For Withholding Bill Support

An all-out attempt is being made by Democratic leaders to promote public sentiment for a State withholding income tax before Governor Furcolo submits a new bill on the subject to the Legislature.

Democratic State Senate Leader John E. Powers is heading the unusual drive to carry the case for the withholding tax directly to the people. Other Democratic orators are doing virtually the same thing in different sections of the Commonwealth.

The objective, of course, is to convert businessmen and other citizens into supporters of a State withholding system and to cause them to put pressure on their legislators, and particularly their Senators, to vote for the bill which has been defeated but which Governor Furcolo intends to revive.

Whether this strategy will succeed in achieving the eventual passage of the bill is uncertain. There is no doubt, however, but that Powers, one of the most effective and persuasive speakers in the Democratic party in Massachusetts, has made an impact upon the groups to whom he has talked.

Some of his listeners have gone away unconvinced, still adamant in their opposition to a withholding law and grumbling that Senator Powers had been trying to "brainwash" them. Others, however, have conceded that there was a certain amount of merit and logic to the arguments he advanced.

Powers has a very telling and effective approach in his endeavor to sell the withholding law.

He tells the members of his audiences in substance that they are paying their fair share of the cost of running the State government but that other persons are evading their just taxes.

The Democratic Senate head, who more than any other one person was responsible last year for the defeat

ATTENTION NEWTON RESIDENTS!

With your kind assistance, FREEDOM, INC., takes this opportunity to announce that a drive for used clothing and flat heeled shoes will be held in your city on Friday evening, May 9, from 5 to 9 p.m.

This clothing will be sent to those worthy people who fled from oppression in communist dominated countries. There are more than 40,000 men, women and children living in almost intolerable conditions in camps in Italy, Greece, Germany and Austria.

These people chose to live in squalid camps to escape the yoke of Communism. They now have their freedom but little else. They have no money, get barely enough food, and their clothing is virtually tattered rags.

It is incumbent on the American people, who enjoy the fruits of a full life, to give hope to these unfortunate people and provide the means that will inspire them to achieve happier days.

Leigh G. Packer, who is Civil Defense chairman of Newton, exhorts all residents of the City to participate in this humanitarian endeavor in behalf of the men, women and children who fled tyrannical communism behind the iron curtain.

Clothing Drives Goes Door-to-Door Friday

A door-to-door collection of used clothing and shoes, which will be shipped to Europe for distribution among thousands of displaced persons, will be held in all sections of Newton tomorrow (Friday) night.

Householders who desire to give discarded garments or shoes to the drive being made by Freedom, Inc., are requested to place their bundles on the sidewalks in front of their homes before 6 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., honorary chairman of the undertaking, urged all Newton residents to cooperate in it. Civil defense volunteers will make the collections.

The Mayor pointed out that Newton was selected as the first community in Massachusetts to undertake the project.

Bernard Pearson of 131 Windsor rd., Waban, is chairman of the committee arranging the Newton collection.

Working with him are Civil Defense Director Leigh Packer, Superintendent of Schools Harold Gores, Ralph B. Johnson, executive director of the Norumbega Council of Boy Scouts, Fire Chief Frederick A. Perkins, Jr., and Robert S. Burkhardt, disaster co-chairman of the Red Cross.

These committee members and others in their organizations were given additional incentive to press the clothing drive when they witnessed a film prepared by Freedom, Inc., depicting the life of displaced persons in the bleak camps in Italy, Greece, Germany and Austria.

Persons who cannot place the clothing bundles on the sidewalk by 6 p.m. tomorrow are asked to leave their donations at any fire station in the city.

Headlights And Highlights From Newton High School

By JUDY ARNOLD

HIGHLIGHTS . . . Most of the Newton High juniors are now preparing for their college boards which they will take on May 17. Last spring Miss Creeden, a Newton High English teacher, and Mr. Heys, a former Newton teacher, went to Princeton, New Jersey, to aid in correcting the English Composition College Entrance Examination Board Achievement Tests. One hundred and ten other teachers and professors from top United States schools and colleges also helped in this correcting.

The members of the Nova Scotia exchange have just returned from a learning experience they will not soon forget. The group left Newton High by bus last Wednesday at noon and proceeded to Bar Harbor, Maine, where they spent the night. They then took the Blue Nose boat to Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, their home for one week. The boys and girls partook in such events as a fishing trip, a trout fry, a cadet dance, a get-acquainted evening, a tea with parents and teachers and several other in-school and sight-seeing trips. All the students agree that it was the time of their lives and they really regretted boarding the plane for home this morning.

The Legislature Parking Committee finished organizing its petition and submitted it to the City Clerk on Wednesday, April 30, in order to get a hearing before the Board of Aldermen. The reasons the committee has given for desiring additional parking area are the following: those pupils who have after-school jobs must have a car at school to get to their place of business on time; other pupils who are allowed to leave school early because of last period study halls must have an automobile to get home for no bus comes for them until 2:30; students who stay late at school for extra activities miss their regular buses and have a difficult time getting home at five or six o'clock. The committee also stated that some cities provide their students with free transportation to and from school while Newtonites must pay almost a dollar a week to go to school. Bruce Swerling, chairman of the committee, is attempting to find out why Cabot street, an area where many students previously parked, has just been recently taken away from the students.

AFTER-CLASS . . . Thirty-three students came back from Montpelier, Vermont with glowing faces on Sunday, April 27. The members of the cast and committees of "Green Pastures" had spent a week-end at the New England Drama Festival and had copped top honors. The group received an "excellent" rating for their Saturday performance and Howie Gidez, who played the role of Mr. Deshee, the Sunday school teacher, made the New England cast. Twelve plays were presented Friday evening, Saturday, and Saturday evening. All but six pupils were housed by residents of Montpelier. Food was provided by the citizens and the school for delicious meals at noon and dinnertime Saturday. Transportation and other food costs were paid by the City of Newton and by the funds raised from the Newton Players' production of "The Man Who Came to Dinner," at Meadowbrook Junior High School in Oak Hill on April 18 and 19.

THE GREAT BIG WONDERFUL WHIRL . . . The sophomore class held a very successful dance in the Newton High gym last Saturday night. After earnestly collecting dues this winter, the committee worked hard to plan this evening. The general dance chairman was Allan York. Phil Barry was in charge of tickets and Sue Markey headed the publicity committee. Decorations were provided by Judy Malone's committee. The work and refreshment committee was led by Paul Guzzi; Selby Hicky was in charge of hospitality; and Sally Remley headed the entertainment committee.

With high hopes that it will not rain tomorrow, the Tigerama committee has planned an evening full of fun for Newton High students. The annual motorcade through the streets of Newton will precede the affair, which will include a Charleston contest in addition to the usual games, entertainment and dances. The entire evening will be run on a 1920's theme.

Plans are almost complete for Senior Night, which will be held on May 17 this year. Senior Night is considered the last activity where seniors have a chance to get together alone and just enjoy themselves realizing that most of their high school career is behind them. A series of tryouts was held and approximately forty talented seniors will be entertaining the group in the high school gym, which is a very busy place these days.

April 30 was the date of the induction ceremony for the National Honor Society. Juniors attended the assembly held in the auditorium after many sessions of rehearsals.

The second of three music assemblies were held last week. Forty-five minutes of explanations and demonstrations about song-composing were presented by Mr. Lasker to the three grades of the school. Jean Winer was the piano accompanist for the Newton High Orchestra under the direction of Mr. March.

At a recent Spanish Club meeting, the members of the group voted to donate a tape of Spanish lessons to the Spanish department for use in teaching future Spanish classes. The students also decided to allow Mr. Davis, the club sponsor, to appoint Newton High's new Argentine student as the temporary president of the club next September. Elections next year will determine whether or not this appointment is permanent. A May picnic is being planned.

The Junior Class Committee has been busy passing out class rings to those students who ordered their's earlier this year. The rings will also be sold next year to seniors who have not yet purchased them. A meeting was held under the direction of the class president, Larry Yeo, on April 28.

The American Field Service Drive has ended. Students zealously sold pledges to other students during school and sold cook-books containing tempting foreign recipes to their neighbors during the spring vacation. Newton High hopes to enjoy the presence of two European students next winter and to send two Newtonites, rather than one, to Europe for the following summer.

Many juniors underwent a three-hour test on April 29 in Room 137. The National Merit Scholarship Test was given to anyone who wished to take it. The results are used for guidance purposes, distribution of scholarship funds, college decisions and various other ratings. The exam is usually given to seniors, but is now taken in the junior year as it will prove more beneficial for guidance reasons if the test scores are known at an earlier date.

Newton High's modern library is functioning very efficiently for the many students who use its books and reading area each day. The library has acquired many new tomes this year and boasts excellent sets of research books available at all times for student use.

JOTS AND DASHES . . . The Newtonian, long awaited by Newton High's pupils, will be coming out the middle of this month. Sandi Douglas, editor-in-chief, has worked diligently with her entire staff this year in hopes of putting out Newton's best yearbook.

Next year's yearbook staff is already working away. Tuesday, April 29, was the date of the first of many meetings for the group. At this time there was a layout class for the editors involved. The class was taught by a representative from the printing company. All editors were requested to be present for a short time so that they would have a general idea of the mechanics of the yearbook. All work is being started early as the Century Class plans an extraordinary large and unusual yearbook.

Dedicate Temple Tomorrow Night

Congregants and friends of Temple Mishkan Tefila will join in the dedication service of the newly erected temple on Hammond Pond parkway tomorrow evening at 8:15 p.m.

The elders of the congregation and their sons will participate in the sacred rite of hallowing the Ark by placing the Scrolls of the Torah in it, symbolizing the continuity and never-ending faith of Judaism.

Rabbi Israel J. Kazis will lead the Torah Procession along with Cantor Gregor Shelkan, to the accompaniment of sacred music by the Temple Choir, directed by Prof S. G. Braslavsky.

Invocation will be offered by Dr. Herman H. Rubenovitz, Rabbi Emeritus. Regular Sabbath Evening services will be chanted by Cantor Shelkan, and Rabbi Kazis will preach the Dedication Sermon.

Although the Temple is open to everyone for worship at all times, seats will be reserved for the dedication service for members, their families, and invited guests, because of limited capacity.

Located in a wooded setting, with a facade of rare colored glass and an unusual arched roof, the structure has been widely admired as both beautiful and functional in concept and design.

EDWARD J. McCORMACK, JR.

McCormack Is Candidate for Atty. General

Boston City Councillor Edward J. McCormack, Jr., nephew of Congressional Majority Leader John W. McCormack, this week formally announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Attorney General.

A graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis and an honor graduate of Boston University Law School, McCormack was the top man in the Boston City Council election last November. He was the Democratic nominee for Attorney General in 1956.

An active trial attorney, he is presently serving as special counsel for the City of New Bedford in a case before the Civil Aeronautics Board which has held sessions in Boston, Washington and Buffalo.

He also appeared recently as counsel before the U. S. Court of Claims in Florida and Washington in another widely publicized case involving a suit against the government for alleged breach of contract.

In his bid for election as Attorney General two years ago, McCormack polled more than 1,113,000 votes.

He said in announcing his candidacy that he feels he has the qualifications to serve as Attorney General as well as the capacity to restore that office "to the people who have so long ben ignored.

"Therefore, after careful consideration of all the circumstances, I have decided to submit myself again to the voters of the Commonwealth for their decision. I can assure them that I will wage a vigorous and energetic campaign to help achieve victory for the entire Democratic ticket in November and thus give the vitally important office of Attorney General back to the people, where it belongs," McCormack declared.

"If I am elected, and I am confident I will be, the public can be certain that, as Attorney General, Edward McCormack will safeguard the interests of all the people of the Commonwealth," he said.

McCormack is a member of the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Disabled American Veterans, the Elks, the Knights of Columbus, the B. U. Law Review Honor Society, the Boston, State and American Bar Associations, the Army and Navy Club in Washington, the Colby College, Boston University and Naval Academy Alumni Associations, and the Massachusetts Trial Lawyers Association.

TwoNewtonNuns Attend Meeting

Among more than 700 registrars and admissions officers from all over the nation who attended the 44th annual meeting of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers in Cincinnati April 21-25 were Mother Loretta Santen, Registrar, and Rev. Mother McNally, Superior at Newton College of the Sacred Heart.

Problems of admission to colleges and universities, space utilization of campus buildings, adequate staff and curricula, and aspects of records and registration were studied in the light of the approaching increase in enrollments which is expected to become a deluge in the next decade.

of the sales tax, asserts that he, for one, will not vote for any new taxes until there is a fair and equitable distribution of the taxes already on the books.

Senator Powers marshals an impressive array of facts and figures to show that, because of the inadequacy of the existing laws or the inefficient administration of them, a vast number of people either evade their State income taxes or fail to pay them when they are due because they haven't saved the necessary money.

He at least partially breaks down the opposition of businessmen by reporting that he and other Senate leaders have worked out a formula with representatives of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts for reimbursing business and industrial firms for the expense a withholding system would impose upon them.

By the time he has finished Powers has made a pretty convincing case for the adoption of a withholding system of paying State income taxes. Whether he has made an equally convincing case for the particular bill Governor Furcolo desires enacted into law may be another matter.

What Senator Powers and other Democratic orators gloss over, either skirting entirely or touching only lightly, is that Furcolo is advocating the withholding tax system as a "gimmick" to help balance the State budget during the next fiscal year and enable him to avoid the adoption of any new taxes in an election year.

A great deal is said by Democratic orators about the alleged reforms the withholding law would accomplish in the State's tax collection system. Little or no mention is made of the fact that the bill also is a sleight-of-hand financing device to produce $17 million.

Republican opponents of the bill aren't in a position to make much of an issue on that particular point because 16 Democratic Senators headed by Powers voted to take the "gimmick" out of the measure, and only four Republican Solons lined up with them.

That was one of the developments in the State Senate which was difficult to understand, and it has put the GOP at a disadvantage on the new debate being waged on the withholding issue.

If Governor Furcolo's withholding bill is enacted into law, the next Governor of Massachusetts, whether he be Foster Furcolo, Christian A. Herter, Jr., or George Fingold, will be confronted with a staggering tax problem as soon as he takes office.

Even if State expenditures are prevented from increasing as much as a dollar, the man serving as Governor next year would be faced with the absolute necessity of enacting some new taxes.

Why? Because in order just to stay even he'd have to get $17 million from some new source to make up for the windfall which the State would obtain from the overlapping of income taxes during the first few months of next year. That windfall would only occur once, and it wouldn't occur at all if the so-called "forgiveness feature," which was turned down by a tie 20-20 vote in the State Senate, was written into the withholding bill.

Governor Furcolo's supporters may well point out that last year he made an all-out, down-the-line fight for the adoption of a sales tax which would have yielded the additional revenue needed by the Commonwealth.

Having been balked in that courageous endeavor, they reason, the Governor must now secure the funds to run the State government from whatever sources he can get them.

That, however, does not alter the fact that balancing the State budget with a "windfall" realized from a withholding tax is unsound financing and merely postpones the day of reckoning the Commonwealth eventually must face.

The odds are against the enactment of any withholding tax law this year. The Senators who recorded themselves against the proposal last week would have a difficult time explaining in a campaign why they shifted and voted for it.

Most Beacon Hill observers believe, however, that if a withholding law is adopted during the present legislative session a forgiveness feature will be written into it so that it cannot be employed as a "gimmick" for balancing the State budget.

* * * *

Mrs. Foster Furcolo Will Be Big Factor in Fall Campaign

Those politicians who have been predicting Governor Furcolo's defeat next November may be a little premature in their forecasts.

It's true that some of the people around Furcolo at the State House have botched things up pretty badly at times.

But while they've been losing votes for the Governor, one person has been out making new friends for him. That person's name is Mrs. Foster Furcolo.

Massachusetts has had some very charming and gracious First Ladies back through the years. Mrs. Kay Furcolo must be bracketed right up with the most charming and gracious of them, and comparatively few of her predecessors devoted as much time and energy as she has to making friends for her gubernatorial husband.

Whether she can make friends for the Governor as fast as certain of his advisers can lose them may be a very moot question, indeed. At times she has been outnumbered to the point where it has been a pretty uneven contest.

Mrs. Furcolo has been by far the biggest public asset her husband has had during his service as Governor, and she undoubtedly will be an extremely important factor in next autumn's campaign. She has made a tremendous impression during the 16 months she has been the First Lady of Massachusetts.

The Community Concerts

Mayor Whitmore has summed up pretty graphically the importance of Newton's Community Concerts.

The Mayor pointed out that in a city such as Newton, which is growing in both population and industries, it is of vital consequence that its growth also be continued along spiritual, cultural and intellectual lines.

He added that the true strength of a city is drawn perhaps even more from its appreciation of those values than from its economic prosperity.

That is why the present campaign of the Newton Concert Association for the enrollment of members is of major importance in the life of this city.

That is why it is a fortunate thing for Newton that the men and women in the Concert Association go about their undertaking with such enthusiasm and ebullience.

There is no question but that the drive will go over the top and that the membership will be subscribed to the full capacity of the Newton High School auditorium, where the concerts are to be held.

Newton has far too many music lovers — far too many persons with a real appreciation of good music — for this endeavor to be anything but a success. In fact, there is a good likelihood that some persons who delay in enrolling will find that it is too late and that the lists are closed.

But it is a wonderful thing, indeed, for Newton that it has an organization such as the Community Concert Association.

In attempting to look ahead to next fall's campaign, it also must be remembered that Massachusetts is basically a Democratic State and that there appears to be a Democratic trend nationally, notwithstanding the assertion of Republican National Committee Chairman Alcorn that the GOP will regain control of the national House.

Governor Furcolo may face a hard fight next fall, but it's much too early to count him out and label him as a "one-termer," as some politicians in both the Republican and Democratic parties are doing.

Propose Housing Authority To Provide Homes for Aged

The establishment of a Housing Authority to provide living quarters for elderly persons in needy circumstances, was advocated Monday night by Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr. in a message to the Board of Aldermen.

Stating that private capital cannot provide housing accommodations for this age group, Mayor Whitmore emphasized that "it has been demonstrated time and again throughout this State and others that private capital will not and cannot provide housing for the people under consideration. The economics of the situation will not permit private housing," he averred, taking issue with the Taxpayers' Association which opposed his proposal.

Speaking for the Newton Taxpayers' Association, Lorenz F. Muther, executive director, urged changes in Building and Zoning Codes to encourage private capital to construct multi-family dwellings as a possible solution to the problem of housing for the aged.

The only opponent to Mayor Whitmore's proposal, Muther maintained that public housing for low income, elderly persons would result in "flagrant inequality of treatment," inasmuch as only a part of those people in need of assistance would be able to be accommodated.

He declared that the Taxpayers' Association feared the creation of another government function which would have a tendency to expand.

Representatives of the Mayor's Advisory Committee on Senior Citizens and the Newton Council of Churches attended the public hearing and supported Mayor Whitmore's proposal.

couldn't be determined. The moon wasn't that bright.

A squad of Newton officers under the direction of Sergeant William J. Bell joined the MDC officers. They turned the powerful beams of their portable lights this way and that but the rays discovered nothing but clumps of bushes, muddy water and disinterested frogs.

The clothing was found on the aluminum bottom of the boat. Police think that the boy was attempting to make off in it about the time they came along.

They said the boy was a good swimmer.

Turnpike Napoleon

To the Editor:

When Napoleon seized supreme power over the French people, he at least had the decency to ask their approval through a plebiscite. But Napoleon was merely an emperor. He was not the divinely ordained Autocrat of the Massachusetts Turnpikes whose edicts it would be sacrilege to question.

Although, after reading Mr. Callahan's latest mandate from the throne, one may gather that Boston will still be generously permitted to retain rail communications with the West, the future welfare of the Newton main line commuter is contemptuously ignored. Relocation of the B.&A. track for long distance travel, without the erection of new stations for Newton Corner, Newtonville, West Newton, Auburndale and Riverside, will doom [illegible] of daily wage-earners of transportation to and [illegible] jobs. It is difficult to gauge the full extent of the great man's callousness, but surely his thinking must run along these lines:

"Of what importance are the rights of these Newton riffraff when compared with the elite motorists sweeping grandly into town in their finbacked monstrosities? What though the Newton worker must spend another hour or so every day on buses and trolleys to hold his job? What though the Turnpike's present connections at Riverside easily handle all of its incoming traffic? What though my new toll road over the B.&A. roadbed will save at most only fifteen minutes' time in reaching Boston for the visiting motorist? What though, by splitting incoming traffic at Riverside, as it does now, with cars easily reaching Boston through Commonwealth Avenue, Washington Street and Storrow, or Boylston Street, there never is and never will be any traffic tie-ups resulting therefrom? What though my new toll road, while ruining the center of Newton, will create tremendous jams at its termini in Boston? Do any of these facts provide valid reasons why the Newton commuter should not be subjected to gross discomfort, inconvenience and heavy loss of time every working day of his life?"

To be serious: Why, instead of permitting the Turnpike Authority to wreck the City of Newton while spending millions to save a few minutes' time for incoming motor travel, are not plans being made to devote comparable funds to extension of M.T.A. service, with cars at least every half hour, over the B.&A. tracks to Riverside? (To replace, of course, the inadequate facilities now reluctantly provided by the railroad.)

It is inconceivable that Mr. Callahan will be allowed to ride roughshod over the people of Newton. What, commuters, are you going to do about it? What, Boston stores and Boston theaters, are you going to do about this further threat to your business, already largely lost to suburban shopping centers?

Yours truly,
Leonard Monzert

Tigers Sloppy As They Score 12-6 Win at Waltham

Waltham broke Newton High's string of shutout victories when it pushed across a run in the third inning of their Suburban League game at Athletic Field, Waltham. That was top performance for the Watchmakers for a three-hour-and-50-minute game which bore little or no resemblance to American-style baseball.

Newton won the game 12-6 for its fifth straight league victory. The victory was attributable to the fact that it was just a little less inept than Waltham. For the first time this season the Orange really looked bad.

Consolation came from the fact that even while looking very poor Newton was able to come across with a win for the record books and tighten its grip on the Suburban lead.

After three straight shutouts by Tiger pitching the Newton mound staff had an off-day. Dave Craig was the official winning pitcher. He went 5 1/3 innings. He was way off his usual form and was yanked in the sixth after three straight walks.

Ron O'Laughlin finished up. Between them they allowed only six hits but issued 11 passes. Bob Lazarus and Larry Davis were about as generous. They yielded a total of 10 walks and besides that gave up 12 hits.

Right fielder Bill Woodlock got the hit of the game, a three-run homer in the eighth when Newton picked up five runs.

Gibbs Promises To Squeeze Slush From Furcolo Bill

State Senator Donald L. Gibbs of Newton today promised that the Massachusetts Senate would "squeeze every drop of slush" out of Governor Furcolo's $50 millions unemployment relief bill.

"Governor Furcolo was a bit premature playing a cruel April Fool joke on Massachusetts' 200,000 unemployed when he attempted to explain his so-called jobless aid bill at a joint Legislative session on March 31," Senator Gibbs said.

"It was obvious then, as now, that the Governor offered nothing that would help the 100,000 Massachusetts women who are out of work or the 50,000 males over 45 years old, mostly skilled workers, who have become jobless," he asserted.

"The Furcolo April Fool bill, as it stands now, is a brazen attempt to gain a slush fund which he and his troubled political allies need to buy their re-elections. Due to kangaroo court tactics, it was forced through the Democrat-controlled House in shameless fashion without public hearing or committee study. But the Senate's Republican majority still stands as the public's watchdog on Beacon Hill," Senator Gibbs said.

"Sixteen months of Furcolo mis-government has cost him at least a third of the 207,837 Boston voters who supported him in 1956. And that same ratio would hold state-wide. The Governor is in dire need of a slush fund to pacify opposition in his own party. I doubt that even $50 millions would be enough.

"I can promise that when the Senate gets through with this April Fool bill, it will not leave a single penny in it for Furcolo's selfish political purposes," Senator Gibbs concluded.

MASC President At D. C. Talks

Haskell C. Freedman, of 118 Homer street, Newton Centre, president of the Massachusetts Association of School Committees, attended a meeting in Washington, D. C., recently which was sponsored by the National Citizens Council for Better Schools.

Some 75 leading laymen working for school improvement in the North Atlantic states discussed the federal role in education and heard senators and representatives give their views on the topic.

Opinions ranged from those who felt it still has not been proved that local communities cannot support education to those who feel a strong program of federal aid is needed immediately.

Senator John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts told the group there is no subject about which the American people need to be more educated than education. He told the members of the Council, "One of the most vital contributions you can make is in educating the nation about its schools."

Calling for a strong federal education bill, Kennedy said, "We are more desperately in need of classrooms than of any other public works program."

Urban State

New Haven—Connecticut has more than two million residents as of recent figures and more than 75 percent of them are classed as urban dwellers in the state's cities and towns.

No. 1 Juvenile Delinquent

We were watching a nice rough pro football game on TV last fall. We were rather proud. We had made a discovery.

By turning off the audio you could watch the play without the distraction of the announcer whose words had no relation to the action on the field. Besides, you didn't have to listen to the frequent pitches about the quality of somebody's beer or the effectiveness of somebody else's deodorant.

In the heat of the action a nice, big, healthy tackle took a beautiful right hand swing at the chin of an equally nice, big healthy halfback of the opposition. We don't know what happened after that. They swung the camera focus to the scoreboard. We had to wait until the next day's paper to find out whether the punch landed.

We sort of got cured of TV after that. Then the other night we decided to give it another try. We dialed at random. A blubbery-faced judge was discussing juvenile delinquency with a couple of ladies.

They called it a panel, or something. The ladies were upset. The judge kept mumbling statistics. They agreed juvenile delinquency is a horrible thing. From the way they talked it's something of a new discovery. We always thought it began back on that day Adam and Eve sent Cain and Abel out to play in the backyard.

We turned the dial. The screen was showing a pretty handsome sheriff pumping bullets into a very miserable-looking villain. We turned some more. We got a closeup of a very pretty girl taking dead aim with a dagger on the back of a man with a mustache. We turned it off.

We figured we were just unlucky when the mood for TV-watching hit us. Then we read J. Edgar Hoover's remarks about TV the other day.

We hope the folks who pour millions into TV so that we can know all about beer, deodorants, cigarettes, how-to-hold-up-a-bank, how-to-get-away-with-murder, etc., read Mr. Hoover's remarks, too.

Of course, TV is only a baby industry. They've been telling us that for years. Maybe it will achieve maturity some day.

Maybe, too, it will discover that there's a happy medium between crime and violence and the high-brow doodaddles they talk about when they try to put emphasis on TV's educational value.

Right now our biggest single Juvenile Delinquency problem will be found in the living room. It's that big box which sells beer, deodorants, cigarettes, violence and crime in their most unadorned and vicious guise.

Those Tax Bills Will Be Earlier

It will be bad news, but you'll get it earlier.

The Board of Assessors have announced that tax bills for real estate and motor excise levies will be in the hands of taxpayers much earlier than usual this year.

The first 1958 commitment of the auto excise bills are being mailed out, nearly three weeks earlier than has been the custom. Work has started on processing the real estate tax bills, and it is probable real estate owners will have them six weeks sooner than in other years.

The ante on both types of taxes will be up, of course.

The auto tax commitment in 3863 bills, representing $2,786,690 in valuation and $168,071.71 in taxes is based on an excise rate jump to $60.25 per $1000, a hike of $3.15 over last year.

Approximately 24,000 real estate bills will be sent out alphabetically starting late this month. The first batch of real estate bills were sent out in the middle of July last year. The '58 rate will be $54, an increase of $4.80 over last year.

Tiger Tracksters Nose Out English By 1⅔s Points

By the hairline margin of 74 5/6 to 73 1/6, Newton High's highly regarded track team squeezed out a win over stubborn Boston English High School in a dual meet at Dickinson Stadium.

Double wins by Jim Yancey, Marty Beckwith and Bill Young helped the Tigers immensely in the tough struggle for points.

Originally carded as a quadrangular meet, the outdoor show was reduced to a two-team affair because of the inability of B.C.H. and Brookline to keep their scheduled dates.

The Tigers failed to show the class of their earlier outing, probably because of a five-day layoff due to adverse weather conditions.

Yancey was returned a winner in both the 100-yard dash and the broad jump; Beckwith took the high jump and the low hurdles, and Young chipped in with wins in the discus and high hurdles.

The summary:

100: Won by Yancey (N); 2, Cooney (N); 3, Coyne (BE); 4, Davis (BE). T—10.1.

Injuries Sideline Two Athletes

Two Tiger dependables, Southpaw Buddy Ryan of the baseball team and George Wallace of the track team, were sidelined because of injuries as their respective seasons were moving through their early stages.

Ryan is out indefinitely. He suffered a broken left thumb when he fell between first and second while running out a basehit against Rindge Tech. At first believed to be a severe strain, the injury proved to be a fracture when medicos read the X-rays. The big junior had a 1-0 record for 9 2/3 innings of work when he was rendered hors de combat.

Wallace, a 16-year-old Newtonville boy, from whom much was expected, was victim of an unusual accident. He suffered a puncture of the thigh while competing against English High at Dickinson Stadium. While taking his run in a javelin throw he lost his footing and was speared by the sharp wooden point of the javelin. He was taken to Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

Seeley and Craig Blank Brockton

Newton High's pitching staff got back on the Kalsomine Trail against Brockton High and in a home game returned to excellent form as the Tiger batsmen provided enough attack to achieve a 2-0 win. ?

Southpaws Dave Seeley and Dave Craig divided the hurling chores. Seeley gave up two hits in four and two-thirds inning. Craig yielded three over the remaining route.

Jim Leonard scored the first run in the third on a delayed double steal. The second run came in the fifth when Selley drove home Buddy Russo.

The victory was Newton's sixth in the Suburban League competition. It was the fourth shutout in the Tigers' last five games.

Dallaire Fans 10 As Our Lady's Beat Cantabs 5-3

Our Lady's High of Newton pushed across three quick runs in the first inning and were never headed after that as they picked up a 5-3 victory at the expense of Sacred Heart of Cambridge in a Catholic Suburban League game at Thorndike Park, Cambridge.

Lefty Gene Dallaire was superb on the mound. He fanned 10 and gave up only two walks. The game brought the victor's season record to two wins and three losses.

The Newton team got only four hits, two apiece by John Mooney and George Fitzgibbons, but the Cantabridgians aided the local boys' cause with walks and errors.

Arlington Given Kalsomine Job Number Three

It made no difference whether lefthander Dave Seeley or righthander Charlie Snider was on the mound, Arlington High couldn't get the semblance of an attack going against the Tigers as Newton racked its third straight baseball shutout and another suburban League win.

The score was 9-0, in a game played here.

Since they started keeping scholastic baseball records at Newton High there has been nothing close to the 27 consective innings of kalsomine which Tiger pitchers have applied to the opposition.

Seeley went six innings. He gave Arlington two hits. Snider pitched the last three. He yielded a single safe blow. Only twice in the game did Arlington threaten to break the long succession of goose eggs hung up by the '58 N.H.S. pitching staff. The threats came in the first and the sixth when Seeley had a bit of control trouble.

The victory made the Newton Suburban League record read 4-0. Against over-all opposition the Tigers have seven wins to a single loss and that to Andover Academy.

The shutout kind of took the edge off the smart stickwork turned in by the Tigers. They combed two Arlington pitchers for a total of 11 hits, with Jim Leonard, Dave Craig and Ron O'Loughlin leading the hit parade with two blows apiece.

Catcher Paul Healey capped the Newton scoring with the only homer of the game in the eighth inning.

The box score:

Runs batted in, Connerney, Healy, Leonard, Gordon, O'Laughlin 2, B. Russo 2; errors, Connerney 2, Seeley, Deveaux, Fiado; 2 base hits, Craig 2, Morris, B. Russo; home run, Realy; stolen bases, Leonard 2, Craig, Gordon, B. Russo; sacrifice hits, Leonard, Seeley, Gordon, O'Laughlin; double plays, by Leonard to Gordon to Craig, Morris to Mattola, Surrette to Morris to Tierner to Deveaux; base on balls by Seeley 5, Snider 1, Gilpatrick 2, Fiado 3; struck out by Seeley 8, Snider 1, Gilpatrick 4, Fiado 1; winning pitcher, Seeley; losing pitcher, Gilpatrick.

Barrys Win Two More to Extend Streak to Seven

Sacred Heart consolidated its leadership in the Catholic Suburban League with a pair of successive one-run victories over Our Lady's High and St. Thomas High. The scores were 6-5 and 4-3 respectively.

Each game followed a pattern. The Barrymen built up early leads and then hung on as the opposition all but overtook them.

Against Our Lady's, the Barrys, with Jim Fitzpatrick pitching brilliantly, held a 6-1 lead going into the fifth. Then the defensive forces developed a number of leaks and when the inning was over the score was 6-5. Bob Nangle came in to check Our Lady's the rest of the way. Nangle also contributed a triple in the Barry's 3-run 1st inning.

St. Thomas threw a real scare into the Barry's when it came up with a big ninth inning rally while trailing 4-0. Gary Fenton had been tough up to that point. After St. Thomas had come within a single run of tying the score, Fitzpatrick came in to douse the fire.

The victories, both obtained at Cold Springs Playground, ran the Barry's win streak to seven straight.

13 Clubs Lined Up For Twi Loop

Thirteen teams have signified their intention of playing in either the American or National League divisions of the newly-formed Newton Twi League.

Named as tentative entries in the American League are the Newton Boys' Club, Upper Falls, Newton Highlands, Cabot Club and two teams from the Corpus Christi parish. There is a possibility that the former National champions, the Atlantic Hardware team, may also be aligned with the American division.

In the National League the Boys' Club, St. Bernard's and Newton Centre are regarded as sure entries. A team is being formed in West Newton and another in Charlemont, both of which are expected to line up in the National League. The Y.M.C.A. plans to enter a team in one or the other of the leagues.

Initial plans for the two loops would limit National Leaguers to boys not over 18.

Jim Murphy of the Newton Recreation Department is anxious to hear from other teams which would care to join either

CONCERT ASSOCIATION SET FOR 1958 SEASON

Work Of Many Needed to Put Over Concerts

The success of Newton Community Concerts this year was achieved not only by the efforts of the board of directors and membership volunteers, but also by assorted ticket punchers, program folders, ushers, stage hands, the ten business houses listed on this page, a costume presser, and the Newton Center Camera Shop.

This, of course, doesn't include the professional help of piano tuner, movers, photographers, custodian, stage manager, matron, etc. In other words — one lone pianist may have walked onto the stage, but it took over one hundred and seventy-five people to put him there, making his recital a real community affair.

CONDUCTOR—A feature of the second concert season —Alexander Hilsberg, conductor of the New Orleans Philharmonic Orchestra — his first appearance in the Boston area.

Local Group Points To Lustre Of Achievement

Because of the enthusiasm of you, our members, we were able to bring to you in our first year of life, four outstanding concerts of great variety, and through them we feel that we fulfilled our fondest and most obvious hope, which was to provide you with four thoroughly enjoyable performances. This was the first of our objectives.

Our second aim was to bring to you some of the famous musicians of the day, and we also accomplished this with the appearance of the world famous duo-pianists, Vronsky & Babin, and also with Hilde Gueden, whom no one is likely soon to forget, not to mention Faye Emerson, who, while she is not a musician, is at least famous! The Little Orchestra Society of New York had not been heard by many of us, and came as a delighful surprise, even though its fine reputation had preceded it.

We also had a third objective. There are in the concert world today many talented young people, as yet unsung, some of whom will be the Rubensteins, the Flagstads, and the Menhuins of the generation. We would like to give you a chance to evaluate these young people, — to decide for yourselves, and perhaps give them a little push on the road to success. And we would like to give such young artists a chance to be heard by an audience which, being as close as it is to one of the great music centers, is bound to be discriminating.

We think that we would not be fulfilling our purpose completely if we were to bring you only" big names", omitting this small contribution to the progress of music. On the fringe of this category, and certainly about to emerge from it, was Eugene Istomin, a young pianist with a prodigious technique and great potential.

The series ended in an unexpected blaze of glory with the Robert Joffrey Ballet which, in this area at least, was virtually unknown, and is composed of 10 astonishingly young people. And so this objective, too, was reached.

But underlying all these aims is the thought that Newton wants and needs to have its own cultural life. Community Concerts are something to which we can go and hear the world's best music performed by "old friends" and "new friends".

But we can also sit with friends, listen with them, meet then in the intermission and chat with them, talk to them later about the concert.

Community Concerts Association Opens Annual Drive for Members

The most stimulating, the most exciting, the most hectic, and the most busy week in the year for Newton Community Concerts is the week of the annual membership drive, which begins next Monday, and lasts through Saturday. Headquarters in the Newtonville branch of the library, at 345 Walnut Street, will be a seething hive of activity all week long, as members of the board and membership committee come and go, — some staffing the office and manning the telephone, and others bringing in new subscriptions, which have to be entered as soon as they arrive.

Last year's membership was over 1000, and one never knows when the number of subscriptions will pass the capacity mark of Newton High School, and thus cause regret and disappointment to well up in the hearts of those who subscribed too late and had to be put on the waiting list!

Headquarters are in the lower floor of the library, and can be most easily reached by entering the door at the back of the building where some member of the committee will be waiting with all the equipment necessary for filling in new memberships, and any information desired.

At nine o'clock when the drive ends, the board of directors will meet behind closed doors in the proverbial smoke-filled room, to select artists for the coming season. Then comes the period of suspense until the dates are confirmed and names published, which will happen soon enough so that all can have the summer to look forward to the musical treats in store—RIGHT IN OUR OWN BACK YARD at Newton High School!

Mayor Whitmore Lauds Community Concerts

At the annual campaign dinner given by Newton Community Concerts for its workers, Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr. reminded them that in a city which is growing as rapidly along industrial lines and population-wise as is Newton, it is of vital importance for it to continue also its spiritual, cultural and intellectuel growth, since the true strength of a city lies perhaps even more in its appreciation of these values than in its economic prosperity.

The cultural value of Community concerts has also been recognized by many of our leading civic and service organizations throughout the city. Among such groups which, like Mr. Whitmore, have given Community Concerts their enthusiastic endorsement, are the Newton Chamber of Commerce, the Newton Federation of Womens' Clubs, the Neighbors, the Newton Rotary Club, the P.T.A. Council, the Kiwanis Club, Zonta Club and Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Single tickets to Community Concerts are NEVER sold. In order to attend the series you must be an Association Member. Subscribe now.

SOME OF THE STUDENTS who have contributed to the success of the Newton Community Concerts by acting as ushers, ticket takers, stage crew, or by working on the student membership committee are shown in photo. Behind The Orange Curtain -- A Show Gets Set to Go On

"Hullo?"

"Hullo, Mr. Remley. The van's here."

"O.K. I'll be right down."

Jim Remley, the concert chairman, swallowed two more bites of his Sunday dinner before he called his assistant.

"Hullo, Jo. The van's arrived."

"All right. I'll be right down." The assistant gulped half a cup of coffee, and, leaving the family to finish its ice cream, departed in the direction of Newton High School.

The van, a huge khaki-colored monstrosity, had sidled up to the gym door. The Green Maria, they called it. It had no doors on its sides, and no signs — just a solid sheet of olive green. . . . Everyone waited around for about half an hour, because the school was locked. The piano tuner, Louis Haffermehl, came first. Then the piano movers came, but they couldn't move the pianos because the gym was locked, and it was cold and raw out there behind the gym.

"Who called you up, anyhow, Jim?"

"I don't know. I didn't think to ask." . . .

The custodian arrived along with several car loads of musicians, members of the New York Little Orchestra Society. Seems he had been waiting around for the van all morning, and had just gone downtown for a bite to eat. . . . First the van disgorged two ten-foot long concert grand pianos which the movers screwed together and set up. Louis Haffermehl set about tuning them, — an almost impossible task, for by the time he had his instruments laid out, the entire stage was swarming with musicians setting up music stands, tuning kettle drums, and moving chairs about. Charlie Chase was there with his student electrician, Roger Kaufman, trying out footlights, and someone was giving the stage a last minute going over with the push broom. Louis Haffermehl buried his head briefly among the strings of piano No. 2, but finally gave up. He sat down on one of the chairs to wait for the storm to blow itself out. After all, when two pianos have to be tuned exactly together at 442, you have to be practically a magician under even normal circumstances. . . .

In the meantime, the musicians were being channeled into the three rooms reserved for them—one for the three soloists, one for the female musicians, and one for the men. Coats were piled everywhere. Thomas Scherman, the conductor, was studying a score in the last seat of the last row, looking both amiable and unconcerned. . . . A young girl with a violin under her arm, asked where she could go to be alone. This was a real stopper, but as the soloists' room was still empty, we escorted her in there. Just then the ushers arrived, and the ticket takers. They were given hasty instructions, and led to their posts armed with punches and programs, for by now the audience had also begun to drift in. . . .

Back stage, the soloists, Vera Vronsky and Victor Babin, her husband, had arrived to find Louis putting the final touches on piano No. 2. Faye Emerson was taken to the soloists' room, and the lone violinist put into the charge of the matron, who went to find her a drink of water. . . . Freddie Pearson, the photographer arrived, and after much scurrying around, we were able to round up four members of the board who had their pictures taken with Thomas Scherman. . . . Back at the soloists' dressing room, handsome six-foot plus, impeccably dressed Victor Babin was found standing just outside the door, trying unsuccessfully to make himself look insignificant. Why in the world was he out there? "Is there anything wrong?", Jim Remley asked. Mr. Babin stammered something in polished but broken English. Finally, it transpired that, while the matron was searching for water, a number of unidentified females had been beating their way through his dressing room to the lavatory at the far end,—mostly proper Bostonian types with whom even Faye Emerson could not cope!

The day the ballet came, there was all this and scenery too, — a surrealist's nightmare of stylized flowers, bits of colored cloth, embryonic tables, undefinable half-objects made of painted wire,—all of which eventually took some recognizable form. People and things began to appear almost before Newton High's last class of the day had ended, and this time there wasn't just Charlie Chase and one assistant working on the stage. There was Charlie Chase with a crew of five, who interwove themselves with the rehearsing dancers in a bizarre ballet which lasted until nearly half-past-five. Steve Richmond threaded his battery of lights between pas de deux and pirouette, while Nancy Scammon sat mid-stage in a shower of "twinkling toes", unsnarling wires. High above the tops of the curtains, Dick Smith paced the iron grille of the catwalk with Roger Kaufman, re-arranging ropes, raising and lowering the tormentors . . . and all to the great interest of a number of High School students who had postponed large armfuls of homework in order to stay and watch.

Floor cleaner and a scrubbing brush had long since removed every vestige of foreign matter from the floor, but Charlie and Jim Remley went over the stage with a Sherlock Holmes glass for the 18th time, searching for holes or nails, all of which were eventually dealt with by hammfer, plastic wood or cork plugs. By the time they had finished, the floor looked like the hull of an old schooner, but Beatrice Tompkins, the prima ballerina, eyed it fondly and sighed, "What a beautiful floor! Last night they had waxed the floor where we were, and we only dared to do about half of our dancing. One of the girls fell flat on her face."

Well, there you have it. Looks aren't everything, even in a floor. . . Coffee and cookies were set out on a table in the gym, after we had discovered an electric hot plate in a dark backstage corner, raided the cafeteria for a tea kettle, and paid a fleeting visit to the corner grocery store. . . . Make-up tables were set up and spread with mysterious jars and fat colored crayons,—the agents of a metamorphosis soon to be begun. . . . the ballet wardrobe mistress, with the help of Margaret Hogsett of West Newton, pressed out costume after costume, until the dressing room looked like a summer garden in full bloom . . . minutes and hours ticked by, and somehow everything was done.

Enjoyment of Fine Music Goal Of Concert Groups

Community Concerts originated as a plan which made it possible for small communities which were isolated from good music, to have their own concert series without running into debt. But since its inception, it has come to mean much more than that, for both the performing artist and the audience. The plan has spread to nearly every state in the union — (there are over 1,000 Community Concerts in the United States and Canada) — and it has proved that communities of any size, from little towns in the back woods of Maine, to cities the size of Newton, want, and can support, their own cultural life.

"SHOPPING AROUND WITH RITA"

The opening of Newton's Flower Show had all of the glitter of a Hollywood Premiere, and promises to be a thrilling treat for everyone. To me, it offers so much more than the more widely publicized shows, with the attending commercialism which so often spoils the enchanting effect. The central display features an exquisite fountain, surrounded by beautiful patios and landscaped gardens. The colorful exhibits are fascinating with such interesting demonstrations as the floral arrangements planned around the use of cut flowers from the garden or purchased from your local florist for a dollar or two. With a little know how, and a great big helping of inspiration we could have fresh flowers as a centerpiece to highlight the family dinner table every Sunday. You simply must see this show . . . it will continue through Sunday, every afternoon and evening.

So many have inquired just how to get to the show. Well let me describe it this way. It is right next to Newton's favorite Garden Shop . . . You have heard me rave about Clapper's. Just this morning I stopped in to purchase some flowering Almond Bushes, and I couldn't help but remark again "They have everything you could possibly want for your own back yard flower show" . . . But to get back to their location . . . It is just about midway between the Newtonville and West Newton Squares, on Washington St. . . . Look for the big sign saying "Sponsored by Kiwanis" . . . You can't miss it.

The Show would make an ideal Mother's Day outing for the family . . . and, by the way, if the youngsters have saved up their pennies for something special direct them to Edward's in West Newton . . . They have a counter filled with suggestions "with Mother in Mind." Bright aprons, handsome wooden or lacquered serving trays, floral note paper . . . stockings, tote bags, and intimate scented feminine treasures so prettily packaged . . .

Allets Gift Shop is featuring a spectacular sale, just in time to plan a more elegant gift for "Mother" . . . The fabulous line of Brayton's animals are drastically reduced in prices . . . This is a wonderful opportunity to purchase those dramatically different pieces that you have so often admired . . . The Brayton animals are those handsome bulls, elephants, horses (and the like) that look like fine carved wood. Actually they are pottery painstakingly detailed to simulate wood, and are striking in appearance. Notice the lovely jewelry that Mother would like also.

Maybe Mother has been longing to have a very special portrait or picture framed. She would appreciate your thoughtfulness if you took the work to the Sumner Frame Shop. For all of your framing needs, remember this nice little shop opposite the Newton Centre Post Office . . . They have literally thousands of sizes and shapes of frames to show you, and feature unusual services like framing with non-glare glass, or the new verplexing to make a picture look and feel like an oil painting . . .

What a wonderful way to thrill Mom . . . and what a wonderful way to pamper her rugs . . . The new Cyclomatic is a miracle of modern machinery that the Able Rug Cleaners are using to clean wall to wall rugs in the home, as they have never been cleaned before. Now, they bring the rug cleaning plant to your home . . . Now, they duplicate the complicated processes used for thorough cleaning at the plant, right at your home . . . In a matter of hours your rugs have a luxurious softness and vibrant look that can only be attained by deep and careful cleaning . . . Call Able at STadium 2-5010 . . . for the Best in Rug Care . . .

Something to think about . . . Newton, proud of her lovely gardens can now point with pride to her very own Flower Show. See the Show, and support it enthusiastically . . .

tion with the construction of the toll road extension.

So severe will be the blow dealt to many business firms on the north side of the city that it is feared some of them may pack up and move out of Newton.

High State officials thus far have manifested only indifference to Newton's problem.

Mayor Whitmore, members of the Board of Aldermen, Executive Councillor Christian A. Herter, Jr., State Senator Donald I. Gibbs and the Newton delegation in the House of Representatives all have protested forcefully.

Their protests have accomplished exactly nothing.

The Mayor is planning to appear next week before a Senate committee on a bill pertaining to one phase of the proposed toll road project. But one of the axioms at the State House is that Turnpike Authority Chairman Callahan gets what he wants from the State Legislature — from the Republican Senate as well as the Democratic House.

Under the bill which will be considered next week Chairman Callahan would have a right to make a street dead-end and close off homes and business places to the means of access they now have, according to Newton legislators

It also would exempt the Turnpike Authority from any existing laws concerning highways on their relocation and would empower him to take land not only for his own use but for the purpose of selling or giving it to the railroad.

He also can take privately owned property for the purpose of erecting garages, gasoline stations, eating places or for any other purpose.

In other words, Chairman Callahan has the power to take a Newton home by eminent domain, tear it down and build a filling station or restaurant in its place.

So far Chairman Callahan has not divulged exactly what he does plan to do. But Newton officials have been able to obtain enough information concerning what are believed to be his plans that they fear the worst.

Callahan has indicated that the construction of the toll road will be started next fall.

With that project scheduled to raise havoc with a section on the north side of the city and with the proposed MTA extension slated to wipe out large amounts of taxable property on the south side of the city, Newton authorities are bracing themselves for problems of staggering magnitude.

Mayor Whitmore asserts that the toll road extension will "totally disrupt" the core of the city.

He made it plain that he will fight the matter down to the bitter end.

Newton Students Have Fun-Fest at Yarmouth

By JUDY ARNOLD

The city mouse and country cousin story came to life for the 60 students who are members of Newton-Yarmouth exchange. The Yarmouthians lived on the brink of big city life for the week of April 9-April 16 and Newton High's group roughed it in Nova Scotia from May 1 to May 8.

A large coach-style bus transported Newton's 15 boys and 15 girls, and the advisors, Miss Lee and Mr. Card from Newton High to Bar Harbor, Me., on April 30. Many Newton students crowded around the bus at noon that Wednesday with green-eyed envy at thoughts of the fun they would miss and the school the exchangers would miss. The eight-hour bus trip was highlighted by constant eating and nibbling on everything from soup to nuts including stops for dinner and rest.

The group was divided in Bar Harbor (which incidentally, enjoyed Mr. Rogers, as Newton's assistant principal, as its headmaster until the end of last year) several students relaxed in the luxury of the citizens' hospitality, some stayed in an inn, and still others spent the night in a motel. This experience gave the young people an excellent opportunity to observe, and to some degree, participate, in the night activities of small-town teen-agers. The "kids" hang-out, a local drug store, entranced the group, as nothing of that type exists in Newton. The type of teen-agers differed greatly from Newton youngsters of the same age also.

"The M. V. Blue Nose," a three-deck, modern ferry bore the party from Maine to Yarmouth, the last leg of the trip. Many students had the impression the trip would be short; however, it proved to be a six-hour ride, and an unpleasant one for several students, who hadn't acquired their sea legs.

However, the lovely weather did provide the students with sunstans and the group was fortunate, as they enjoyed the calmest trip made by the "Blue Nose" this season. A cafeteria, lounge, gift shop, and a trip to the bridge with a talk from the captain made the trip even more pleasant for those students remaining on their feet on deck.

Greeting the Newtonites as they docked at the port of Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, was a large sign "WELCOME NEWTON" and the music of the Yarmouth Consolidated Memorial High School Band; and thrilling was the sight of the red-coated Canadian Mounties

The Newtonites felt right at home in Yarmouth as now everyone there wears Bermudas and knee socks (that means, males too, of course). This fad came about as a result of the Yarmouthians visit to Newton. They were intrigued by the popularity of the outfit and quickly bought Bermuda shorts and knee socks from every available store in Newton. In fact, they wore out the supply of many men's stores.

After a short time to freshen up, all the exchangers gathered at the home of Carol Lee Cohen for a renewal of old acquaintances. The party lasted until midnight when the group-singing and dancing was finally broken up by the reminder that the boys had to rise at six a.m. for a fishing trip. However, the sixty students did invade one last place before retiring for the evening. "Greaser's" or "The Greasy Spoon", it has been nicknamed, has a capacity of ten customers. This capacity was filled before the group arrived there, but somehow, all sixty crowded in and ordered refreshments.

Actually, several boys and girls were still in the entranceway and on the sidewalk when their orders were taken. The price of the food really astounded the group; hamburgers were a dime and hot dogs fifteen cents; the most expensive item, a western, was all of thirty cents. No wonder the two by four cubicle is popular with the young people.

May 2, Friday, provided a trout fishing trip for the boys, several of whom had barely recovered from their seasickness of the day before. The girls went on a picnic to John's Cove followed by athletics at the YMCA and a free evening. The delightful scenery and novel experience of being on the sea provided new interests for the group every minute.

The Friday night music festival, where the winners of each contest that has been held during the past week performed, entertained most of the students that evening. Several of the Newton students' exchange partners had won their competition and were in the program.

Saturday morning, everyone rose early and went on a deep-sea fishing excursion, in five different boats. The trip went to Meteghan, thirty miles from Yarmouth and returned home late in the afternoon. Saturday night, free once again, was spent resting, on dates, or shopping. Yarmouth stores are open for business and enjoy one of their busiest times on Saturday nights, a fact very surprising to most Bostonians. The limited variety of dating activities naturally is different from those afforded to Newton students.

Sunday morning each family went to the church of its choice and Sunday afternoon was reserved for a lobster and trout cook-out.

The chance to really live outdoors and enjoy activities only dreamed of heretofore by "city slickers" was definitely one of the pleasantest memories of the trip for the Newtonites. The wonderful people we met in a small town and the friendly atmosphere held the students spellbound for the entire trip. Many of the Newton students made lifelong friends in Canada and plans were enthusiastically made for private Newton-Yarmoth visits next year.

The Newton members of the exchange are Barbara, Adolph, Judy Arnold, Mary Ellen Clark, Janice Munro, Carol Isenberg,

Woman's Medical College Committee Holding Party

The Massachusetts Committee of the Woman's Medical College of Philadelphia, Pa., the only institution of its type in the country, has planned a spring party for Saturday, May 17, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil S. Rose, 50 Green Park, Newton.

The party will be formal, and is being held to raise funds for the college. Entertainment will include dancing to music by Sammy Eisen, and a buffet supper is scheduled.

Chairman for the spring party is Mrs. James Buskirk, and Duchess Anna Von Leuchtenberg de Beauharnais is co-chairman. Mrs. Gustave Fred is President of the Massachusetts Committee of the Woman's Medical College. Following is a list of the committee chairmen:

Mrs. Paul Abramson, Mrs. Vernon Alden, Mrs. William C. Chick, Jr., Mrs. Joseph De Pasquale, Mrs. George F. Doriot, Mrs. Clifford L. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Samuel Fox, Mrs. Gustave B. Fox, Pres., Mrs. Harry N. Gorin, and Miss Dorothy S. Gove.

Mrs. Louis Heiler, Dr. Margaret M. Kleinert, Mrs. Frank L. Lyons, Colonel Margaret McGovern, Princess Tatiana Ourousoff, Mrs. Bernard J. Pearson, Mrs. Dale Renner, Mrs. Cecil S. Rose, Mrs. James St. Clair, and Mrs. Melvin Shoul.

For more than 100 years, the Woman's Medical College in Pennsylvania, the first of its kind in the world and today the only Medical School solely for women, has been educating women in medicine.

In a sense, this pioneering institution is the mother of the woman doctor. One of every six women doctors in America obtained her degree at the Woman's Medical College. More than 2,500 young women have gone out into general practice and the special fields of public health, missionary work, industrial medicine, cancer control, child welfare, research, teaching and administration.

With the serious shortage of physicians that now exists, the Woman's Medical College is called upon to admit more students and to graduate more physicians.

The invitation issued by the Massachusetts Committee for the spring party included, with other information concerning the college, this comment:

"The Russian situation has called for changes in our educational thinking. If we are to accelerate scientific education, we might well remember that today approximately 75 per cent of the students in the Russian Medical Schools are women, thus releasing more men for the other sciences.

In connection with the party, a luncheon was held last Friday by Mrs. William C. Chick, Jr., of 553 Common street, Dedham, for members of the local committee. The Woman's Medical College is also featured in this month's issue of the Ladies Home Journal, in an article entitled "Mother is a Doctor Now!"

Ex-Newtonite Builds Prize Florida Home

A home built by Walter O. McGrath, who lived in Newton before he established residence in Florida in 1951, has been adjudged winner of the "Medallion Award" for a home he has built at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

The Medallion is awarded by the Florida Power and Light Co., in conjunction with General Electric. McGrath's home is the first in Broward County to receive the award.

He formerly lived on Lincoln road, Newton, and Fessenden street, Newtonville. He conducted a hardware store in Waltham before moving south.

During his early residency there he taught cabinet-making and then entered the construction business. He has built 268 homes in the Fort Lauderdale, Punta Gorda and Delray sections during the last six years.

He hopes to build at least 20 Medallion homes in this area within the next year.

The Medallion is awarded to homes which meet the electrical specifications of General Electric. With the exception of a central gas heating system his house is equipped with electrical appliances.

The house has an inter-com system connecting all rooms. The range, oven, water heater, refrigerator, freezer, garbage disposal, dish washer, washing machine, dryer and sizer are all built in the walls.

Fire Department Will Buy Pumper

Fire Chief Frederick A. Perkins, Jr., has announced plans of his department to acquire a new triple combination pumper to replace Engine 8, purchased 25 years ago.

Sealed bids for the new pumper which will have a capacity for 750 gallons a minute, will be opened at 2:30 p.m. next Monday by the Purchasing Department at City Hall. Engine 8 has a 650 gallon per-minute capacity. It will be used as a spare.

Lawn Could Sue For Non-Support

Don Lawn turned in a four-hit pitching performance for Newton Junior College in a game against the Harvard freshmen at Soldiers Field but it was all to no avail. Seven errors behind him enabled the Crimson yearlings to walk off with the game 8-6.

Presidential Primary Wastes Taxpayers' Money Says Rawson

House Bill 149, the petition of Rep. George E. Rawson to abolish the April presidential primaries, has been unanimously approved by the Committee on Election Laws and recommended by the Committee on Ways and Means with a solitary dissension.

Rawson's bill provides for caucuses of the enrolled members of a political party in each town and in each city ward, to choose the town or ward committee.

This group would then choose delegates to a senatorial district convention to elect the state committee man and woman. It would also choose delegates to a congressional district to elect the two delegates to the party's national convention.

"The presidential primary brings out a shamefully small vote," Rawson said, "with only 7½ percent of the voters in the Commonwealth voting in 1956."

"The huge cost of operating this primary," he contends, "is a disgraceful imposition on the taxpayer. If this bill becomes law it will not cost the taxpayers a thin dime, as each party will have to pay its own way."

HiddenPersuaders Is Doctor's Topic

On Tuesday morning at 10 a.m. Temple Shalom of Newton will be hostess to the Public Affairs Group of the Four Reform Sisterhoods. A lecture, "The Affect and Effect of Hidden Persuaders on Women," to be given by Dr. Samuel A. Stouffer, Professor of Sociology and Director of the Laboratory of Social Relations at Harvard, has been arranged. Dr. Stouffer will speak of how the hidden persuaders affect women and, as a result, the unconscious effect on the home, school and social life.

Justin T. Horan, executive director of the Chamber, told the Graphic, "the tremendous success of this 1958 Membersihp Campaign is due primarily to the dedicated efforts of the many campaign workers and the renewed interest in the Newton Chamber by our local business men and women."

The 100th new member, Mr. Orazio DeRubeis of Garden City Oil Company, was brought into the Chamber by John B. Rubenstein, vice president of Security Mills, Inc. Mr. Rubenstein is a past president of the organization and is presently a member of the Board of Directors.

Local Lawmakers Fight Latest Turnpike Bill

Newton lawmakers took up arms again this week in an effort to wound, if not slay, the octopus-like extension of the toll road they feel may squeeze the life out of the Garden City.

Appearing to vehemently protest a bill which would permit the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority to take land for railroad tracks as well as for highway purposes were Senator Donald L. Gibbs, Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., Rep. George E. Rawson, Rep. Arthur Heaney, Rep. Irene K. Thresher, Justin Horan and Dwight Colburn of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, Lorenz F. Muther Jr. of the Newton Taxpayers Association, Frank Wasson and Atty. Sidney vo Loescke, legal representative of the Citizens' Toll Road Committee.

Gibbs charged the Authority with rampant nepotism which explained why bills it sponsors go "sliding through the Legislature". He revealed that a check of personnel on the turnpike showed that three brothers and a nephew of members of the legislature, as well as a chairman of a Democratic City committee were currently employed as toll collectors.

He said that members of the General Court are afraid of Callahan, who he termed a "czar". Gibbs also called the bill "unconstitutional and a very bad piece of legislation".

Final Passage of Judges' Bill Is Considered Highly Doubtful

Even though Governor Furcolo achieved initial approval by the State Senate of his bill authorizing the appointment of six additional judges to the Massachusetts Superior Court, don't wager any of the family heirlooms that the measure eventually will be enacted into law.

Senate President Newland H. Holmes is one of the shrewdest parliamentarians ever to sit on Beacon Hill, and if Holmes is determined that the bill will be defeated —as it appears he is—it is a pretty safe bet that the measure will go down the legislative drain with a resounding splash.

What must be remembered in anticipating the ultimate fate of the proposal is that Holmes is in a position to determine when it will be voted upon.

Right now the measure is pigeon-holed in the Senate committee on bills in third reading.

Veteran observers on Beacon Hill suspect that some warm Thursday, when nothing of any consequence is on the docket and only a handful of Democratic Solons are in attendance, Holmes will unexpectedly pull out the judge's bill and deal a fatal blow to it.

He almost killed it on a voice vote the other day when most Senators weren't paying too much attention to what was happening. But alert Democratic Senate Leader John E. Powers swiftly intervened to save the measure from an early graveyard.

As Powers settled back in his chair after blocking the maneuver, Holmes grinned and observed that no one could blame him for trying. The impression was left that he intends to try again.

The manner in which the Republican majority was split over the bill to allow Governor Furcolo to name six Superior Court judges, aroused considerable bitterness within the GOP which may well flare up again.

12-Year-Old Boy Dies in Tragedy In Room of Home

Charles Gould, 12, accidentally strangled himself to death in the playroom of his home at 33 Deborah road, Newton. Sergeant Albert Yanco of the Newton police who investigated the tragedy said the boy apparently fell from a chair while playing with a rope looped around his neck and tied to a doorknob.

Associate Medical Examiner William A. Richards declared the death "accidental."

The accident was discovered about 6 p.m., by a brother, Gerald, 9.

A neighbor, Dr. Sidney Allman of 27 Deborah road, attempted to resuscitate the youngster for more than half an hour without success.

2nd Young Burglar Eludes Police by Diving Into Charles

Charles River is getting into the habit of affording lawbreakers an avenue of escape. For the second time in less than 10 days, a person believed to have had burglary in his heart when the police came along made good an escape by jumping in the Charles and swimming to freedom.

Latest escapee via the Charles River was a young man surprised by MDC Officers Robert Penta and John Meaney in Newton Lower Falls. The officers claimed he was engaged in attempt to break into the Wayside Market at 2295 Washington street, when they came along.

The youth turned and ran to the river. He dove in and swam to the property of the Paramount Porch Co. The MDC officers were joined by a half dozen Newton officers in an attempt to track the escapee down, but no further trace was found of him.

A few days previously a boy suspected of looting boats along the river dove into the river and made a similar escape as police sought to question him.

Approximately 800 persons enjoyed a concert given in the evening by a 250-voice chorus comprised of all the glee clubs which had taken part in the earlier contest.

City School Head Expected To Resign by End of Year

Newton Superintendent of Schools Harold B. Gores is under consideration for a $30,000-a-year position with a branch of the Ford Foundation, The Graphic learned today.

A formal offer of the post probably will be made to him in the very near future.

It is expected that Gores will accept the proferred position and will leave the Newton school department before the end of the year.

His departure would be a serious loss to the city, and his place would not be easy to fill.

Superintendent Gores is regarded as one of the foremost secondary school educators in the Eastern United States.

Under his direction Newton's public school system has come to be rated among the best of any city in the nation.

His salary with the Ford Foundation would be exactly double the $15,000 a year he now receives, although he is due to get a raise later in the year which would make him the highest paid public official in Newton. He now draws the same pay as the Mayor.

Superintendent Gores told The Graphic last night that he has not yet actually been offered a position by the Ford Foundation.

He declared, however, that he was interviewed in New York by officials of the Ford Foundation about six weeks ago.

At that time, Gores said, he outlined his ideas for making a survey designed to improve elementary and high school as well as college education throughout the country.

His appointment, if it is made as expected, would be for the purpose of conducting such a survey for the Educational Facilities Laboratory of the Ford Foundation.

"But they have not actually offered me a position, and I intend to stay here," Gores emphasized.

The Graphic learned from sources in New York, however, that it probably is only a matter of time before he will be formally offered the $30,000-a-year post.

Power Mower Spark Sets West Newton Garage Afire

Fire believed to have been caused by a spark from a lawn mower caused damage estimated at $3000 at the home of Leonard Panella, 283 Cherry street, West Newton. Panella himself suffered burns of the right hand.

Destroyed was a garage and automobile.

Officials believe that a spark from the ignition of the power mower set ablaze a quantity of gasoline which had spilled on the floor of the garage.

The automobile, a 1952 sedan, owned by Mrs. Panella, could not be moved from the garage in time to prevent its destruction. Heat from the burning garage seared the paint on the Panella home nine feet away.

Mr. Panella's own car was in the driveway and was undamaged. The lawn mower itself was pulled out of the garage and was only slightly damaged.

school superintendent went to New York to be interviewed for the job is construed to mean that he will accept it when it is proffered.

If Gores' appointment goes through, as it is anticipated, it will, he will be president of the Educational Facilities Laboratory of the Ford Foundation.

Gores has been superintendent of Newton public schools since November, 1949.

He began his educational career as a mathematics teacher in Lexington and came to Newton in 1932 to teach at the Warren Junior High School. In 1937 he was made administrative assistant to Julius Warren, then superintendent of schools.

Subsequently, he became assistant superintendent of schools under Dr. Homer Anderson, who headed the school department from 1942 to 1949. He was named superintendent on Anderson's resignation.

Dr. Gores graduated from the Bridgewater State Teachers College and obtained his doctor's degree in education at Harvard University in 1954.

A pleasant-mannered and unassuming man, notwithstanding the eminence he has achieved in the educational world, Dr. Gores lives with his wife and their two children in Waban. His son, Richard, and daughter, Judy, both attend Newton High School.

He has been responsible for launching a number of original and experimental educational programs while presiding over Newton's school system.

Turnpike Bill—

Rawson stated his strongest reason for opposing the bill was that it would destroy his district.

"It will wipe out every church, the YMCA, several banks and the West Newton library", he said. "No bill should give any private organization the power to wipe out any community."

Mayor Whitmore pointed out that railroads already have rights of their own to take land, but they must appear at a public hearing and have DPU approval in order to do it.

"This bill abolishes all such requirements," said the Mayor, "and gives the Turnpike Authority greater power than granted to any department in the state".

Defending the proposed bill, sponsored by Sen. Maurice A. Donahue of Holyoke, was authority engineer Philip H. Kitfield who said it would permit cheaper construction of the highway and prohibit the crossing of the railroad and highway at various intervals.

Rep. Thomas F. Farrell of Worcester accused opponents of trying to delay construction.

"Newton must recognize that Worcester and many other other towns had to make the same sacrifices for progress", he said.

Approval of the bill would permit land take and relocation of various existing facilities to make way for the proposed highway from Weston to downtown Boston.

Atty. von Loescke charged that this power would tend to be dictatorial and would enable the Authority to eliminate hearings and keep its plans secret until it acted.

pers of both sexes.

President Bernard H. Dresner of the Newton Centre Merchants Association stressed the fact that the three-day bargain jamboree was planned and prepared by members of his organization as a gesture of appreciation for the generous patronage enjoyed by Centre stores over the past year.

President Dresner told The Newton Graphic recently that every participating store has made every effort to create an atmosphere of happy shopping for customers and to put on a genuine "Carnival of Values" for patrons throughout the three days of the event.

"Newton Centre Days" will provide a substantial showing of customer appreciation by providing thousands of values in all departments of each and every participating store in the area.

Officers of the Merchants Association, in addition to President Dresner, are: Joseph Sherman, vice president; Frank K. Woolway, secretary, and Robert Clinton, treasurer.

A Display of Paintings by Philip Hicken, of 106 Morse street, Newton, is currently on display at the Auburndale Branch of the Newton Public Library. Ten of the paintings are serigraphs or silk screen prints. The exhibit will continue through the month of May.

By JUDY ARNOLD

Although it seemed impossible, the Newton exchange students who visited Nova Scotia enjoyed the last half of their visit even more than the first half. Perhaps that was because the entire second part of the excursion was spent on dry land.

Saturday night, although originally planned as a free evening, found most of the students at "The Snackerie," a favorite haunt of the Nova Scotians. The modern restaurant, with its large dancing area, provided a wonderful evening for our group. The establishment is not actually open until later in the season, but as it is owned by the father of a boy on the exchange, the exchangers had their own private recreation center.

Football and softball occupied the boys on Sunday at the Y.M.C.A. Camp just out of town. The girls, although thought to be too "soft" and feminine for those sports, managed to rough and tumble it a bit with the boys. But damp weather set in later in the afternoon and checkers, chess, and scrabble before an open fire were the main attractions until the delicious seafood dinner was served. Lobsters and trout were enjoyed by parents and youngsters alike.

Once again, although Sunday night was scheduled as free after the cookout, the teenagers shortly found something to do. Joel Pink, brother of a Yarmouth exchange, was celebrating his Bar Mitzvah at the temple Sunday evening and all the teeners and their advisors were invited to come. The girls and boys enjoyed the chance to dress up and meet some of the Canadians, other than those on the exchange. Another party at the "Snackerie" following the one at the temple, and lured the students to stay out rather late that evening.

But Monday morning everyone was as full of life and energy as ever and clambored onto two buses for a day of sightseeing. The extremely high and low tides at Digby Harbor and the town of Digby were visited by the students both in the morning and the evening. Annapolis, an historic fort, and "The Habitation," an enclosed little village occupied the group for most of the day.

The latter part of the day and early evening were spent at Cornwallis, a base of the Royal Canadian Navy. Tours of the area, movies concerning the navy, and dinner in the officers' mess were the highlights of the trip. The Americans were most intrigued with the popular Canadian sport, curling, which none of them had ever seen before. It is played on ice by rolling 40 pound steel objects and trying to get them into a small circle at the other end of the floor. After being assured of the fun of the game, several Newton boys tried their skill at it while the other members of the trip relaxed in the three swimming pools in the recreation building.

Of special interest to the swimmers was a trapeze high over the water which was reached by climbing up a high ladder to a platform. One swings on the trapeze over the water and then either lets go and falls or dives in.

Tuesday found everyone in school; the Yarmouthians with their lessons prepared and the Newtonites with their papers and pencils poised for note-taking. A major difference in the two schools the students attend is the 90 minute lunch break given to the students of Yarmouth Memorial High School.

The Newtonians enjoyed the opportunity to go home and actually relax while eating lunch.

The straight lines the students form while passing in the corridors in between periods and the procedure of remaining standing before each class until the teacher enters the room and greets the class were interesting to the students from Newton as they had never done these things before. The entire relaxed calm attitude of the school was a change from the atmosphere of Newton High. Some students thought they would profit more from this type of education, while others thought they would be bored by it.

The next to last evening brought a progressive supper for the 60 young people and their advisors. Everyone met at the high school and then broke up into groups of eight. The entree and main course were served at two different houses for each group and all met once again at "The Snackerie" for desert and dancing. Sentimentalism began playing a part at this time, as some of the students began to realize that they would probably never again see many of their newly-made friends. However, tears were saved for Thursday's farewell and "The Snackerie" rang out with lively records and the friendly singing and dancing of the teen-agers. At times, the advisors even "jived" as the Canadians call it.

Speaking of language differences, the American boys and girls noticed a few other colloquialisms. "Hard" is the term used to express a funny or comical person; french fried potatoes are always "chips," and it is never "quarter of three," but "quarter to or ten to three." Food variances were found mainly in potato chips, which are saltier and crispier than ours, and vanilla ice cream which is much more creamy than ours. The Nova Scotian vanilla ice-cream is similar to our "Dairy-Dips."

The last day was enjoyed most of all by the students.

The Yarmouthians went all out in a most successful endeavor to leave the Newtonites with pleasant memories. An hour and fifteen minutes, all-school assembly was held in the morning. The advisors and the assistant principal of Yarmouth High spoke to the group. Then, each Yarmouth student introduced his exchange partner to the whole school. The effect was very pleasant and personal. Entertainment was provided by the school band, a studend quartet and scenes from a recently-presented operetta.

After the assembly, the Newton group was rushed off to a delicious lunch at "Wagner's" with the Rotary Club. In addition to the tasty meal, the students had the opportunity to listen to various speakers, including Mr. John Fisher, an excellent public speaker and well-known radio and TV commentator, often called "Mr. Canada." The students were immensely interested in his forceful, impressive manner of talking.

After lunch the Canadians and Americans once more united in a trip to a hatchery right outside of Yarmouth. In addition to the usual merriment and songs on the bus trips, John Horton, a Yarmouth junior, brought his banjo along and led everyone in hill-billy tunes.

Wednesday afternoon found most of the Newtonites hurriedly packing and stowing away souvenirs of their wonderful trip. A banquet and dance at the high school were Wednesday night's feature attractions. A final farewell party was held at Steven Pink's after the dance and it was here, with everyone gathered around and singing sad, slow songs that the students began to dread the morrow.

However, Thursday came much sooner than anyone had expected. Plans had been made for the group to take off from Yarmouth airport at 11 a.m. But telephones started ringing at 7:30 as the students were informed that because of fog, the plane, which begins the trip in Greenwood, would be unable to stop in Yarmouth. Instead of the additional day of the exchange that the students were hoping for, everyone was herded into buses at 9 o'clock for the 100-mile ride to Greenwood. The suddeness of the departure accounted, perhaps, for the abundance of tears and phototaking.

Some Newton students who were staying at homes in the country were telephoned too late. They were not able to get into town, so one group of them was picked up on the way to Greenwood and the others raced after the bus in a taxi and finally arrived at the airport a few minutes after the bus did.

The TCA Viscount took off at last at 3:45, Canadian time, and the boys and girls flew memories of a never-to-be-forgotten week home with them. The international feeling of friendship and the realization that our northern neighbors are made of the same stuff we are will remain with the 60 students forever.

Aldermanic Statement

(Ed. note: The following letter from Alderman Leo M. Cannon is considerably longer than the communcations ordinarily published in The Graphic. Because of the widespread public interest in this matter, however, we are printing Alderman Cannon's letter in full.)

Editor
Newton Graphic

For the past few days, I have been deluged with phone calls, letters and post cards relative to the action of the Board of Alderman in not granting the petition of the Newton PTA Council for a full-time dog leash Ordinance. In order to attempt to clarify this situation, as Chairman of Claims and Rules, I request that you publish the following:

As a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen, I have received a great number of phone calls, letters and post cards, relative to the so-called "full time dog leash law." Some of these were prior to the filing of the petition by the PTA Council, others were while it was pending, but many were made during the last few days requesting favorable action on the leash law. Since the petition of the Newton Council was given leave to withdraw (denied) at our last meeting, it is apparant that some new step or procedure will be attempted.

Since World War II, I have owned four dogs, three of whom were struck by automobiles and later died, and our present Collie. I built a large pen for her in the back yard. She is exercised in our yard and has been to training school. Thus, I understand a little about dogs, even the visiting canines who come daily to bark an hello to her.

In addition to myself, other members of the Board of Aldermen have been upset by the tone and threatening nature of many of the calls and mail. The fact that the adherents of the leash law will not vote for us, is immaterial on this issue because the Constitution gives them the right to vote as they see fit. However, the pressure that has been lossed upon us for the leash law, seems to require a rebuttal.

I hereby quote the entire letter received Saturday from a Mrs. Wright, as an example of the type that I have had: "Your attitude and that of the majority of the Newton Board of Aldermen is remarkably callous in the face of evidence presented by the PTA Council in their efforts for dog restraint; and in the face of newspaper items as that in last week's Graphic — 'Two year old girl bitten above eye by dog.' Those Aldermen who have put the "freedom" of dogs above the welfare of children for political expediency, and who have been influenced by the sentimental bilge of the so called dog lovers have just lost our respect and future votes."

First of all, I checked on the case reported in her letter. The firl, age 2, was bitten over the left eyebrow on 4/18/58, supposedly by a stray dog, but that Officer Tom Ganley investigated and notified the owner to restrain the dog. I sought further facts than appeared on the Police blotter. Lt. John McMullen later reported to me that he had talked to the Mother of the little firl who said: — "the dog in question used to play with the litle girl in her yard; and that the dog was not vicious; that her daughter liked to cuddle the dog and may have cuddled the dog too much; that her daughter was bitten over the eye and received medical treatment; that the mother was not bitter about the incident and went to the people who owned the dog and told them that the dog did not hurt her daughter seriously; and that she still felt the dog was not vicious." Thus, you have a matter that could happen to anyone whether a dog was "free" or restrained, because children naturally love dogs and show their affection by squeezing, sometimes choking them. My own younger daughter exemplifies this.

The decision of the Board or the majority of votes of the Board, did not rest on being "influenced by the sentimental bilge of the so called dog lovers." Nor was our decision based on "freedom of dogs above the welfare of children for political expediency." We endeavored to examine all facts presented, interviewed the Chief of Police in our Committee, and after hours of individual efforts, and later discussing the matter in its entirety together, decided that all Newton citizens should be informed as to the present laws concerning dogs. This will be mailed and published. Then it was voted to give the petition leave to withdraw.

I call your attention that two members of our Board, who were partial to the part-time restraint proposal for dogs, comprised the Sub-Committee which brought back to us the recommendations to publish and mail to the Newton residents, the laws affecting dogs. It is sincerely hoped that a well-informed public, understanding the laws which are not generally known, will then take effective and legal steps to correct abuses that are complained of now.

The Newton PTA Council, in its arguments and brief, had the burden of proving to us that we should adopt a full-time leash law. They failed, in my opinion, to show how such a full-time leash law could be effectively enforced under our present Police Department, even with the addition of a few men to be specifically assigned to that detail. The Board had to consider the enforcement problem together with the enactment of any ordinance. An ordinance should not be passed unless it can be effectively enforced. The Chief of Police, and some authorities on dogs, feel that our present statutes are sufficient to control dogs, provided that citizens will comply with the law. Failure of citizens to make proper complaints, leads to violations as to dogs or people. Then, the inadequacy of a law is pointed out and criticized, but such failure to report violations is generally overlooked.

In conclusion, I am obliged to state that in my nine years on the Board of Alderman, I have never seen nor been subjected to influence that caused me or others to vote for political expediency. I assure you that Newton and its citizens can be justly proud of the calibre and character of the members of the Newton Board of Aldermen. Although we may differ, argue and vote independently. I sincerely feel that all issues and facts are honestly evaluated before a decision is finally reached. This was the decision on the leash law.

It all started when Senator Fred I. Lamson, Malden Republican, told GOP leaders in the Senate that he could not be bound by the Republican caucus on the judges measure because he had promised former State Public Works Commissioner John A. Volpe he would vote for the measure.

Lamson pointed out that Volpe owns a newspaper in his home city of Malden and that the paper had helped him in his campaigns.

When that information was passed along to other Republican Senators to explain why Lamson was leaving the party reservation, several exploded in wrathy fashion. One of them telephoned Republican State Committee Chairman Daniel E. McLean and urged that McLean call Volpe and demand that he (Volpe) not inject himself into State Senate business.

Once the breach was made in the GOP ranks, two other Republican Senators, Edward J. DeSaulnier, Jr., of Chelmsford and Charles S. Marston of Haverhill, also bolted and voted with the Democrats to shift the balance of power in favor of the bill.

Attempts subsequently were made to quiet down the furore, and the bill was sidetracked for a cooling-off period.

Beacon Hill observers, however, recalled that during former Governor Herter's administration Volpe made a strong recommendation that an Essex County attorney be appointed to the Superior Court bench.

Other prominent legal figures in Essex County sought the same judicial position. The lawyer Volpe was backing was unable to marshal anything approaching unanimous support from legal groups in the county. A spirited contest developed, and Herter finally resolved the matter by passing up all the Essex County candidates for the post and naming a judge from Berkshire County.

Volpe was badly miffed that his recommendation was not accepted by Governor Herter, and his relations with Herter subsequently were cool and strained.

An impression exists on Beacon Hill that the attorney former Commissioner Volpe supported for the Superior Court during the Herter regime will be one of the six new jurists named by Governor Furcolo—if the bill now pigeon-holed in the Senate is eventually adopted.

An ironic sidelight to the situation is that Volpe has been periodically mentioned as a possible choice for one of the spots on this year's Republican State ticket, perhaps as the GOP nominee for Lieutenant Governor or State Auditor.

Spell Out Program For Gifted Pupils At PTA Annual Parley

Irving J. Helman was elected president of the Newton P.T.A. Council at the annual meeting held Monday night at the Bigelow Junior High School. The evening's program featured a panel discussion on "What Newton Is Doing For the Academically Talented Child."

Dr. Edward Landy, director of counselling services in Newton was moderator, and participants were W. Eugene Ferguson, NHS math department head; Donald K. Davidson, Weeks Junior High principal; and Miss Helen M. Punch, Spaulding School principal.

Ferguson explained the advanced placement program at the high school level for gifted young people, and discussed how they can benefit from Newton's special enrichment summer school classes.

He also advocated higher teachers' salaries to compete with what industry is paying scientists and mathematicians as one method of doing more for the bright children in the school system.

Describing the junior high as a period of great change and choice, Davidson said this is also the period when the child goes through the greatest changes emotionally and physically.

He outlined how attempts are made to make upper grade subject matter increasingly available to capable lower grade students, and said one goal was to extend every child to the limit of his ability and yet not categorize him in any position from which he could not emerge.

Miss Punch told the large audience, including representatives from the city's 30 P.T.A. groups, that the academically talented child is generally spotted in kindergarten, but there are some "late bloomers" that are detected at a later date.

She revealed that two children have been picked from each of five elementary schools which feed into one of the junior highs to participate in an experimental science program. The ten youngsters go to the junior high two days a week to work in the laboratory in order to move ahead in the field of science.

Edward C. Uehlein, president of the Council, opened the meeting and introduced John Swanton, president of the Bigelow P.T.A., who welcomed all members of the council and parents attending the meeting.

Mrs. Robert C. Hull, Executive Secretary, read the Annual Report in which she outlined the history of the Council and its activities during the past thirteen years.

The following officers were elected for the year 1958-1959: President, Irving J. Helman; Vice-President, Mrs. Edward Landy; Vice-President, Jerome Grossman; Vice-President, Robert Ward; Executive Secretary, Mrs. Robert B. Hull; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Thomas FitzGerald; and Treasurer, Mrs. Vincent Hammersten.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, Mrs. Vincent Hammersten, chairman of the program, introduced the members of the panel discussion group.

New Protection Method Installed In Newtons For Telephone Cables

Robert E. Sliney, Newton manager of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, has announced that a new method of protecting the vital telephone cables has been installed in the Newton area.

These telephone cables, a familiar sight to citizens, are the arteries of the telephone system. Constant vigil over these cables is maintained since damage to the covering that protects the enclosed wires could mean an interruption of telephone service. Through the years many advances in preventative maintenance have been made, with the result that fewer failures in telephone service occur and maintenance costs have been reduced.

The miles of telephone cable that border Newton streets and highways contain anywhere from 16 to 2100 pairs of wires and are part of the vast network which connects the telephone instruments in local homes, to the Central Office telephone equipment located at 787 Washington Street, Newtonville. In the Newton area there are some 458 miles of cable, 60 per cent of it underground, which provides this city with local and long distance telephone service.

Always Protect Trunk Cables

For some years, the Telephone Company has protected its main toll and trunk cables from the elements by the use of pressurized cables. Nitrogen gas is fed into the air-tight cable and a constant pressure is maintained.

If a break or crack in the cable covering occurs, the gas escapes preventing the moisture from entering. Simultaneously the decreasing pressure energizes an alarm in the test center indicating that a leak has occurred.

In recent months this protection has been expanded to include the cables that service the residents of the Newton area. However, the methods of furnishing the pressure have changed. Instead of using nitrogen gas, a method has been devised using compressed, dehumidified air. The earlier machines supplying air pressure employed a chemical means to remove the moisture from the air. Later models, now standard, remove the moisture by refrigeration.

At present 36 of the 43 main cables from the Newton Central Office are protected by this new method, with work continuing to provide the same type of protection for the remaining cables.

What It Means To Subscriber

Manager Sliney has emphasized what this means to the Newton telephone subscriber. It means that the cases of telephone failures that now occur will be further minimized and in most instances potential trouble will be detected and repaired before service is effected. It also means lower maintenance costs, for with the aid of the pressurized cable system, trouble resulting from a break can be detected and the location pinpointed; thereby eliminating costly time formerly required in examining miles of aerial and underground cable in search of trouble. The cable will now provide its own continual inspection and alarm system.

Mr. Sliney also stated that these developments are another expression of the Telephone Company's awareness of its responsibility to provide the most modern, efficient and dependable telephone service at the lowest possible cost.

We particularly want to reach young mothers who have space in their homes for one or two children whose own parents cannot care for them for a time. At this time there are quite a few youngsters waiting to go to a boarding foster home. Many of them are sisters, brothers —or brother and sister whom we want to place together.
IF YOU CAN TAKE ONE MORE CHILD INTO YOUR FAMILY FOR A TIME — PLEASE GET IN TOUCH WITH US. IF YOU CANNOT — PLEASE HELP US BY SHOWING THIS AD, OR TALKING ABOUT IT, TO YOUR FRIENDS, NEIGHBORS AND ACQUAINTANCES

City Planning Discussed, Officers Elected Friday By United Church Women

"For years our civic leaders have thought of Newton as a city of single residents. Now, as many of these very leaders are reaching retirement age, they find that they failed to plan for their own needs by resisting many former attempts to have some suitable apartment buildings erected to provide small, comfortable homes for senior citizens," said State Representative Irene Thresher as she opened the discussion of "A Place to Live in Newton" last Friday afternoon at the May Fellowship Assembly of the United Church Women of Newton.

"Other communities in our Commonwealth," she declared, "have made use of State and Federal funds to carry on such projects. Newton can lo longer avoid considering the needs of its increasing older population."

MRS. A. T. GREGORIAN

"The key-word in city planning," Newton's new planner, Charles E. Downe, told the church women, "Is change. A place to live is Newton — but Newton today is different from yesterday. Study of the changes in population, industry, transportation etc. is the basis for our planning for the future."

The problems which a realtor faces in trying to find suitable homes for all who need homes in Newton were forcefully presented by Andrew Schwab. "The proposed route of the Toll Road extension will make many Newton citizens homeless, and their needs must be met," he said.

Rev. Sydney Adams, Executive Secretary of the Newton Council of Churches, served as Moderator for the discussion and the question period which followed.

Officers of the United Church Women for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Arthur T. Gregorian; Vice President, Mrs. John D. Fox; Recording Secretary, Mrs. H. Edgar Beaven; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. William C. Loring; Treasurer, Mrs. Matt B. Jones; Christian World Relations Chairman, Mrs. John R. Ballou; Christian World Missions Chairman, Mrs. Ronald W. Adams; Christian Social Relations Chairman, Mrs. Alden Thresher; Spiritual Life Chairman, Mrs. James H Burns; Public Relations Chairman, Mrs. F. D. Kirmayer; Finance Chairman, Mrs. Willard W. Rice; Leadership Education Chairman, Mrs. Alex R. Miller; Promotion of The Church Woman magazine, Mrs. Albert B. Terkelson; Nominating Committee, Mrs. George H. Tracy, Chairman; Mrs. Martha B. Willey, Mrs. William Cochran, Mrs. Russell Gundlach, and Mrs. Morgan S. Campbell. Two appointments were made by the president, and ratified, making the Co-Chairmen of the World Day of Prayer Mrs. William W. Clark and Mrs. Riley J. Hampton.

Rev. Wilbur J. Kingwill, pastor of St. John's Church where the meeting was held, conducted the installation ceremony for the new officers. The women of St. John's Church were hostesses to the 150 church women at a coffee hour preceding the meeting. Miss Eleanor Bartlett, President of the Women's Guild, greeted the women and welcomed them.

Arthur B. Chartier of 11 Meredith avenue, Newton, has been awarded a certificate for outstanding service to the Student Union at Northeastern University. The union works for the Promotion of spirit and fellowship.

Presents His Exclusive
BODY WAVE $10.00

The Body Wave is a form of permanent waving used on hair that either has a little natural wave or hair that waves easily.

It does not add appreciably to the amount of wave already in the hair, but gives such strength and resiliency to the wave as to make the hair seem naturally wavy and remarkably easy to put up.

It is for hair to which the ordinary permanent wave (however soft) gives too much curl.

reg. 10.80 5.40 F. T. I.

Chips and dips; or nuts and mints—fill the shells and watch your guests do a "double take." A very necessary party idea—and so pretty, besides. Gracefully fluted in finest silverplate by Sacks, it is 11" long with shell width 6". And it is value, we think, well worth a second glance. So look at the price again, or—won't you do a "double take"?

7 Unearned Runs Help Camb. Latin Snap Tiger Skein

Cambridge Latin found Dave Craig for eight runs — seven of them unearned — in the first three innings in a Suburban League game at Russell Field, Cambridge, and the Tigers were unable to overtake the Cantabs after that.

Newton was finally obliged to accept a 10-8 setback. It was the first defeat it has known in league competition and came after eight straight wins.

Newton's starting pitcher, Dave Craig, didn't have his usual stuff but he deserved a better fate. He left the scene with two out in the third inning. It was Dave's first loss this season. He previously had racked up five straight wins.

Walt Plausky, who held Newton to three hits and lost in Newton a couple of weeks previously, was also off his usual form. He yielded 13 hits, while Latin was only picking up eight.

He got into real trouble in the ninth, and after the bases had been loaded with one out Walter McGinnity came in to halt the Tigers cold without a run.

Plausky, however, aided his own cause materially with a triple and wind-blown double.

The loss failed to shake Newton's hold on first place.

Henry M. Thornton, Jr., of 105 Eldredge street is on the spring dean's list at Babson Institute. Thornton is majoring in management and production.

Spokesmen Of Major Parties To Discuss Politics at Meeting

A candid and searching discussion of practical politics will be the major part of the program at the annual meeting of the Newton League of Women Voters of Newton on Monday, May 19 at the Woodland Country Club, 1897 Washington Street, Auburndale. Following a 12:15 luncheon, there will be a short business meeting from 1:30, to be followed by the political discussion.

Participating in the discussion will be John I. Saltonstall, Jr. who will tell of "The Campaigner's Dilemma," and Harold Putnam, whose subject will be "The Legislator's Dilemma."

Mr. Saltonstall, a Brookline resident, is presently campaigning for the Democratic nomination for Representative from the tenth Congressional District. He is a practicing attorney, and is presently serving as chairman of the Massachusetts Council for Civil Rights. He is also co-chairman of the Greater Boston Chapter of the American Christian Palestine Committee. Mr. Saltonstall has been active politically, as well as in many other civic activities like the United Fund, Girl Scouts and National Conference of Christians and Jews. Upon graduation from law school in 1941, Mr. Saltonstall joined the Office of the Under Secretary of War as a lawyer. Shortly after Pearl Harbor, he volunteered as a private in the Army but was rejected on physical grounds. In 1942 he transferred to the National War Labor Board, where he served in various capacities, including that of Executive Director of the National Meatpacking Commission.

Mr. Putnam is an assistant Attorney General on the staff of Attorney General George Fingold. He is a Needham resident and represented Needham in the Massachusetts General Court from 1948 to 1956. During that time he served on the Committees on Education, Public Health, Judiciary and was chairman of the Committee on Municipal Finance.

At present, Mr. Putnam is moderator of Needham's town meeting. He is also the founder and first president of the Massachusetts Moderators' Association. During World War II, Mr. Putnam served in all theatres of the war as a Navy gunnery officer. On his return to civilian life, he edited the Veteran's Forum of the Boston Globe.

Among the questions which either or both speakers will be asked to comment on are the following: What is a candidate's first duty — is it to win by any means? Where does the money come from and what effect does it have on his decisions? Where does a legislator's first duty lie — to the party that nominated him or to the public that elected him? What happens if he and the party disagree on what is good legislation?

Mrs. David Cooper is chairman for the League's annual meeting. She is being assisted by Mrs. Arnold Mork, Mrs. J. Ernest Smith, Mrs. Stanley Ebb, Mrs. William Heine, Mrs. Leo Jacobs, Mrs. Robert Leventhal, Mrs. Milton Cohen and Mrs. Norman Krim.

Program Chairman for the meeting is Mrs. Harold Stein, Voters' Service Chairman. Working with her are Mrs. Lester Radlo, Mrs. Warren Rabb and Mrs. Spencer Deming.

League members who are unable to attend the luncheon are invited to come for the program.

Sealey Steals Home to Beat Brookline 3-2

A delayed steal of home by Dave Seeley in the sixth inning was the turning point in a tight diamond battle between Newton High and Brookline. The steal enabled the Tigers to keep their Suburban League victory streak alive. Final score was 3-2. It marked the Orange's seventh successive win.

The winning play was a pretty bit of inside baseball. There were two out in the sixth. Jim Leonard and Seeley had walked to open the inning. Dave Craig tried to lay down a sacrifice. It resulted in a force play at third on Leonard. Seeley made third, however, after it appeared that he was trapped off second.

Finally, with two out, Cliff Gaysunas was in the batter's box. Craig broke for second. Catcher Sid Natonson lined a throw to second. As soon as the ball left Sid's hand, Seeley broke for the plate. He made it easily.

The Tigers needed the inside ball finesse. The boys were finding Paul Varnum tough. They came up with a total of three singles for their afternoon's offensive outfit.

Ron O'Loughlin got credit for the win. He needed help in the eighth, however, when Brookline scored its second run.

Craig came in to fan Bill Hegarty and then coasted safely through the ninth.

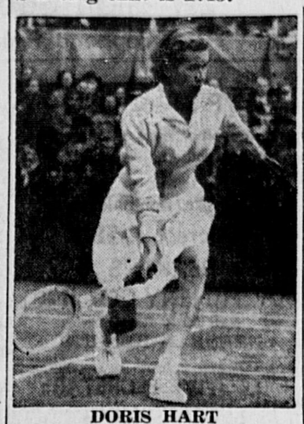
Doris Hart in Action At Tennis Club Sunday

A tennis clinic and exhibition by Doris Hart, Lois Felix and Mercer Beasley will be presented at the Newton Squash and Tennis Club as a feature of the club's annual Open House next Sunday. The program is open to the public and is being held in conjunction with the club's 24th anniversary weekend celebration.

Mercer Beasley, dean of American tennis coaches and famous as the developer of Frankie Parker, Ellsworth Vines, Pancho Segura, Doris Hart and others, will head the clinic and will be assisted by Miss Hart and Mike Blanchard. The clinic is open to any boy or girl under 16. Starting time is 1:45.



DORIS HART

Following the clinic an exhibition singles match will be played by Doris Hart and Lois Felix. Miss Hart has won 23 different national titles including the coveted Wimbledon and U. S. singles awards. Lois Felix has held No. 1 ranking in New England and with her partner, Kay Hubbell, is currently ranked sixth in national women's doubles.

A mixed doubles exhibition will conclude the tennis program with Miss Felix paired with Sumner Rodman against Miss Hart and Bert Rodman. The Rodman brothers, both members of the Newton Squash and Tennis Club, hold doubles rankings in New England.

At this time, the clubhouse, which has just undergone an extensive renovating and refurbishing program, will be open for inspection.

Another feature of the 24th anniversary weekend of the club will be the annual spring dinner dance Saturday night at the Sidney Hill Club.

For the second successive year the Newton Squash and Tennis Club will be the site of the official New England Tennis Championships scheduled to begin on the club's famous red clay courts on Saturday, May 31.

Newton Trails B.E.H.S. in State Relays

Newton High's relay teams were obliged to settle for 11 points in the State Relays at Belmont, ceding top honors to Boston English High which ran up a point total of 15. Rindge Tech was third with 6, followed by New Bedford, 5; Malden, 3; Boston Teachers 2, Brookline, 1, and Lowell, 1.

Newton placed second to English High in the two-mile and second in the mile, but its fine quarter-mile team made up of James Yancey, Vin Cooney, Mike Huberman and Larry Smith turned in a 45.4s performance to cop the quarter-mile over Rindge.

Child Diseases Dropped Sharply Here Last Month

April may have brought a little too much rain to Newton but it also appears to have been a healthy month—at least insofar as communicable children's diseases were concerned.

During the month a total of 176 children were stricken with reportable diseases as compared with 381 in April, 1957.

Measles dropped to 62 cases as compared with 126 in April a year ago. There were 55 cases of mumps last month. In April, 1957, the total was 104. Scarlet fever cases dropped from 44 in April, 1957, to 16 in April, '58.

Dog bites ran counter to the general trend. There were 50 in April, 1957. Last month the total rose to 64.

Melville Spindle's Poetry Published

Melville H. Spindle, who is a very good carpenter, is also a very good poet. He has been a carpenter most of his adult life He has been a poet — that is a writer of poetry — since 1953. That's the year he spent the summer studying philosophy with Walter Russell, who conducts a school of what Mr. Spindle calls esoteric subjects at Waynesburg, Va

Mr. Spindle lives at 84 Central avenue, Newtonville.

Recently the Exposition Press of New York published a volume of his poems of religious inspiration under the title, "Mansions of the Soul."

The volume is 47 pages long. It is the Newton man's first book, although some of the poems in this volume were printed privately a couple of years ago.

The poetry has an easy, pleasant swing — four lines to each verse, four beats to a line — is apparent in most of his work.

He has made his home in Newton for 22 years. He and Mrs. Spindle are parents of two children, a son, David, a U. S. Marine, presently stationed in Okinawa, and a daughter, Edna, who is married to an architect and makes her home in Philadelphia.

Auburndale Club's Art Show Success

The spring art exhibit of the Auburndale Woman's Club attracted an enthusiastic audience and much favorable comment. Exhibits and their exhibitors included:

"The Cove, Fog Scuds, East Wind," by Ruth Draper; "Dawn," by Jane Wyman; "North Shore Sea Scape, Covered Bridge," by Lois Cardell; "Country Scene, Wild Life," by Constance Rust; "Portrait" by Irma Bostwick; "Marine" by R. H. Patterson; "The Sea Gull," by Esma W. Brown; "Eventide," by Alice Morehouse; "The Sea," by Edith Frost; "Modern" by R. E. O'Rourke; "Snow Shadows," by George S. Wattendorf; "Autumn Scene," Mabel Norton; "Mountain, The Sea," by Virginia Wellock; "Connecticut Scene," by Esther Glaswer; "Into the Valley," by Anne Everett.

Ask Support for Recreation Group

American communities are losing the race to increase recreation programs and facilities to keep up with our rapidly increasing population according to the Newton Committee for the National Recreation Association, headed by Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr.

Members of his committee, who are urging monetary support of the national organization, are Miss Tenley Albright of Chestnut Hill; Miss Adelaide B. Ball of Newton; Thomas L. Gill of Auburndale; Robert H. Loomis of West Newton; and Murray E. Sholkin of Newton Highlands.

Stressing children, youth and retired adults as important segments of the population that need special attention, the committee this week appealed to local residents for funds to support the work of the National Recreation Association, which has fostered the recreation movement in America for over 50 years.

Checks may be made out directly to the Association and mailed to Mayor Whitmore at City Hall, Newton Centre.

Auburndale Group In Visits To The Aged

Active on the committee for the sixth annual meeting of the Voluntary Friendly Visitors to the Aged were several Auburndale residents.

Local members attending the meeting last Friday evening at the Boston Observatory were Mrs. Mary King, leader, Mrs Ann O'Donnell, Mrs. Ursula Lyons, the Misses Anita and Sheila O'Donnell, the Misses Patricia, Bernadette, and Carol Lyons, and Miss Carol Dunleavy, all of Auburndale.

The group operates under the direction of Sister Baptista Marie of St. Martha's Catholic Center and visits small, nonsectarian nursing homes in the community.

Attend TB Parley

Local residents, members of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association, attended the annual meeting of the Massachusetts Tuberculosis and Health League held yesterday in Holden, Mass.

Among those at the all-day function were Miss Frances Foley of Auburndale, health educator, and Thomas Browne, of Newtonville, director of rehabilitation, from the Middlesex Group, and Louis Carvelli of Newtonville, seal sale consultant for Massachusetts.

Andrews Fans 19 To Gain 9-3 Win Over Our Lady's

George Andrews set down 19 of Our Lady's batsmen by the strikeout route and yielded only five hits as he drove St. Charles High to within a half game of the Catholic Suburban League lead with a 9-3 victory at Lowell Field.

St. Charles brought their season's record to 6-1 by the important victory. Their only defeat was at the hands of Sacred Heart which had a 7-1 record with the completion of the doings at Lowell Field.

Andrews had only one bad inning. That came in the third when Our Lady's counted two of its three runs. Over the rest of the way he was supreme.

He showed he belongs in the cleanup spot in the batting order, too, by belting two hits which accounted for two runs.

Lefty Gene Dallaire and his reliefer, Bob Valois, weren't extremely overpowered by St. Charles' hitters but both had difficulty finding the plate and gave up 13 walks which kept them consistently in the hole.

Local Auto Injury Claims Soared to $291,000 in '56

Insurance companies paid $291,000 for personal injury claims resulting from accidents to automobiles and trucks garaged in Newton in 1956, an actuary of the State Banking and Insurance Department told a meeting of city department heads.

The actuary, Milton G. McDonald, said a jump on the average claim costing from $400 to $500 not only caused a sharp increase in premiums to Newton motorists but contributed to the shift of the city from Group 4 to Group 5 in the list of communities in the fixing of this year's premium.

Massachusetts, one of the three states with a compulsory insurance, was one of the highest in percentage of claim frequency, according to McDonald. There were 6.4 claims in 1956 for every 100 cars registered in the state. That compared with 2.7 in New Jersey, 2.9 in Rhode Island, 3.1 in Connecticut and 4.5 in New York.

McDonald praised the driver education course at Newton High School. He said that the accident rate among young people who have taken the course is much smaller than among other persons under 25.

City Engineer U. N. Schiavone was chairman of the meeting.

The business meeting will be conducted by Mrs. Richard L. Kenney, president. Following the annual reports, the slate of officers to be elected for the ensuing two year terms will be presented by Miss Dorothy L. Local Missionaries Have Been Assigned To Africa

The Rev. Dr. Gladwyn M. Childs, formerly of Newton, a Congregational Christian missionary in Africa since 1925, returned to his work in Angola, Portuguese West Africa last Saturday, after a year's furlough in the U. S.

He has been making his home at the Walker Missionary Home, 144 Hancock Street, Auburndale.

He flew to Lisbon where he joined Mrs. Childs, who preceded him in April, and they will continue together by boat.

Since 1936 Dr. Childs has served as principal of Currie Institute at Dondi, the only high school expressly for Africans in Portuguese territory. The school is operated jointly by the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, under which he serves, and the United Church of Canada. It trains teachers for many far-flung African villages.

He is an accomplished linguist. Missionary work in Angola requires fluency in both Portuguese, the official tongue, and Umbundu, the language of more than a million Ovimbundu people who live in this sprawling territory larger than California.

Author of "Umbundu Kinship and Character" (Oxford), Dr. Childs has translated "Outline of Church History" and Goodspeed's "Story of the Bible" into Umbundu. He has also translated portions of the Bible into Umbundu.

Mrs. Childs, the former Marguerite Pfaeffli, a native of Lausanne, Switzerland, studied at the University of Lausanne and the University of Coimbra. She has served as teacher, nurse and matron at Currie Institute. She speaks French and German as well as Portuguese and Umbundu.

Dr. and Mrs. Childs met in 1924 in Lisbon while they were attending Portuguese language classes and were married the following year in Switzerland. They have three daughters, all living in the U. S., with whom they visited during their furlough here.

Somebody will be cutting Newton grass with stolen lawnmowers taken from Norumbega Park, Auburndale. The mowers waiting for heavy duty this summer in the tool shed at the park disappeared during a week-end period.

Team Play Saves City $18,000 on N.C. Playground

The Street and Recreation Departments got together recently and decided something should be done about the Newton Centre playground.

Something was and is being done about that important facility. They figure it will cost the city in the vicinity of $7,000. For the same job without the cooperation of the two departments, according to best estimates would run around $25,000.

Improvements at the playground include a new baseball diamond, a levelled outfield area and a better graded and level archery range.

Companion projects included two retaining walls and grading and leveling from street level to footpath level, completed at Crystal Lake, new multiple use play area at Boyd Park, and grading of Cleveland street, West Newton.

The land-taking for the new Mason-Rice School made relocation of the Newton Centre playground archery range imperative. The baseball diamond and infield needed rebuilding and re-grading. Since it was laid out 40 years ago it was never properly graded, according to Recreation Commissioner C. Evan Johson.

Participating in the team play and coordination of the projects were Public Works Director Willard S. Pratt, Commissioner Johnson, Street Commissioner Frank K. Perkins and City Engineer U. S. Schiavone.

The cut and fill came from Cleveland street. It was hauled to Newton Centre playground instead of to the dump where it would have been lost. Surplus material from Crystal Lake was also hauled to the playground for use as fill.

Loam for the various projects had been stockpiled at the Newton Centre playground garden site.

Woman Says She Found $40,000; Hallucinations

Two Newton police officers rushed on Sunday to the home of a woman who called in to say that she had just found $40,000—in cash. The officers discovered the woman was having hallucinations—but had no $40,000.

"Operation Gettysburg" Group Reports Sunday

On Sunday, May 18, from 5 to 8 p.m., the Operation Gettysburg group will report on their trip at the Eliot Church, 474 Centre street, Newton. There will be a hymn-sing led by Ralph Angier and Robert Mueller, a buffet supper, and slides and pictures of the adventure.

What was Operation Gettysburg all about?

Well, on Saturday morning, April 19, in true Paul Revere fashion, 29 young people of high school age from Eliot Congregational, Grace Episcopal and Newton Methodist Churches embarked on an expedition, now known to those concerned as the Saga of the Newton Corner Young People's Fellowship.

The trip, which started as a dream and developed into a reality, was conceived and arranged under the direction of Mrs. Richard B. Salinger, Director of Religious Education at the Eliot Church in Newton.

Under her leadership, the young people mapped out an inspiring bus journey by Greyhound Bus Lines to Valley Forge, Gettysburg, Penn., and Williamsburg, Virginia.

Realizing that such a trip required thought, scheduling, and last but by no means least, money, these dedicated young people loosed a reservoir of talents. Through paper drives, square dances, car washes, work days, bottle drives, talent shows, just to mention a few, they accumulated a total of $1,450.

Fortified with this cash reserve they chartered a bus with a capable driver in the person of David Hawley, bought pup tents, food, camping equipment and secured reservations for camp facilities at several overnight camp sites.

The schedule was arranged to cover the period of April 19 through April 26, taking the group to the historic places mentioned above, and to visit several churches along the way.

Adult leaders included Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Salinger, who shared the leadership in planning the itinerary, camp sites and general supervision with the young people. The other adults were Howard Maxwell, a teacher at the Bigelow Junior High School, Mrs. Janet Forslund, a teacher at the Oak Hill Elementary School and Gordon Christensen, employed with Dennison Manufacturing Company of Framingham.

The purpose of the expedition was to acquaint these young people with more of their country and to foster a spirit of fellowship among themselves. Observers feel that both objectives were reached.

The tales of Marco Polo fade into oblivion as the many adventures and misadventures of these youthful travelers unfold. All the wonders, romance and history of the places visited will long be remembered.

But, perhaps, more than all else will be cherished the feeling of solidarity that grew within the group as the trip and the week progressed. Through all the experiences, riding, playing, singing, eating, sleeping, sight-seeing and worshipping, they became welded into an integrated group.

The young people who went on the trip were John Beeuwkes, Ruth Ingersoll, Priscilla Newall, Amy McAuliffe, Ann Tullis, Ginger Tullis, Donald Dolan, Peter Hale, Jack Swanton, Charles Diman, Diane Marquis, Sandra Douglas, Robert Masow, Philip Currier, Martha Draper, William Horn, Nathan Custer, Diana Moore, Barbara Hunter, Joye Donald, Priscilla Hopkins, Barbara Hayes, Roddy Pratt, Joan Meyer, Sally Holdridge, Pamela Hoyt, Susan Wasson, Heidi Holloway and Judith Fields.

Washington — An average American who has reached 50 years of age may expect to live 25 more years to an age of 75, according to mortality statistics.

Newton Student Will Be Speaker at Commencement

Richard Little Bushman, 40 Carver road, Newton Highlands, now a student at Boston University, has been named by the faculty of the Junior College in Newton to give the student dissertation at its commencement exercises on June 6.

The action of the faculty in picking a student now attending another college came as a surprise; Bushman had completed his requirements for the Associate Degree in January. It was the first time in the College's history that a February graduate has been selected to represent the graduating class on the platform in June, according to Mr. Taylor, Director of the College.

Mr. Bushman attended the college but three semesters after transferring from Clark University. By carrying a heavy course load he finished the sixty hours of work required for the degree a full semester ahead of his fellows. He will receive an Associate in Arts degree. His major field of study has been geography and geology.

About 53 percent of Brazil's people are less than 20 years old.

Newton Youth to Appear for Penn In London Meet

Newton will have a representative in White City Stadium, London, June 14, when a combined Pennsylvania - Cornell track team meets Oxford-Cambridge Universities.

Ready to display his talents to the British will be Carl "Mel" Shine who won the Massachusetts Class "A" championship for Newton High School three years ago. He is now an undergraduate at the University of Pennsylvania and under the tutelage of Coach Ken Doherty has gone a long way in his favorite track event.

He is hailed as the finest shot-putter in Penn track history.

Local Teenagers Held in Waltham

Two Newton teen-agers were apprehended by Waltham police following attacks made on boys ranging in years from 13 to 15 as they were leaving a dance at the Waltham Junior High School.

The Newton boys were charged with drunkenness and when they were arraigned before Judge Paul K. Connolly in Waltham District Court, police asked for a continuance of their cases in order to obtain time for an investigation of the assault and their possible connection with it. Bail for the Newtonites' release was set at $1000.

Their arrest followed a complaint received by Waltham police from a school official who told of the fracas after the dance. They were taken into custody at a point near the school.

To Explore Five Aspects Of Education At PTA Conference

Newton's PTA Council will send up Education Explorer I a week from next Wednesday, when several hundred parents, teachers and other interested Newtonites gather at the Council's seventh annual conference to explore, examine and evaluate current aspects of education here and elsewhere.

The conference will take place at the Warren Junior High School, Washington Street, West Newton on June 4, and will open with dinner. Workshops during the evening will provide opportunity for an exchange of ideas and the answers to questions. The interested public is invited.

Moderated by Dr. Harold B. Gores, a workshop on the "Academically Talented Child" will discuss approaches to this problem outside of Newton. What is being done locally was covered May 12 at the annual meeting of the PTA Council.

Appearing with Dr. Gores will be Harold Howe II, principal of Newton High School, whose wide experience should make his opinions of particular interest. Also from the high school staff will be Miss Margaret Otto and Richard Batchelder. Another panelist is one who is academically talented himself Reinier Beeuwkes, winner of the Westinghouse Scholarship and nationwide acclaim.

Local Carpenters Join in Strike

Several hundred carpenters in the Newton area joined the week-long strike of 5000 Boston carpenters this week. Their walkout, according to Chairman James J. Donovan of the negotiating committee, halted work on all but a few jobs in this section. Those remaining, said Donovan, were on jobs in which employers had signed contracts for a $3.50 per hour scale.

The strikers are seeking a 50-cent hourly increase, spread over a two-year period. Present pay is $3.25.

Newton Officer Meets Nazi He Fought in World War II

A couple of men who would have given a year's pay for the privilege of knocking the other cold about 14 years ago sat down to a pot of tea at Wuerzburg, Germany, the other day and enjoyed every minute of their tete-a-tete.

The men were Roy E. Lindquist, formerly of West Newton, and Baron Friedrich August Von Der Heydt. Lindquist is now a major general in the U. S. army and commands the 3rd Infantry Division in Germany. In 1944, he was a paratroop colonel seeking to break down the last of Nazi resistance in Holland. The Baron at that time commanded a paratroop regiment.

Last time they met was at Nijmegen, Holland. The meeting came at the end of six tough days in which Lindquist and his forces did everything they possibly could to wipe out the Baron and his troops.

At the end of six days the Baron surrendered himself and his troops. He had suffered a broken arm in landing in his 'chute behind the American lines prior to the six-day battle. He led his forces gamely but in

McCormack Now Seen Leading In Race for Attorney General

Boston City Councillor Edward J. McCormack, Jr., nephew of Congressional Leader John W. McCormack, appears to have moved into the lead in the contest for the endorsement for Attorney General at the Democratic pre-primary convention to be held June 20 and 21.

In a sense, the convention battle will be fought almost entirely for prestige and publicity because both McCormack and former Governor's Councillor Endicott (Chub) Peabody have made it plain that they will run in the September primary, irrespective of what happens at the Democratic conclave.

Ex-Representative Joseph D. Ward of Fitchburg obviously would do the same if he should emerge the winner at the convention but hasn't indicated what course of action he would follow if McCormack or Peabody should be the choice of a majority of the delegates who assemble in Boston's Mechanics Building a month from now.

For all practical purposes, however, the pre-primary convention isn't going to settle anything as far as the selection of the Democratic nominee for Attorney General is concerned except to give one of the contenders first place on the ballot and the right to advertise that he was endorsed by the conclave.

Shattuck Resigns As Alderman From Ward 7 District

Benjamin Shattuck of 234 Park street resigned from the Board of Aldermen at its meeting Monday night.

Shattuck, who was reelected to a second term last November, had been serving as an Alderman-at-Large from Ward 7. He explained that he was leaving the board because of the pressure of business.

Under the city charter the vacancy caused by Shattuck's resignation will be filled by the Board of Aldermen.

Aldermanic President Wendell R. Bauckman designated Aldermen William M. Powers and Paul S. Rich, both of whom represent Ward 7, to nominate a successor to Shattuck.

"Clean-Up" Drive Plans Underway In Newton Corner

Newton Corner merchants are ready to launch a comprehensive "Clean-Up Week" in June at which time a strenuous effort will be made to spruce-up all establishments in the area. It will be "Clean-Up, Fresh-Up and Paint-Up" in the district.

Other promotions also were discussed at the meeting held Tuesday evening. It is an all-out movement to make the Newton Corner area an inviting place to trade.

ICC Ruling Permits B&A to Halt Operations on May 31

Indications today were that service on the Highland Branch of the Boston & Albany railroad will be discontinued at the end of next week as a result of the action of the Interstate Commerce Commission in rejecting an appeal by Newton and Brookline officials.

Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., and City Solicitor Matt B. Jones, Jr., are planning a conference with Brookline authorities to determine whether a court fight to overturn the ICC ruling would be feasible and practicable.

Such a step is considered unlikely since a court battle of that nature, which probably would have to be waged in Washington, would be expensive, and the prospects of eventual success would not be bright.

In the event that no court action is taken, Mayor Whitmore will confer with B & A heads in an effort to induce them to provide even curtailed service which would carry passengers, who customarily use the Highland Branch, between the Riverside and Reservoir stations.

Whitmore also will meet with officials of the Middlesex and Boston line to ascertain what shuttle bus service can be established between the Highland Branch stations and the stations on the main B & A line.

He further intends to meet with MTA executives, although there is little likelihood that they will do anything except put additional cars in use on the routes which might be used by persons living on the south side of the city.

While Mayor Whitmore said today that he is planning every possible effort to see that necessary service is provided for persons who now ride the Highland Branch to and from their places of employment, the problems confronting him will not be easily overcome.

B & A spokesmen thus far have not indicated any willingness to provide any service whatever on the Highland

State Supreme Court Rules That Discharge of Martin Was Legal

The two-year fight waged by John D. Martin, seeking to prove that he had been illegally removed by the Newton Board of Aldermen as the city's comptroller in December, 1955, has been ended with a ruling of the State Supreme Court in favor of the city.

Martin, whose home is at 51 Thaxter road, Newton, sought reinstatement to his old post, alleging that the Board of Aldermen had no right to dismiss him without granting a public hearing. The position then paid $7500.

After a series of hearings before Judge Wilfred Paquet, Martin gained a favorable decision in Middlesex Superior Court. Judge Paquet ordered his reinstatement without loss of salary.

Newton officials appealed the finding of Judge Paquet to the Supreme Court. Their petition was denied on a technicality. A new petition was brought before the Supreme Court a year later and it was on this that the ruling in favor of the city was obtained.

The high court's opinion, written by Justice Arthur E. Whittemore, declared the city did not have to give Martin a public hearing since its charter provided that an employee could be dismissed without prior notice or hearing.

Newton Women Is Hurt in Waltham

Mrs. Mary Moran, 23, of 182 California street, Newton, suffered back and leg injuries when a car operated by her husband, Francis A. was in a collision with a machine driven by Forest A. Cook of 68 Grant street, Waltham. The accident occured on Felton street, Waltham.

Local Science Teacher In Thrilling Jet Ride

Willard Harmon, a science teacher at Weeks Junior High School in Newton and a prominent writer in the education field, donned the formidable habilments of the space age and zoomed off to an altitude above 35,000 feet last week.

Teacher Harmon didn't perform the feat a-la-superman; he was shot aloft in a T-33 Jet Trainer piloted by Captain Walter W. Hall, amember of the 58th Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Otis Air Force Base, Mass.

The junior high teacher was given the fast flight upstairs to enable him to relate to his students the experiences of jet age flight.

Mr. Harmon, who resides at 15 Evergreen avenue, Auburndale, expressed appreciation to Captain Hall after the flight. He saw close-up the high altitude indoctrination and escape procedure training provided by the air force.

The intrepid teacher also told the pilot that the experience would provide excellent material for a lecture to his science students.

He Can Be City's "Nattiest Thief"

"Got tux — had to travel." That's the situation in which a thief found himself after reaching into an automobile parked in the space reserved for supermarket patrons in Chestnut Hill. When he withdrew his hand from the depths of the car, it held a natty tuxedo.

Owner of the tux was Sheldon Daly of 19 Tappan road, Wellesley, one-time backfield star for Holy Cross, more recently a prominent lawyer with offices on State street, Boston.

Fire Chief Warns of Extreme Hazard to Amateur 'Rocketeers'

In a single six-week period recently four persons were killed and 86 others were maimed or otherwise seriously injured. All were victims of the amateur rocket rage sweeping the country. Most of them were children.

"Is this science?" asked Fire Chief Frederick A. Perkins, Jr., of Newton in a statement issued today. The statement underscored the widespread contagion of the craze, particularly among young people, and the extreme hazards of unsupervised experiments in the field of science to which the East-West race for rocket supremacy has suddenly directed focus.

"In the six-week period," declared the chief, a 40-year-old science teacher and three boys, aged 17, 15 and 14, met sudden death. Eighty-four children and two adults were maimed or wounded. This is a conservative estimate of what is probably less than half of the total casualties which will be recorded when all reports are in. At the same time hardly a day goes by without the reports of additional tragedies.

These eighty-six rocket injuries were caused by:

Loading rocket or handling fuel	40
Rocket explosion on firing	23
Premature firing of loaded rocket	10
Rocket failed to fire until picked up	7
Hit by flying rocket	4
Other rocket explosions	2

It is interesting to note that five of these injuries occurred to innocent spectators or bystanders. One of these is the touching story of James, a little boy who followed his older brother and a friend to watch. His brother shooed him home, but James sneaked into a nearby grandstand to wait and watch for the wondrous launching.

"The rocket found James and he is reported to have said, 'It didn't even hurt—I just looked down and saw my hand all bleeding and it had a funny feeling.' Doctors hope they can save his fingers. His mother is very incensed. 'They shouldn't sell those dangerous chemicals without a prescription,' she said.

"These late developments in the field of rocketry have brought about a landslide of opinion by active scientists and science students—upholding the study of rocketry as a wonderful thing, but denouncing the firing of rockets as a nonscientific hazard to humanity. In support of their argument that rocket firing is unscientific are these capsule stories of some of the injuries:

"'The rocket didn't go off so he hit with a hammer. It did.'

"'He was just packing the fuel down with a hammer.'

"Most of the victims were in the 13-to-16-year-old groups. Eight were below that age. Fourteen were older.

"The youngest casualty was 4-year-old Kathy who walked out the front door of her home to be struck with a rocket fired by neighborhood boys. It punctured her left side. The next youngster was little 8-year-old Tom who was playing ball with some playmates at a playground. Two teenagers had chosen this playground as their launching site. The rocket exploded on ignition and the 'shrapnel' fractured Tom's skull.

"The oldest injured in the six-week period was 24-year-old Ernest, laboratory technician for a chemical company. He was carrying liquid in a glass jug for use in his 'home' rocket experiments. It blew up in his face and burned much of the flesh off his hands and arms.

"The injuries suffered by the 86 rocketry victims ranged from loss of limbs to cuts and burns. In most instances there were multiple injuries.

"One eye, four hands and 33 fingers were lost. Forty-three disfigurements included 17 partial loss of fingers, 12 hands mangled or partially amputated, seven partial loss of sight, five faces disfigured, and two bodies pierced by rockets.

"One hundred and six minor injuries included 51 rocketeers cut in one or more places, 29 burned, nine eyes injured, nine bones broken. Eight children required surgery to remove shrapnel.

"'After loading the rocket he soldered on the fuse.'

"'He held it while a friend lit it.'

"'The loaded rocket was too long so he cut it in half with a hacksaw.'

"'But I saw another guy do it'."

Service May End--

Branch beyond the end of this month.

MTA officials have declined to start any kind of service on the line until they complete an extensive repair job on the tracks which will take from a year to 18 months. They have turned down suggestions that they maintain service on one set of tracks while working on the others.

Middlesex & Boston authorities are willing to do anything they can to step into the breach, but the heaviest demands already are being made upon their busses during the morning hours when they would be needed to shuttle passengers between the Highland Branch and the main B & A line.

Observers believe that one effect of the interruption of service on the Highland branch will be to force many commuters to change their riding habits and that some of them will not shift back to the MTA when it starts its rapid transit service on the line.

That invariably has been what has happened when there has been a prolonged interruption in service on a public transportation system.

Some commuters even now are in the process of organizing car pools which probably will become a permanent thing.

The vast majority, of course, have not yet decided exactly what they will do a week from Monday, when the Highland Branch probably will be strangely silent, with trains no longer rolling along its tracks.

Mayor Whitmore, incidentally, has been examining the answers 500 commuters made to questionnaires submitted to them. Their replies will be used as a guide in devising whatever arrangement is worked out with the Middlesex & Boston line.

Burglar Leaves Ladder Behind

An enterprising burglar who brought along his own ladder lost a lot of sleep and the ladder, too, due to unforeseen circumstances this week. Police can't restore the lost sleep, of course. They would be delighted to talk things over with him, however, if he wants to call at police headquarters to reclaim the ladder.

The buglar came to the home of Kermit Perlmutter at 50 Gordon road, Waban, at the very unseeming hour of 4:50 a.m. He placed his ladder against a bathroom window, mounted to the top and was about to go through the window to the house when the unforeseen circumstance poped up in the person of Mr. Perlmutter — who appears to be a light sleeper.

Recovering from his surprise he telephoned police about the strange visitor. The burglar meanwhile descended his ladder and fled, abandoning the climbing device right where it stood.

Police combed the area but found no trace of the early riser.

Veteran Groups To Pay Tribute To Departed Men

Newton Veteran organizations will pay tribute to their departed comrades on Sunday when memorial services are conducted at 10:00 a.m. at Temple Shalom, West Newton.

at NHS and to expand the Newton Plan, now in its third year. The plan, a new teaching method developed at NHS, involves a re-arrangement of traditional teacher-pupil groupings, in conjunction with the use of original, specially-created visual supports intended to produce better and more concrete lessons.

Originating in the English department, the Newton Plan will also be tried out in modified forms in the fields of math, science, social studies and business subjects.

Similar grants have been made to two other Greater Boston communities — Lexington, where school personnel are experimenting with team teaching and merit salaries, and Concord, where new methods of teaching foreign languages are being tried out.

Assets of 8 Local Banks Up $10.7 Million in Last Year

Assets of Newton's eight banks were increased $10,700,000 during the past year and now total $212,200,000. Deposits stand at $187,900,000—an increase of $11,300,000 during the preceding 12 months. During the past year the total mortgage holdings of the eight banks were increased $19 million and now aggregate $95,800,000.

Those are a few of the astounding statistics which President Charles E. Smith of the Newton Bankers Association placed before representatives of the eight banks who attended the association's annual meeting at the Brae Burn Country Club.

Loomis Patrick, president of the West Newton Co-operative Bank was elected president of the association for the coming year. Others chosen at the business meeting were Arnold E. Worth, Vice-Treasurer of the Newton Savings Bank, Vice-President of the Association; John J. Cahill, Vice-President of the Newton-Waltham Bank & Trust Company, Treasurer and Robert P. Lurvey, Treasurer of the West Newton Savings Bank re-elected to the office of Secretary.

Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., spoke briefly of civic affairs, particularly the proposed connection of the Massachusetts Turnpike to Boston.

Executive Director Justin Horan of the Newton Chamber of Commerce extended the greetings of his organization and told of the gratifying results of the Chamber's recent drive for members.

Speaker of the evening was Dr. Harold B. Gores, superintendent of schools. Dr. Gores' subject was education—What's the Shooting All About? He stressed that the nation is now knowing a process of educational re-awakening, a phenomenon which occurs about every 30 years.

In his estimation the quality of the school system in a particular city or town reflects the aspirations of the people, therefore, the emphasis is up to the townspeople to a great degree.

Newton members of the Legislature were introduced from the floor.

By JUDY ARNOLD

HIGHLIGHTS . . . Doc Zolli, president of Newton High's Legislature was selected as recipient of the Elks Award for Leadership last week.

The Civics Committe is presently organizing the election of officers for next year for the current junior and senior classes, and the Associate Council. Running for Associate President are Hal Cohen and Larry Yeo; Girls' Vice-President candidates are Mary Ellen DeStephano, Minna Horovitz, Marilyn Saltz, and Lorraine Trifero; running for Secretary are Harlett Hoffman and Nancy Preston; and Judy Arnold and Sue Fowler are vieing for the office of Treasurer. An assembly for the junior class was held on Wednesday, May 14 and one for the sophomores was on May 21. The students running for offices in the Century Class (next year's senior class) are Bill Doyle, Jerry Lamkin, and Chris Lee, for president; Jerry Kenney and Howie Levine for first vice-president; Dave Gilvar, Fred Jarrett, Phyllis Lamkin, and Fred Posner for second vice-president; and Diane Fay and Marcia Kerr for secretary and treasurer, respectively. The results of the elections, which will be held on May 28 or June 4 will be tabulated by an IBM computer machine at Boston University.

Winners of the Newton High Math Tournament announced last week were Peter Wasserman in first and Joel Moore in second place in the geometry II section; Marc Slotnick and John Shaner tied for first place with Alan Copeland and Barry White tieing for second place in the math I-2 contest; winners of the math I-3 and I-4 parts were Julian Prince and Felix Schlaepfer first and second, respectively.

On April 3, Dhiraj Motiwala, an Indian exchange student at the University of Colorado, visited Newton High and spoke to Mr. Sobol's C-Block English class about the Indian philosopher, Gandhi and the Prime Minister, Nehru, both of whom Dhiraj had met personally. The Indian boy was spending his college vacation at the home of Basil Nellos as Basil's brother is a close friend of his.

MERRYMAKER . . . The Student Office Secretaries Club, a newly formed organization at the high school, sponsored its first dance on May 2 at the Countryside School in Newton Highlands. Only members of the club were invited and music for the evening was provided by "The Sandmen."

Last Saturday found the majority of junior students either at Newton High or Boston College in lengthy bout with the College Entrance Examinations. Many students, however, only wrestled with the morning aptitude tests and left all achievement tests until next year. While the juniors were busy beginning the year-long struggle of getting into college, seniors were relaxing and breathing sighs of relief at Senior Night, as the last of college acceptances (and refusals) had come via mail during the past week. The evening marked the last time the seniors will be together as a group and was highlighted by entertainment from almost forty different members of the senior class.

Newton High's fourteenth annual night at "Pops" will be this Saturday night, May 24. That evening, the Boston Symphony Orchestra, with Arthur Fiedler conducting, will present a special program including music from Bernsteins "West Side Story" and Ravel's "Bolero." Ozan Marsh from California will be featured as a piano soloist. Tickets were on sale in the cafeteria during the week of May 12 - May 19.

CLASSICALLY SPEAKING . . . The Niarchos Collection at the Museum of Fine Arts was recently visited by about thirty students from three art classes and one Advanced Standing sophomore English class which was studying art at the time. Three teachers accompanied the trip so that the students could discuss the pictures they had seen. The excursion was made by bus after-school.

At this year's convention of the Massachusetts Junior Classical League, to which Newton High's Latin Club belongs, Hal Cohen was elected president for the ensuing year. Hal is now president of the Latin Club at the high school. At the meeting all students wore togas and those who had made their own costumes participated in a contest for the best outfit. A lengthy business meeting, speeches by several people, a Latin dinner, and get-acquainted hours constituted the major part of the afternoon.

THE OUT-DOOR TYPE . . . A Lacrosse Play Day was held at Wellesley College on April 26 from 9:30 - 1:30 for representatives from fifteen to twenty high schools and colleges, one of which was Newton High. Betty Anderson, Ellie Anderson, Carole Berberian, Joy Buell, Charlotte Conrod, Caryl Crosby, Nancy Hawkes, Marge Gilmartin, Debbie Green, Jo Jepsen, Brenda Mann, Beverly Procter, and Priscilla Watts were the able students who particiapted in the event from Newton High.

AFTER-CLASS . . . The school year is fast approaching its end and the occurrence of many annual end-of-year activities are marking its advent. Seniors have already paid for their caps and gowns for graduation day and soon they will be buying tickets for their families for that memorable occasion which will be held in Dickinson Stadium on June 9. The seniors, who have been enjoying many novel benefits all year, will be given still another gift. In past years, seniors have gone to school until the day of the senior prom which is always the Thursday before graduation. However, this year, they will complete all their work and be dismissed from classes on the Tuesday before commencement. This will give them two days to rest up for the two biggest events of their high school career.

National Honor Society held its induction ceremony at the end of last month. In a dim, solemn atmosphere, Judy Simone, Sandi Douglas, Ken Winston, and Alan Paulson spoke on the four characteristics present in the members of the Honor Society: character, leadership, scholarship, and service. Mr. Howe then formally introduced the entire group to the audience, after which the President of Simmons College, Dr. Parks lectured to the asembly of juniors.

Characteristic also of the close of the school year is the soon-to-be-on-sale Newtonian, the long-awaited yearbook; the anxious cramming for exams that all classes are participating in; the increasing number of convertibles and other means of transportation parked in front of, and on all sides of, the high school; and the final business affairs that all clubs are hurriedly finishing. Several clubs plan outings for their last meeting to leave students with a pleasant memory of their membership in the organization. The Cavalry, Spanish, and Future Teachers of America Club recently sponsored cook-outs and out-of-doors trips for their members.

Twenty players from Needham High journeyed to Newton on April 15 to play a series of badminton games with the Newton girls. Sophomore Beverly Proctor won the five game roll-off with a score of 111 points and Sue Magerer, a junior, was second. The "Garden City Bowladrome" presented gold trophies to the winning girls. The highest scores which have been recorded since March were those of Bev Proctor with 113; Pat Hampe with 110; Marie Thurber's 97; and Judy Hassel's 94.

Tests Show Gain In Milk Quality

Dr. Harry T. Phillips, director of public health, reports an improvement in the quality of milk sold in Newton last month. Bacteria tests were 95 percent satisfactory as compared with 93 percent the previous month. The sanitary inspectors of the city made a total of 319 tests in April to bring the total for the first four months of the year to 1207 compared with 1183 tests made in the corresponding period last year.

Home-Made Sputniks

In only a few weeks another Independence Day will roll around.

A new generation will be looking forward to it for July 4th always means a lot of fun — parades, concerts, all kinds of sports and public pograms. It's really a big day on the calendar of American youth.

Still it will not be like the good old days. Nor will July 5, 1958, for instance, be like the procession of July 5s which are associated with the July 5s of an earlier part of the 20th Century.

Back on those good-old-days July 5s, you picked up a newspaper and they were filled with casualty lists. That was a standard practice of newspapers all over the United States. They had long columns of type about all the people who got hurt on July 4 and they printed the lists of the maimed, the burned and the other injured.

The hospital casualty wards were filled or nearly so. Lots of people lost hands. Some were blinded. Others died.

You see in the good old days folks went to the corner store and bought big bags full of explosives. Skyrockets, giant salutes, torpedoes, firecrackers and other things. Then they spent most of the day shoting them off. And while too many of them were shooting them off accidents occurred.

That's what cost the lives. That's what filled the casualty wards.

Then through most of the country, legislatures started laws and there's hardly a place where you can buy those explosives for home use any more — even on the Night Before the Fourth.

Some people thought it was a big mistake to take the big bang out of July 4. We don't. We think it is kind of nice to have people alive and walking around on July 5.

And speaking of explosives we'd direct your attention to the story you'll find on Page One about what our fire chief thinks of the new "big-bang" craze that folks call "rocket-making" or some such.

It is a thought-provoking story. Our fire chief lets you draw your own conclusions. It's easy to see he has a purpose in mind in directing public attention to the dangers of home-made rockets.

Most of those who are engaged in that new scientficplay are children and teen-agers. We can't afford to lose them. We can't afford to have them made blind for life. We can't afford to have them maimed.

Those youngsters have the right idea. They want to help us catch up and pass the Russians in the field of the Sputnik.

They'll do that, too.

However, if they are going to do it, a little adult supervision is required.

Parents would do well to heed the implied warnings contained in the fire chief's excellent report on what happened to a lot of young scientists during a brief six-week period recently.

As a matter of fact, McCormack gave very serious thought to the possibility of bypassing the convention entirely, just as State Treasurer John F. Kennedy is doing.

Two years ago, McCormack made a losing fight at the convention. He trailed on the first two ballots and then withdrew from the contest, leaving the field to Peabody and Ward.

His bid at that conclave lost a little of its steam when an attempt was made to induce him to shift into the fight for Lieutenant Governor. While McCormack resisted the endeavor to change his objective, it nevertheless caused some confusion.

In the subsequent primary McCormack found that the one argument levelled against him was that he had been turned down by the convention. He resolved not to let himself be placed in that predicament again.

A survey by McCormack and his top campaign supporters, however, has convinced them that he can win at next month's convention and that he has a good chance of gaining the endorsement on the first ballot.

Consequently, McCormack will submit himself to the convention as a candidate, and he and his lieutenants are now working to line up additional support at the conclave.

Neutral observers, who have tried to estimate the prospective convention strength of McCormack, Ward and Peabody, have concluded that McCormack has substantially more support than he did at this time two years ago.

That may be due partly to the belief of practical Democratic politicians that McCormack would prevail in the September primary, regardless of what happens at Mechanics Building.

A number of influential Democratic legislators, who two years ago were backing ex-Representative Ward, have shifted to McCormack and apparently have carried a substantial number of votes with them.

It may be significant that most of the Democratic leaders, who are closest to Governor Furcolo, are supporting McCormack. That is interpreted to mean that Furcolo wants a Boston Democrat with an active political organization on the State ticket with him and that McCormack is the only one who fills that bill.

At this time it appears that McCormack is in front in the races for the convention endorsement for Attorney General, that Peabody is second and that Ward, the winner at the 1956 conclave, is running back in third position.

Peabody was nosed out at the convention two years ago, but he did not go on to contest in the primary, as McCormack did. The final fight for the right to run as the Democratic candidate for Attorney General will be waged next September, with McCormack and Peabody two of the contenders and Ward a possibility as a third.

Hurley May Get Convention Nod To Oppose Treasurer Kennedy

Boston School Committeeman George F. Hurley seems to be headed for the Democraitc endorsement for State Treasurer at the June convention, but he also is headed for a September primary battle with Treasurer John F. Kennedy who intends to ignore the convention.

Nothing is certain in politics, of course, but running against candidates named John F. Kennedy has not exactly been a rewarding political experience in Massachusetts.

Ban on "Mattress" Delegates May Stir Democratic Discord

An ironic aspect to the action of Democratic State Committee Chairman John M. Lynch in ruling out Speaker John F. Thompson and a number of other so-called "mattress" delegates to the Democratic pre-primary State convention is that back in August, 1956, there was some behind-the-scenes maneuvering in Chicago to make Lynch a delegate to the Democratic national convention.

Lynch was not elected a delegate by the voters. But after he was chosen chairman of the Democratic State Committee following a bruising, knock-down battle with William H. Burke, Jr., of Hatfield, the Bay State's Democratic chieftains figured out a way to make him one.

So when the Massachusetts delegation assembled in Chicago prior to the balloting for the Presidential and Vice Presidential candidates, one of its first actions was to vote Lynch in as a delegate in place of some person who was absent.

One or two delegates were disposed to challenge the validity of the move, but they were persuaded to remain silent in the interest of harmony.

Now Lynch, whose job is supposed to be to promote Democratic unity, has touched off a sharp controversy by disqualifying a number of prominent Democrats who had been designated as delegates from districts in which they do not reside.

Speaker Thompson had been disposed to challenge Democratic State Senate Leader John E. Powers for the right to serve as convention chairman.

But if Lynch gave the heave-ho to the mattress delegates in order to prevent a fight between Powers and Thompson for the convention chairmanship, it was tantamount to cutting off a man's arm to cure a pimple.

Powers has the votes to withstand a challenge by Thompson or anyone else. He has the support of Senator John F. Kennedy, Mayor John B. Hynes and Congressional Leader John W. McCormack. And he probably could win on his own without their help.

In the face of that setup it is unlikely Thompson would have engaged in a test of strength with Powers. Of course, the fact is that a convention chairman need not necessarily be a delegate. GOP Congressional Leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr., has presided over a couple of Republican conventions without being a delegate to them.

Meadowbrook Will Mark Association With French School

Meadowbrook Junior High School will sponsor "Meadowbrook and Escarbotin Day" next Wednesday.

Escarbotin is a school in France. An exchange of ideas, information and material is carried on between a number of the pupils at that school and children at Newton's Meadowbrook School who are taking French.

The students of these two schools have been brought closer together by the exchanging of art work, individual booklets, and gifts. Meadowbrook sent tc its affiliated school a folder containing pictures, school songs, and the winning essays in a contest entitled "What Meadowbrook Means to Me."

Many Meadowbrook students have pen pals in Escarbotin. This year is Escarbotin's fiftieth anniversary. A thirty-five foot hand-painted greeting card is being sent to that school from Meadowbrook to help celebrate this occasion.

The theme of "Meadowbrook and Escarbotin Day" is French provincial life. Tables will be set outside of Meadowbrook in a decorative manner to make the atmosphere like the cafes in Paris. French folk-dancing and singing will add to the fun. Students from France now studying in the United States will be invited to attend.

Mason-Rice PTA Enjoys Concert

A concert by the 23 piece school orchestra that was termed "outstanding" by the 450 proud parents in the audience climaxed the Mason-Rice P.T.A. year recently.

With George A. Napoli conducting, the young musicians offered a program of selections by Haydn, Strauss and other composers. Highlight of the concert was a Bach minuet played by a flute ensemble.

Beginning pupils, mostly fourth-graders, demonstrated how an elementary school orchestra sounds at its inception, and the older students performed with distinction their various parts.

Walter P. Muther, PTA president for the past two years, turned the gavel over to Ernest F. Dietz, new president. Muther was presented with a gift in appreciation of his fine work in fulfilling the presidency.

Following open house in all classrooms, coffee was served with Mrs. Howard Shuman in charge and a cake sale was held under the direction of Mrs. Ann Waters.

Edward F. McLaughlin, Jr. Enters Race For Congress

EDWARD F. M'LAUGHLIN JR.

City Councillor Edward F. McLaughlin, Jr., of Jamaica Plain, one of Boston's most respected public leaders, today announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 10th congressional district.

McLaughlin declared that he had decided to bid for a seat in Congress after a careful canvass convinced him that he has a real opportunity to shift the 10th district into the Democratic column for the first time.

Now serving his third term in Boston's municipal government, McLaughlin has an excellent educational background and an outstanding war record. He has been considered as potential mayoralty timber.

He graduated from Boston Latin School, Dartmouth College, the Tuck School of Business Administration at Dartmouth and Northeastern University Law School. In private life he is a well-known and active practising attorney.

During World War II he served with U. S. Senator John F. Kennedy in the famous Solomon Islands PT-boat squadron. A strong friendship between Kennedy and McLaughlin developed during their wartime service, and McLaughlin has been active in Kennedy's campaigns.

McLaughlin comes by his interest in public affairs naturally, for his father, the late Fire Commissioner Edward F. McLaughlin, was a well-known public figure in Boston for many years.

Before seeking election to the City Council, McLaughlin served for three years as Assistant United States Attorney, investigating and prosecuting many top crime cases for the federal government.

Active in veteran affairs, McLaughlin has been past commander of the Lt. Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr., Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Judge Advocate of the Readville Memorial Post of the American Legion, and a member of the Disabled American Veterans.

He also is a member of the Knights of Columbus, the Dartmouth College Alumni Association, a past president of the Northeastern University Law School Alumni and a member of the Boston Bar Association, the Massachusetts Bar Association and the Federal Bar.

Councillor McLaughlin has been commended on numerous occasions for his service in the Boston City Council. He is married and the father of four children.

"After very careful deliberation, I have decided to become a candidate for Congress in the 10th Massachusetts district," Councillor McLaughlin declared today.

"I will seek the Democratic nomination in the September primary and, if nominated then, will make the most energetic possible campaign next fall to shift this district into the Democratic column.

"My decision to stand for election to Congress was influenced in a large degree by the fact that it offers an outstanding opportunity for public service," McLaughlin said.

"I fully realize that no Democrat ever has been elected from the 10th congressional district as it is presently constituted.

"A canvass of the district, however, has led me to the belief that a Democratic candidate who conducted an energetic campaign and placed clearly before the people the basic issues could be elected. It is my intention to wage such a campaign.

"There is a very broad difference between my political philosophy and that of the Congressman who presently represents the 10th district. I am convinced that my philosophy more closely reflects the beliefs and opinions of a majority of the voters in that district," McLaughlin asserted.

The 10th district includes the city of Newton, the town of Brookline and Wards 4, 5, 10, 19, 20 and 21 of Boston.

Submit Plan for Revitalizing Newton Centre Business Area

A plan for revitalizing the business section of Newton Centre, utilizing the obsolete Mason and Rice School areas, received unanimous approval from the Board of Directors of the Newton Chamber of Commerce this week.

The report, drafted and submitted by a special subcommittee which made a year-long study of the project, proposed that the city make the property available for sale or lease to private enterprise.

The committee, headed by Murray Sholkin and Earl P. Stevenson, recommended that the city give preference to a development comprised of a convertible office - apartment building on the site of the Mason School.

Tentative plans prepared without charge by architect Albert M. Kreider, a member of the committee, call for a seven-story building, se well back from the street, with provisions for retail establishments or service firms at ground level.

A suggestion was contained in the report that the city ensure, through deed restrictions, that the development meet high standards of quality and design.

Care was exercised in the study to specify that the property should be used for a purpose which does not duplicate the present commercial activity in the Newton Centre area.

The plan, in fact, is an amplification of a proposal for reuse of the area submitted last year by the Newton Centre Businessman's Association.

Upon the adoption of the report by the Chamber of Commerce, plans were made to turn the results of the study over to Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., and the Board of Aldermen.

Chamber of Commerce President Colburn predicted that the report will open the way for a revitalization of the Newton Centre business district, increase the general prosperity of the section and provide a tax return for the city.

Members of the committe who made the study were Murray Sholkin, president of New England Advertising; Earl P. Stevenson, chairman of the board of Arthur D. Little, Inc.; Carl Alford of Alford Drug Company; Justin Horan, Executive Director of the Newton Chamber of Commerce; William A. W. Krebs, Jr., Arthur D. Little, Inc.; Albert M. Kreider, Newton architect; J. N. Manning, Jr. of Sawyer Tower Company; Bernard Roberts, President of St. Paul Construction; Alfred Rochette, former president of the Newton Centre Businessmen's Association; and Mr. Colburn, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Joel A. Kozol served as legal counsel for the committee. All members of the committee served without compensation.

Newton Takes GBI Overall Track Title by Edging Rindge

Newton High School's track team—showing beautiful all-around balance— rolled up an impressive 61 2/3 points to take the overall championship of the three classes at the annual Greater Boston Interscholastic meet at White Stadium. Rindge was second with 56, followed in order by Malden, 35; Watertown, 31, and Melrose, 29⅓.

Malden won the senior division with 22 points. Newton tied for second in that division with Rindge, with 20 points. Newton won the junior division with 30 2-3 points, with Rindge second at 21. Newton placed sixth in the sophomore-freshman division which was won by Melrose.

Feature of the meet was a record smashing high jump of 6 feet 8 1-4 inches by Rindge's incomparable John Thomas. Martin Beckwith of Newton placed second to Thomas in this event.

Newton senior winner was Jim Yancey, who leaped 22 feet 7 inches to set a new broad jump record; Larry Smith took the 100-yard dash for juniors with a mark of 10.2s; Vern Rollins won the low hurdle for juniors and Fran Woodbridge the junior mile. The junior medley relay went to a Newton team made up of Jerry Kenny, Larry Smith, Harry Cohen and Jim Gilford.

Dallaire Fans 11 As O.L. Defeats St. Charles 8-5

Our Lady's High gathered four runs in the fifth inning of a Catholic Suburban League game with St. Charles of Waltham at Cabot Park and went on to grind out an 8-5 victory.

The win, second in a row over the Waltham team, practically eliminated St. Charles from flag contention.

Gene Dallaire held the Waltham boys to five hits and struck out 11, but his wildness kept him in trouble. He yielded 13 bases on balls before leaving the box in the ninth inning. After Gene had walked the first two men up in the ninth, Jack Moore came in to halt Dick Simmons started for St. Charles.

St. Charles and was charged with the loss.

Nagle's Double In 12th Gives Sacred Heart 7-6 Win

Ozzie McConathy scampered all the way home from second base on a double by Bob Nangle to bring Sacred High a 7-6 win over St. Patrick's in a 12-inning, 4½-hour Catholic Suburban League game at Newton Centre Playground.

From the first half of the 11th inning, the game had been played under official protest by the St. Pats. Coach Don Costello claimed Umpire Bill O'Connell had ruled improperly in permitting a St. Pat baserunner to advance only from second to third on an overthrow of first base.

If the runner had been permitted to go all the way to the counting station St. Pat's would have been returned the winner.

The victory gave Sacred Heart a full game lead over St. Charles in the title race.

In addition to producing the game-winning blow—a belt to deep centre—Bob Nangle went all the way for the victors. Through the mid-innings he was bothered quite a bit by control trouble but as the game dragged along he regained his control while maintaining his stuff.

He shut out the opposition with three hits over the last six frames.

McConathy drew a pass from the service of Paul Sullivan, who also went all the way for St. Pat's. He took second when Jim Milford sacrificed neatly. He only had to wait there while Jim Fitzpatrick drew a meaningless walk and Nangle came up to end the marathon affair.

Watertown Gets Overwhelmed In Tiger Blitz 22-2

Watertown High provided plenty of batting practice for the league-leading Newton Tigers in what was labeled a Suburban League baseball game at Newton High Field. Final score was 22-2 in favor of the locals and it was just that sort of ball game.

Besides giving the Tigers a lot of practice in running the bases the lop-sided win enabled Newton to stay one game ahead over pressing Cambridge Latin in the Suburban title race.

Bases on balls (15) and some loose play in the field aided in running up the big score. Dave Craig, who worked six innings got credit for the win. Charlie Snider traveled the last three. Howie Ferguson's boys enjoyed the biggest inning of the year in the seventh when they came up with 11 runs, sending 16 batsmen to the plate during the blitz.

However, the only home run of the game didn't eventuate until the following inning when Rennue Russo, reserve third baseman picked out a pitch he liked and drove it high and far for four bases and three runs.

The win gave Newton a record of 8-1 for the Suburban League contention up to that point.

Sacred Heart Of Cambridge Takes Our Lady's 4-2

Our Lady's High could get men on the bases but it couldn't turn the base-runners into run-scorers in a game with Sacred Heart of Cambridge at Cabot Park. The Newton boys collected 11 hits to Sacred Heart's 7. On top of that the Our Lady batters were recipients of 8 walks.

Neverthless the final score was 4-2 in favor of the Cantabs.

In the 4th Our Lady's filled the bases with only one out. They got one run eventually, but the habit of leaving men on bases stuck through the remainder of the game.

In the ninth the local boys had men on second and third but Jack Moore worked his way out of the jam without allowing a score.

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9

Runs batted in, Anciello, Mullo, Cadigan, Cosgrove, Dalicandro; errors, Dykeman, Hill, Cadigan, Cosgrove, Hart; two base hit, Hill; stolen bases, Tracey, Hill, Cadigan, Dykeman; double plays by Dalicandro, Leonard, Hart; base on balls by Moore 8, Mullo 8; struck out by Moore 5, Mullo 6; hit by pitched ball, McQuarrie 2.

Local Youth May Win Vacations at Williams Camp

Local boys between the ages of 8 and 17 are being invited to participate in a contest sponsored by the White Brothers Milk Co., which will be of special interest to baseball-minded youngsters.

Six lucky boys will win four-week vacations at the Ted Williams Camp in Lakeville where they will be taught baseball fundamentals by such competent experts as Eddie Pellagrini, former Red Sox player, and "Wos" Caldwell, Ted Williams' high school coach. As an extra gift each camper will receive a Ted Williams fishing kit.

Fifty other winning youngsters will spend a day at the camp with Ted Williams, pose for pictures with him and get autographed baseballs from him. Fifty more will attend a game at Fenway Park as Ted's guests, have their pictures taken with him and get autographed baseballs from him.

To compete in the contest which ends June 30, a boy must write a letter in 25 words or less, starting: "I like White Brothers milk because . . . " Each letter must be accompanied by 10 White Brothers bottle caps.

He began the current season with a heave of 55 feet, 6½ inches, second longest of any collegian this spring. It was good enough to give him a win at the Quantico Relays. Likewise it proved to be the longest toss ever made by a Penn shot-putter.

He did better than 56 feet in the important Penn-Cornell-Harvard triangular meet early this month.

He is a student in the Towne Scientific School at Penn and places his name regularly on the deans list with an average of better than 4.5 out of a perfect 5.0.

Carl is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melville C. Shine of Newton Center. A brother, Selwyn, is a second year student at Boston College Law School, and a younger brother, Everett, is in the ninth grade at Week Junior High.

At 21 he stands six feet 4½ inches and weighs 230 pounds.

Junior Olympics In June To Feature Young Talent

A galaxy of young track and field talent will compete in a variety of events at the AAU Junior Olympics to be sponsored by the energetic members of the Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce at Dickinson Stadium on Saturday, June 14th.

Getting underway at 1 p.m., youngsters in the 12-13 and 14-15 age brackets will set off a gala program of dashes, jumps, shot puts and other traditional track and field competition.

Awards will be presented to three top winners in the event. Applications may be obtained from gym teachers in the schools.

Events in the 12-13 age bracket will be: 50-yard dash, 75-yard dash, standing broad-jump, running broadjump, running high jump, and softball throw.

Youngsters in the 14-15 age group will take part in the following events: 100 - yard dash, 200-yard dash, 400-yard run, running broadjump, running high jump, 8-pound shot put and 440-relay.

Craig Blanks Arlington 2-0

Lefty Dave Craig limited Arlington High School to two scant hits as he hurled a brilliant 2-0 shutout this week. The victory gave the Tigers nine wins and only one loss in league competition.

It was the seventh win of the season for Craig and his second shutout. He blanked Cambridge Latin earlier.

Arlington hurler Dave (Shorty) Gilpatrick held the Newton batsmen to six hits, but one of them was a home run by Craig, and another was a single by Cliff Haysunas, scoring Dave Seeley who had walked and stolen second.

Board Says "No" to Night Tennis For Newton Centre Club's Courts

In the cool of the evening, when the stars begin to twinkle and the moon bathes Newton in its most effulgent glow there'll be no tennis on the courts of the Newton Squash and Tennis Club off Chestnut terrace, Newton Centre. Not this summer, at least.

If non-tennis-minded neighbors think they'll be able to go to sleep of a hot summer night to the rhythmic thud of racket strings and fresh white balls, they'll have to give up the idea. If winging mosquitoes can't supply the good-night music, they'll just have to start counting sheep.

The N. S. and T. Club thought sort of nice in the summer evenings ahead. The club sought a bit of night tenness would be permission to install the necessary flood lights.

The Planning Board and Aldermanic Claims and Rules Committee heard the pros and the cons of night tennis at a public hearing. The committee said, "No."

Holtz Will Not Run This Year

Jackson J. Holtz of Brookline, Democratic nominee for Congress in the 10th congressional district in both the 1954 and 1956 elections, announced this week that he will not be a candidate this year.

In his statement disclosing his intention of remaining out of the coming congressional contest, Holtz said:

"I have been twice honored by the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 10th congressional district.

"For the response shown to me in each instance, I am deeply grateful. But is is more than personal. It is a clear demonstration that in the hearts and minds of large numbers of our citizens, the principles for which I fought are their principles.

"The closeness of victory was a new experience in the 10th district where, previously, Republican success was taken for granted.

"But the fight continues — for principles are not self-executing.

"There are others this year who will be candidates for the Democratic nomination for Congress. Each of them is competent and imbued with a deep sense of dedication. I have decided to yield in favor of them.

"I will not be a candidate for the office of Congress this year.

"I will, however, lend my every effort in the support of the Democratic nominee.

"We have ample reason to believe that the victory which was so close in the last two elections will be ours in the next."

'Member When They Merely Borrowed 'Em?

There was a time when standard procedure in case you needed a lawn mower was to borrow the next door-neighbor's. It was the neighborly way of doing it. Times have changed. At least for some people. Few days ago someone stole the big grass cutter used at Norumbega Park. The other day someone walked off with the non-motorized lawn mower of Anthony Uminian of 20 Thomas street, West Newton, as he worked on a Waban lawn. The thief—apparently of the neat type—also took a grass catcher. Uminian placed his total loss at $39.45.

Peace Assured Says Lecturer Here on Sunday

Assurance of enduring peace, health, and harmony can be gained through spiritual understanding of God, said Florence Middaugh of Los Angeles, in a public lecture here last Sunday.

"Perhaps there is a greater longing for stability and peace in the hearts of mankind today than ever before, because men are awakening to realize that their cherished hopes are not impossible of accomplishment," Miss Middaugh declared.

A member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, she spoke in the church edifice, 391 Walnut street, Newtonville under the auspices of First Church of Christ Scientist, Newton.

The subject of her lecture was "Christian Science: The Science of the Teachings of Christ Jesus." Louis Steinberg, First Reader, introduced her.

Humanity's greatest need, the lecturer said, is renewed trust in God and a clearer comprehension of the teachings of the Master, Christ Jesus.

THE APRIL & MAY LOAM SALE
is still going on. All orders received in May will be protected at the $2.75 per cu. yd. price, delivered within 12 miles of our farm in Medway. The unusually rainy weather has hampered our deliveries. NOW deliveries are speeding up. May we explain a fact? If we had loam in a pile and could deliver it in a dry condition now, after all this cold rainy and cloudy weather, you can well imagine this same "sandy loam" spread comparatively thin on your lawn would dry out much more quickly; as soon as we got a few hot dry days you would undoubtedly have a burnt-out lawn.
We put in a lawn on a 1-acre lot around our farm house 9 years ago and did not then or ever add a drop of water or an ounce of fertilizer. It has never burnt out and still grows beautifully.

In charge of reservations are: Mrs. Joseph Bernstein and Mrs. Abraham Sandberg. The committee comprises Rubin Brown, Irving Cohen, Myron Idelson, Sol Kaufman, Edward Shade, Hyman (John) Silver, Mrs. Carl Winograd, Mrs. Samuel Silver, and Paul Goldstein, president of the Temple.

Newton Man On Harvard College Fund Committee

President Nathan M. Pusey of Harvard University announces the appointment of Everett P. Grossman, of 51 Pickwick road, West Newton, as a member of the Greater Boston general appeal committee of a program for Harvard College.

The program aims to enlist support of the 12,000 Harvard College alumni in Greater Boston in raising $82,500,000 to strengthen under-graduate education at Harvard.

EVERETT P. GROSSMAN

Mr. Grossman, who received the A.B. degree from Harvard College in 1946, is Vice President of L. Grossman Sons, Inc., Quincy. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Massachusetts Retail Lumber Dealers Association, a member of the Retail Advisory Council of the Brand Names Foundation, and a member of the Board of Trustees of the Temple Emanuel in Newton.

The Angier PTA will hold its annual fair on the school grounds from 10:30 a. m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday. Activities will include pony rides, grab bags and various games of skill. In addition, there will be a ferris wheel, airplane rides and fire engine rides. Refreshments will be available for all, and a cake and plant sale will be held for parents. In the event of rain, the fair will be conducted indoors.

Boys Rescued Off Rock in Charles

Three boys, whose canoe became helpless in the fast current of Charles River after they lost an oar, were obliged to take refuge on a three-foot rock in the middle of the river.

They gained the safety of the rock just before they were faced with the hazard of being swept over a 30-foot waterfall at the New England Silk Mill dam in Newton Upper Falls. They were trapped on the rock an hour before their plight was discovered.

The boys — finally rescued by MDC police and Newton firefighter — were John Cummings of Hyde Park, son of a Boston police officer; Frederick Berzon, of Roxbury, and Thomas Gleason of Roslindale.

They had hired the canoe in Dedham and paddled along the river to the Needham-Dedham line when they lost one of their paddles.

'Pitch' For Nurses

Mrs. Worthing West and Miss Cynthia Coombs of the Newton - Wellesley Hospital School of Nursing tried their salesmanship talents for the school's never-ending search for new students before the Newton Rotary Club. They asked the listening Rotarians to consider themselves high school sophomores of the feminine gender and went right ahead with their "pitch."

Mrs. West described the recruiting procedure for applicants to the school and Miss Coombs showed slides depicting the activities of the student nurses from their enrollment to graduation.

Local Boy Scouts Take Part In Big Spring Camporee

Over three hundred Scouts and Scouters of Norumbega Council Inc., Boy Scouts of America from Newton, Wellesley and Weston took part in the annual spring camporee held at Nobscot Reservation in Framingham this past weekend.

The Scouts arrived after lunch on Saturday and after passing by the judges along the trail set up their campsites by patrols at assigned sites. The boys immediately began making their camps comfortable and prepared to begin work on the evening meal.

After supper everyone present went to the Campwide Campfire which was conducted by Hank Bergson, of Newton.

Church services were held at the reservation for Scouts of all faiths.

This year for the first time, a separate camporee was held for explorers. Explorer Advisor of Post 87, Wellesley, James Adam, headed up this section of the Camporee.

Chief Judge for the weekend was Gustav Hagen of Newton. He was assisted by a large and able staff of Scouters.

Cooking for the judges was done by Amos Kent and Jack Starkweather of Newton and Bob Suddath of Wellesley Hills. Kitchen assistants were from the Order of the Arrow.

The Tap-Out for membership in the Order of the Arrow (an Honor Camping Society) was held at Ellis Land Field at Nobscot on Saturday night.

Juvenile Problems Discussed by Panel

Agreeing that juvenile problems emanate from the home and local environment, Dr. Harold Gores, superintendent of Newton Schools; Father George O'Brien, C.Y.O.; Norman E. Moore, of the Attorney General's office, participated in a recent panel discussion at the Corpus Christi Parish Hall. Moderator for the evening was Charles Feeley, juvenile officer of the Newton Police Department.

Greetings were extended by the Rev. John L. Johnson, pastor of the Corpus Christi Church. The entire discussion was re-broadcast over Radio Station WBZ.

Plan Extensive European Visit

Harry W. Abels, of 331 Kenrick street, president of Colstone Foods, Inc., restaurant chain in Greater Boston, plans an extensive trip to Europe during June and the first week in July.

His party will include his wife, Dorothy, his daughter, Susan, and his brother, Chilsohm. The foursome will leave on the Queen Elizabeth May 28 and will return on the same ship, leaving Cherbourg on July 8.

Their itinerary will include visits to London, the World's Fair at Brussels, to Germany, Wiesbaden, Switzerland, Venice, Rome, the Riviera, and Paris as well as other spots in France.

Confirmation Services at Temple Friday

The Jewish community group of Wellesley will hold first confirmation services tomorrow evening at the Universalist Church, Weston road, at 8:30 p.m.

Rabbi Joseph Klein, of Temple Emanuel, Worcester, will officiate, and will be assisted by the group choir and organist.

The following girls will be confirmed: Michele Bern, Jean Cohen, Jane Gardner, Anita Levy, Virginia Nanes, Carol Prombain, and Jane Sloane. Each girl will receive a certificate and Bible inscribed with the date of the sacred event.

An Oneg Shabat reception will follow the confirmation

$25,000 Blaze At Oak Hill Home

Fire caused $25,000 damage at the home of Hyman Snider, 72 Sharpe road, Oak Hill, before it was brought under control in a hard, two-hour fight. The house was newly built, had been occupied only since March.

The cause was not determined by Fire Chief Frederick A. Perkins, Jr. It was discovered by Mrs. Snider, who telephoned the alarm and then assisted other members of the family to the street.

Driven out with her were her daughter, Mrs. Shirley Halpin, and her grandchildren, Ella Davis. 7, and Richard Davis, 5.

Council Of Churches Holds Dinner-Meeting On Monday

The annual dinner meeting of the Newton Council of Churches, comprised of 24 individual churches and the Newton Y.M.C.A., will be held at the Y.M.C.A. on Monday evening, May 26th at 6:30 p.m.

Featured will be a program with an accent on youth and the tools with which the church can equip youth for Christian living. Featured will be the opportunities the church offers by way of supporting youth groups in their grappling with numerous basic issues, and the relationship of the United Church Youth of the Council in supplying vital aid to individual youth groups and by presenting resources available for local use, materials, ideas, and personnel.

The meeting will be divided into five groups of workshops in areas of interest to the young people, each under outstanding leadership, after which the entire assembly will come together for a period of report and exchange of ideas.

The workshops and the leadership for each will be as follows:

International Relations: Carmeta Clark, Youth Associate in International Affairs — represents the United Christian Youth at the United Nations.

Integration: Westbrook McPherson, executive director of the Greater Boston Urban League, a capable leader in the area of de-segregation.

Inter-Group Dynamics: Attorney Jason Silverman, director of Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith New England Regional Office, with dynamic concepts of inter-group relations.

Christian Choices, vocation, occupations: William Overholt, working with students at Boston University, executive secretary of B. U. Student Christian Association.

Christian Dimensions of Sex: Douglas Krumbhaar, formerly practicing physician in Brookline, now minister of the Episcopal Church, Canon at St. Paul's Cathedral. He and Mrs. Krumbhaar team together to give leadership in a thoughtful approach to love, courtship, engagement and marriage.

Election of officers to lead the Newton Council of Churches in the united efforts for the forthcoming year will be held.

The meeting is open to delegates of all member churches, their pastors, and others interested in the widespread activities of the organization. Reservations for this annual dinner meeting may be made through Rev. Sydney Adams, executive secretary, at LA 7-1245.

Gets Scholarship At Sacred Heart

James Fitzpatrick, 18-year old senior at the Sacred Heart School in Newton Centre is the first recipient of the Wilfred S. Crean memorial scholarship set up in memory of a former Sacred Heart student who died last year.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Fitzpatrick of 167 Derby street, West Newton, he was congratulated at recent ceremonies by Most Rev. Eric F. MacKenzie, pastor of Sacred Heart Church, for having won the award.

The program also included music by the regional chorus of the Knights of Columbus, directed by Joseph Dempsy and by Chi Rho members accompanied at the piano by Paul Regan.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Mary Winn Bullock, girls guidance director at Walpole High School, who spoke on "Great Moments In The Parish."

Charges Toll Road Bill Is Filled With "Booby Traps"

The bill designed to give the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority land-taking power for the extension of the East-West toll road through Newton is filled with legal "booby traps." On top of that it would grant the Authority powers the State now gives none of its own agencies.

Those allegations were made at a State House hearing on the Authority's bill by Attorney Sidney S. Von Loesecke of Newton. Von Loesecke is chairman of the legal committee of the Citizens' Toll Road Committee, appointed by Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr.

The Newton lawyer attacked the bill for both what it says and what it doesn't say.

It is most significant, he pointed out that in the measure, the Authority seeks the right to re-locate some of the B&A's main tracks As it is now worded, Von Loesecke claimed, the bill would permit the Authority to block through streets, which cross the toll road's right-of-way, without even a public hearing. This section of the bill, he argued, grants "dictatorial powers." "The decision of the Authority is final," he said. "It need hold no hearing. Its plans may remain secret until it acts.

"This goes," the attorney continued, "far beyond the powers granted the Department of Public Works, which cannot lay out and construct a State highway until after a public hearing."

..He said that Newton residents may not be able to make claims for property loss values due to the blocking off of roads. He declared it was only fair that this type of damage be spelled out in the bill.

"It is entirely possible," he warned, "that the Authority may have in mind the blocking of such streets as Harvard st., Church st., and similar streets where there would be alternate crossings not far away."

Subsequent to the hearing, Philip H. Kitfield, chief engineer for the Turnpike Authority, denied that the Authority would be able to block off streets without the State Department of Public Works' approval. As far as hearings are concerned, Kitfield said, "I'm in favor of them."

Another point raised by Von Loesecke concerned from whom the aggrieved residents might seek for the redress of their damages. He asserted the bill, as it is now written, leaves in doubt whom the injured property owner might sue. He pointed out that the bill provides that the Authority be given the power to take land in the name of the city through which the road passes.

"If a property owner wants to make damage claims, does he sue the city or does he sue the Authority?" he asked.

Von Loesecke charged under terms of the bill the Authority would be permitted to relocate railroad tracks without approval of the State Department of Public Utilities. "This power," he asserted, "has never been enjoyed by any State department or any municipality in the State."

Another question raised by Von Loesecke was that of taxes. He said that serious doubt would exist under the terms of the bill as to whether the city could tax re-located property of the railroad. Under the proposed new relationship, he argued, the railroad might become non-taxable for that property which the Authority takes over.

He pointed out that property taken by the Turnpike Authority is exempt from taxation. On the other hand, the bill gives the Authority the right to take and relocate railroad property and then lease it back to the railroads, he observed.

The State Supreme Court, the lawyer pointed out, has already decided that the taking of land for gasoline stations, restaurants and buildings for the housing of equipment is properly within the Authority's scope. Would the relocated railroad tracks come within the same category as gasoline stations? he asked. The bill, on this point, he charged, is not clear.

CHAIRMAN of the New England Region Jewish Congress membership round-up is S. Sidney Stoneman, of Newton, who announces that the drive will get under way next month. Mr. Stoneman is well known locally for his activities in communal and educational projects.

Big Parade, Solemn Services To Mark City's Memorial Day

NEPHEWS OF A HERO are Martin and John L. Caulfield, front, who live on Caulfield Circle in Oak Hill Park, named in honor of their uncle. They will take part in special ceremonies at the Memorial School tomorrow morning honoring Newton war dead. Fifth-graders Herbert Aarons and Lois Covner, rear, helped to plan the program.

May 30 a Very Special Day For Memorial School Pupils

By PHYLLIS B. NEWTON

Boys and girls at the Memorial School in Oak Hill Park have more opportunity and more reason than most youngsters to understand the meaning of Memorial Day and the significance of a Gold Star.

They go to a school dedicated to the memory of Newton servicemen who died in World War II, and they live in homes built for Newton veterans who returned from that war.

To mark the tenth anniversary of Oak Hill Park, where 33 streets are named for Newton heroes who gave their lives for their country, pupils at the Memorial School have planned special commemorative ceremonies which will be held tomorrow morning (Thursday).

Honored guests will be the families of the soldiers, sailors, fliers and Marines for whom the streets of the Park are named.

Hand-blocked invitations, designed by Margie Barkin and Pam McGrath, have been sent to them by pupils in Mrs. Jean M. Trotter's fifth grade. They have also been responsible for

'Humor' Man Robbedof$80

Eliot C. Lederman, 19, of Merrill road, Newton Centre, an ice cream vendor, was felled by a "rabbit punch" as he reached into his truck to fill an order for a cone for a husky six-footer on Dedham street, near the Charles River Country Club. The phony ice cream purchaser fled with the contents of Lederman's automatic change-maker, about $80. The cash represented two days' receipts. Lederman was taken to Newton-Wellesley Hospital for treatment.

Miss Dow has taught for the past 30 years at the Mason School in Newton Centre. The reception will be held at 8 p.m. in the Boynton Room of the First Church in Newton, Congregational, at 115 Centre St., Newton Centre.

The reception committee includes Mrs. Stewart Holmes, Mrs. E. Philip Levine, Mrs. Abbott Spear, Mrs. Lester Hershon, Mrs. Walter Muther, and Mrs. Charles DuMoulin. Anyone who wishes to attend should notify Mrs. Holmes at DE 2-4148 or Mrs. Levine at BI 4-0704.

Signal Honor For Grace Whitmore

Mrs. Grace C. Whitmore, member of the Newton School Committee, was named School Committee "Woman of the Year" at the annual conference of the Massachusetts Association of School Committees held in Lenox, Mass., last week-end.

The signal recognition came to the West Newton woman, now serving her fourth year on the Newton board, presumably for her distinguished work as chairman of the Eastern Mass. Council For School Television.

Mrs. Whitmore, who lives at 31 Sterling Street, is presently traveling in Europe with her family and is expected home June 9.

Her colleague on the Newton board, Mrs. Genevieve Oncley was asked to accept the award for her, and paid tribute to the remarkable devotion Mrs. Whitmore had shown to the affairs of the Newton board, while organizing the Greater Boston committee of over 70 communities which set up in-school TV and made it a working reality as of last March.

Unitarians Elect Rev. Dr. Greeley

Rev. Dr. Dana McLean Greeley of Boston was elected president of the American Unitarian Association on Monday, defeating Rev. Dr. Ernest Kuebler of West Newton by 103 votes out of over 1500 ballots cast.

The voting was held to elect a successor to the late Rev. Dr. Frederick May Eliot, who died recently, and was the largest vote ever cast in such an election. 642 ballots were cast by mail.

Dr. Greeley has been minister of the Arlington Street Church since 1935. Dr. Kuebler is administrator of the Council of Liberal Churches (Universalist-Unitarian) and is director of the council's Division of Education.

Centre Resident Held in $2500 in License Probe

Julius Tate, 45, of 46 Homer street, Newton Centre, was one of the seven men arrested in connection with the alleged operation of a racket involving the sale of automobile drivers' licenses to unqualified persons.

Tate operates the Vets Auto School, Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge. He and three other driving school operators and two alleged "contact" men were arraigned in courts in Boston, Roxbury and Chelsea. He was freed in $2500 bail.

Police probers claimed that the school operators worked with Frederick B. Smith, 59, of Watertown, former Registry of Motor Vehicles examiner in obtaining licenses for drivers who did not qualify for them.

Investigators indicated that other arrests would be made in the case. Smith, a career State official, until his recent discharge at the registry was held in bail of $20,000.

Supt. O'Neill Heads Post Office DAV Banquet

No Weasel Words For Aldermanic Rejects in Future

The Newton Board of Aldermen — the present board at least — appears a little more positive and given less to "weasel words — if its action on the type of label which should be attached to petitions and resolutions given the heave-ho is any criterion.

Previously, measures rejected by the board have been "given leave to withdraw." That was a nice way of putting it. In the future the label for measures dropped in the waste basket will read — "petition denied."

In legislative parlance the phrases mean exactly the same thing—"nothing doing."

Senator Saltonstall, Mayor Whitmore, Holiday Orators

"In accordance with the rules and regulations of the Grand Army of the Republic, Friday 30 May, 1958, will be observed as Memorial Day."

Thus reads the general order—dutifully signed by the Chief of Staff, the Chief Marshal and the Adjutant General.

But no veteran of the Grand Army of the Republic will be in the line of march on Friday as revered tribute is paid to the memory of the men who fought and died in the wars back through the sweep of the years so their nation might live.

The familiar old blue uniforms; the comfortable, yet dignified hats have been laid aside—forever. No venerable hand will be raised to answer the cheers of the spectators along route of the parade; nor lifted in salute once again to a flag that had been well-served in one of the most bloody of all wars.

The thinning ranks have vanished as the last of the veterans of the War between the States have marched off into the misty valleys, answering the last great bugle call of all.

In the parading lines on Friday, stepping along to the beat of drums, will be the veterans of two world wars, fought a generation apart.

Once again Newton will observe Memorial Day in impressively solemn fashion.

Once again an old artilleryman will be the chief of staff of the parade which will travel over Newton streets to the cemetery.

Once again living veterans of other wars will gather in Newton Cemetery at the GAR Memorial and the Soldiers' Lot and pay earnest tribute to their fallen comrades who have been called to the Valhalla of those who serve their country.

Newton Corner Firms Plan Big Promotions

Merchants in the Newton Corner-Nonantum area are ready to set in motion a number of lively and comprehensive promotion campaigns to boost business in the neighborhood and to add to its attractiveness through a clean-up and paint-up campaign. June is the month for these activiies, June 1 through 7 for the "Cleanup" and June 12, 13 and 14 for "Newton Corner Days."

Heading the committee for a gala "Newton Corner Days" is Burt Miller who has blue-printed one of the most original and money-saving "Shop Now and Save" promotions in Newton history. The committee to handle the clean-up, paint-up and spruce-up drive is headed by Mrs. Warren B. Manhard.

Chairman Miller is emphatic in his prediction that the "Newton Corner Days" will make merchandising history in this city.

Automobile dealers in the district are planning a unique promotion to go along with the bargain events in the retail stores. The dealers contemplate

All merchants are vigorously supporting the "Cleanup Campaign. Mrs. Manhard's committee includes Dana W. Gleason, Richard Ware, Bay Clair and lining up their best values along the streets in a great outdoor demonstration of car values.

School Committee Seeks Replacement for Gores

Members of the Newton School Committe have started a search for an outstanding educator to replace Superintendent of Schools Harold B. Gores who is leaving the Newton School system to accept a $30,000-a-year position with the Ford Foundation.

Gores has been appointed the first president of the Educational Facilities Laboratory which was established recently by the Ford Foundation which provided $4,500,000 for its operation.

He will assume the full-time direction of the Laboratory Sept. 1.

His appointment to the Ford Foundation position was reported exclusively in The Graphic two weeks ago.

One of the nation's foremost secondary school educators, Gores has been superintendent of Newton's public schools for the past nine years.

As school superintendent he receives $15,000 a year, the same salary as Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., but it was due

Special Bus Service Planned For Highland Branch Riders

Service on the Highland Branch of the Boston & Albany railroad will come to an end this week.

Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., after conferring with Brookline officials, decided against waging any further legal battle to keep the line in operation.

The prospect of expanding a large amount of public funds on a court fight, with little likelihood of eventual success, influenced the Mayor's decision.

Arrangements have been made by the Mayor with oficials of the Middlesex & Boston system to provide special bus service in the morning and at night for commuters who will shift from the Highland Branch to the main line of the B.-& A.

Two busses will operate an express service between Waban Square and Newton Corner to connect with the trains leaving the latter station at 7:47 and 8:25 in the morning. The same two busses will meet the trains arriving at the Newton Corner station at 5:21 and 5:30 in the afternoon.

The fare for the express shuttle bus service will be 20 cents. The busses will operate only from Monday through Friday, starting next Monday. No service will be provided on Saturdays.

Following are the schedules for the special morning and evening busses:

Democratic Primary Battle Underway in Curtis District

Even though Congressman Laurence Curtis has won three successive elections, a lively battle is shaping up for the right to challenge him next November.

Opponents for the Democratic nomination in the 10th congressional district are Boston City Councillor Edward F. McLaughlin, Jr., of Jamaica Plain and John L. Saltonstall, Jr., of Brookline.

It may seem somewhat strange to have a Saltonstall contesting for Democratic votes in a Democratic primary, particularly when he happens to be a second-cousin of the senior Senator from Massachusetts.

Yet, that is the case. Indeed, John L. Saltonstall, Jr., is an ultra-liberal Democrat, while Councillor McLaughlin is a more conservative member of his party, somewhat along the stamp of Senator John F. Kennedy.

McLaughlin had been regarded as a prospective candidate for Mayor next year. But he has decided to delay any mayoralty bid until some time in the future and set his political bombsights on a seat in Congress for the present.

He has proved himself a good vote-getter in three City Council primaries and three final elections, winning his first fight in face of the fact that a second McLaughlin was listed on the ballot.

Saltonstall is more an unknown political quantity, although he has been active in numerous Democratic campaigns. His vote-pulling ability is untested.

A well known name is supposed to be quite an advantage in Massachusetts elections. John L. Saltonstall, Jr., certainly has one. Whether it will be an asset or a handicap in a Democratic primary, however, is something only time will determine.

McLaughlin and Saltonstall already are campaigning at a fast tempo even though their primary target date is still more than three months away.

Pupils Choose New Setting For Warren Senior Prom

Fluffy cotton clouds and a cardboard moon and stars created the atmosphere of a beautiful summer evening in the Auburndale Club Friday night where 200 Warren Junior High students enjoyed a memorable senior prom.

Seeking a more informal and less academic setting for their dance, the committee of ninth graders decided to hold the prom at the Auburndale Club instead of in the Warren gym as in the past.

Judy Gores headed a student committee comprising Sue Draisin, Peter Sahlin and Elliot Sherman, who arranged the affair.

Others who worked for the success of the party were parents Mrs. Jack Benne t and Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Asaff, and John H. Newton, faculty adviser.

Gallagher was co-chairman of the Democratic presidential campaign in Newton in 1956 and has actively supported Democratic candidates for the past 20 years During that time he has been a member of the Ward and City Committees of Newton and has been active in fund-raising for Democratic Governors.

Max Shrier. Chairman Miller's committee includes, Alex Castoldi, Miss Phyllis Clark and Edmund Shea.

Chairman Miller and his committee are preparing a drive which will enlist the support of all merchants in the area to bring to the attention of the buying public one of the all-star value events in Newton history.

Special advertising featuring rock-bottom prices on all merchandise is planned. The Graphic will carry a special section on this event.

The campaign is intended to spotlight the advantages of shopping in the Newton Corner district and to familiarize the entire Newton city-wide area with the values awaiting discriminating shoppers in the "Corners" district, stores, shops and auto dealers.

Chairman Miller is intent on launching one of the greatest bargain carnivals in city history as he and his committee formulate plans for the event.

Merchants also are taking action on the parking problem. A committee has been formed to study the matter. Chairmaned by Lloyd C. Greene, it comprises Alex Castoldi and Albert Sinoyan.

Advance planning is already underway for the 1958 Christmas lighting for the area. A committee to handle this is chairmaned by Harold Moye, and comprises Max Shrier, Al Spiegel and William K. Goodbar.

Definitely, the merchants in the Newton Corner area are on the march to make the area the neatest, nattiest and busiest in all the Newtons. The promotions are being organized in conjunction with the Newton Chamber of Commerce.

Members of Miss Barbara J. Langdon's class searched city records, old newspapers, and the 'phone book to determine the whereabouts of any close kin living in the Newton area.

They also studied the histories of each of the young men whose names have become a part of their everyday lives. They learned where they lived, where they went to school, how they fought, and how they met their death.

The fifth-graders have begun to think of these men as real people, and were disturbed to learn that one soldier had no parents living when he entered the service.

They have come to realize the heritage of their own unique community and their school, and are anxious to meet the Gold Star families who gave so much.

Not all of these families have been located, and Principal Olive F. Eldridge extends a sincere invitation to relatives of the following honored dead to attend tomorrow's program at 11:15 a.m.

Navy: Francis Fredette, Mienholp Kappius, William Kerr, Russell Keller, Francis McCarthy and Hugh Van Roosen.

Air Corps: George Avery, Harvey Cibel, John S. Hay, William Nightingale, William Osborn, Frederic Timson, and Paul Van Wart.

Marines: Sarkie Chinian, Robert Hanson, Robert Shumaker, Frederick O'Donnell, and William Spiers.

These were not the only valiant Newton men killed in the war. The tragic total was over 200. But these names were chosen in an impartial drawing by the Mayor, and given to th OHP roadways in fitting tribute to all.

The roll of honor, which will be read by pupils in Miss Landon's room, includes privates and commanders, flyers and foot-saldiers — men woh died at Corregidor, in France on D-Day, in the Battle of the Bulge, and in Japan prison camps.

Tomorrow's entire program has been created by the fifth-grades, with Herbert Aarons, Bruce D'Ercole, Jane Bloom, Donna M. Delahanty, and Constance Roud doing the major part of the research and writing.

All 30 members of Miss Langdon's class, 14 of whom have lived in OHP since it opened in 1948, will take part in the impressive exercises.

In the past, several of the servicemen's families have presented shrubs, rosebushes and flowering trees to the residents of their son's street, beautifying the once barren landscape.

A tour of the Park itself provides one of the finest tributes to Newton veterans families possible. Its burgeoning trees, well-kept lawns, and variety of architecture are a far cry from the raw, rutted roads and barrack-like boxes that sprang up in the Newton Centre gravel pit in the late 40's.

Considered, studied and built in record time to relieve the severe housing shortage that followed the war, the park is considered one of the outstanding developments of its kind in the country.

Instead of degenerating into a run-down "project," it has blossomed into a neighborhood of which any city would be proud.

A spirit of comradeship permeates the 412 families who live there, and their community efforts has resulted in many benefits to the area, as well as in an active social program.

Focus of many of their interests is the Oak Hill Park Association, which decorates each of the Park's 33 street signs with flags for Memorial Day.

The plaque dedicating Memorial School to Newton veterans as "a living memorial for the education of future citizens" will take on real meaning as each new generation comes to understand the serious significance of the May 30 observance.

DOWN-EAST YANKEE, with world-girdling tendencies, Carl deSuze, of early-morning WBZ fame, takes over the General Store at Watertown Federal Savings and Loan Association for the first two weeks in June.

ALFRED R. GUZZI

Guzzi Candidate For Legislature

Former Alderman Alfred R. Guzzi today announced himself a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the House of Representatives in the 4th Middlesex district which takes in Wards 1, 2, 3 and 7 of Newton.

Guzzi, an active Democratic worker all his life, and a member of the Ward 2 Democratic committee, lives at 9 Joseph road, Newtonville .

He served three terms on the Board of Aldermen, two under former Mayor Sinclair Weeks, now Secretary of Commerce, and one under the late Mayor Edwin O. Childs.

At the time of his first election to the Aldermanic Board, Guzzi was the youngest man ever to serve on that body as well as the first city employee and the first person of Italian descent.

While an Alderman, Guzzi served on the committees on franchises and licenses, legislation, and street traffic and had a perfect attendance at all meetings and hearings.

A home-owner and lifelong resident of Newton, Guzzi is married and the father of two sons. His oldest boy, Alfred R. Jr., 19, is serving in the Marine Corps. A second son, Paul H., 15, is a sophomore at Newton High School.

Guzzi graduated in 1927 from Newton High School where he attained scholastic honors and was treasurer of his class. He studied law at Suffolk University.

He has been an active worker in the Community Fund, Red Cross, polio and cancer fund drives and was treasurer of the Troop 13 Boy Scout Nobscot Cabin Building Fund drive in Newton.

Guzzi is a former president of the Franklin School PTA and last year served on a fact finding committee of parents of F.A. Day Jr. High School pupils. He is also a member of the Newtonville Improvement Association, a past vice president of the Newton Citizens Club, past secretary and member of the board of directors of the Newton Catholic Club. Last month Guzzi was elected a Trustee for five years in the Newton Lodge of Elks where he has been a member for 27 years.

Guzzi is now serving in his eleventh year as president of the Foremen & Supervisors Union No. 911 affiliated with the A. F. of L., and is serving in his third year as president of the Newton City Hall Associates. He is a member and secretary of Selective Service Board No. 115 to which post he was appointed by former President Harry S. Truman, and the late Gov. Paul A. Dever, in 1951.

In the last City election in November 1957, Mr. Guzzi missed election as Alderman at Large from Ward 2 by a scant 49 votes.

Both Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., and School Committee Chairman Haskell Freedman paid high tribute to Superintendent Gores who has played a major part in giving Newton one of the best public school systems in the United States.

"Newton will suffer a great loss with the departure of Dr. Gores, who has done an outstanding job for the schools of this city," Freedman declared.

"He has helped to make our schools nationally recognized as among the finest in the United States," Freedman continued. "While the School Committee is pleased at the honor that has come to him, each of us realizes that his place will not be easy to fill."

Chairman Freedman said that as part of the effort to find the best possible man to succeed Gores letters have been sent to a dozen graduate schools of education throughout the nation informing them of the vacancy and asking them for recommendations for it.

In addition, Freedman disclosed, four or five top-level educators also have been invited to submit the names of possible candidates for the Newton post.

A special subcommittee headed by Freedman and including School Committeeman Francis P. Frazier and Genevieve Oncley has been named to screen applications and candidates and to report its findings to the full board.

Although a national search is being made to pick Gores' successor, Freedman said that members of the Newton school system also will be given the same consideration as other candidates for the position.

Mayor Whitmore said he was not surprised that Gores' outstanding abilities and his accomplishments in Newton's school system have been recognized.

"We congratulate both the Laboratory and Dr. Gores," the Mayor asserted. "On the other hand, his resignation, after 23 years of outstanding service to Newton, will leave a vacancy which will be most difficult to fill since men of Dr. Gores' stature are few and far between."

The Mayor observed that Dr. Gores' influence will have a lasting effect upon the city's school system. He expressed his personal and official well wishes to the school head.

Superintendent Gores has told members of the School Committee that he will wind up his duties in Newton about Aug. 1, will take a month's vacation and then assume his new position Sept. 1.

He plans to move to the community in the New York area which has the best high school. His daughter, Judy, will be graduated next month from the Warren Junior High School and is to enter high school in the fall.

His son, Richard, is a member of this year's graduating class at Newton High School and will enter the Rhode Island School of Design in September to become an industrial engineer.

Dr. Gores joined the Newton school system as a mathematics teacher and guidance counsellor in 1935, coming here from Lexington. He became administrative assistant and secretary to the School Committee in 1939 and in 1943 was made assistant superintendent of schools. He was named superintendent in 1949.

As president of the newly created Educational Facilities Laboratory, Dr. Gores will work for improved school and college facilities.

The organization he wil head will serve as an information clearing house, making its findings available to school and college administrators, architects, builders and citizens' groups.

The main function of the Laboratory, according to the announcement reporting his appointment, are:

"To bring together what is known about efficient and effective school and college facilities and to disseminate such information;

"To promote and sponsor research on school building design, construction, equipment, and other facilities and to make such research generally available; and

"To locate promising experimental school and college building projects and programs which may serve as the basis for discovering more about the school facilities of the future."

Car Stolen from Newton Man in Boston Fatality

The automobile of Constantine Nellos, 133 Eastbourne road, Newton Centre, stolen in Roxbury, crashed into the automobile of Paul W. Etter, 28 of Cambridge, as police pursued it in Boston's Back Bay. Etter, a Museum of Fine Arts staff member was killed, his wife and two friends of the couple were injured.

The alleged thieves, Perley Veal, 23, who, police say, was driving and Frederick White, 21, both of Boston, were also hospitalized. The stolen car plowed head-on into Etter's machine at Brookline avenue, Park drive and Boylston street, Back Bay.

Coming Back Monday?

Friday is a holiday. It's a grand holiday—one in which a grateful nation pays tribute to those wno've died to preserve it. It's a holiday which marks more definitely than the almanac—the end of spring and the arrival of summer.

This year it's a "three-day holiday." When it's over and another workday for millions of Americans comes around it will be June.

Millions of Americans will be returning to work on the morning of Monday, June 2. Some will be tired because they'll overdo their holiday. Some will be sunburned. Most will be looking ahead to the next big holiday on the calendar—July 4.

A very large number—far too many—won't be coming back to work on Monday morning. Many of these will be dead. Others will lay between white sheets on hospital cots.

Today, those absentees—both the permanent and the temporary—can't foresee they won't be going back to work on Monday morning.

That's because automobile accidents aren't planned ahead.

Automobile accidents happen in split seconds. Someone is careless—someone is reckless—someone's in a hurry—someone loves speed—someone thinks laws are made for others. There's a sudden crash. There's the shriek of torn and outraged metal. Then death stands over the scene.

Every Memorial Day has its special remembrance of the Civil War. That was one of the most bloody of wars.

More Americans will be killed in the three-day holiday ahead than in most of the battles of that terrible conflict.

That's why hundreds of Americans happily planning their holiday respite today won't be coming back to work when the first Monday in June rolls around.

It's a shocking prediction to contemplate. Yet, it's as accurate as the forecast of the tides or the rise of the moon.

Will you be one of those who won't be coming back to a work-day world when the first Monday in June appears on the calendar?

Port Authority Seen Doomed If Callahan Bill Is Enacted

It looks as if Chairman William F. Callahan of the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority will deal the death blow to the Massachusetts Port Authority which has been struggling to get into operation ever since it was created during the administration of former Governor Christian A. Herter.

Chairman Callahan, who is as persuasive and convincing a gentleman as ever rode a Cadillac to the crest of Beacon Hill, has endeavored to cast himself in the role of disinterested bystander to the controversy on whether the Port Authority should be reactivated or kept out of business.

The fact, of course, is that the Port Authority will be dead if a bill which would authorize Callahan to take over the Sumner traffic tunnel running between East Boston and Boston proper and to build a second parallel tube, is enacted into law.

Some supporters of the Callahan-tunnel bill may dispute that assertion. But the members of the Port Authority must realize they could never carry out the bright and promising program envisioned when they were appointed unless they had two or three basically profitable operations such as the Sumner tunnel and the Mystic River bridge.

The probability is that the Callahan bill, with all its glaring weaknesses, will be adopted and signed by Governor Furcolo because Chairman Callahan wields greater influence with the members of the State Legislature than any other person in Massachusetts, or for that matter, in the United States.

He had enough influence to keep the Democratic-controlled House of Representatives in session until 3:40 in the morning when his bill was finally enacted. The probability is that he'll have the political weight to push the measure through the Republican-dominated Senate even though its course there will be much slower.

In the end, however, Chairman Callahan will prevail, and the Governor and the law-makers of the State will vest with him the right to take over the Sumner tunnel and to build a second tube to run parallel to it.

Strangely enough, there is nothing in Callahan's record which stamps him as any miracle man at getting things done or which seemingly warrants the extraordinary powers the Legislature so readily hands over to him.

It's true that he had a good record at building roads while he was State commissioner of public works. So have other people who have held the job. Callahan by no means was in a class by himself in that regard.

Where Callahan is a miracle man at getting things done is in the legislative chambers and committee rooms on Beacon Hill. There he is in a class by himself.

What's the explanation for his phenomenal success in persuading the Legislature to pass the bills he desires enacted?

One answer is that he has tremendous patronage power. A second is that he does favors — the kind of favors legislators want done.

He places relatives of the law-makers on his payroll, and he parcels out a variety of other favors to the members of the House and Senate.

Other persons do and have done the same thing. Very few, if any, however, have done it with the same effectiveness as Callahan.

There is no question whatever that Commissioner Callahan has much more influence with the members of the Legislature than does either Governor Furcolo or State Public Works Commissioner Anthony DiNatale, both of whom possess greater patronage power than Callahan but don't use it nearly as effectively.

A number of persons are convinced that if Furcolo had called in Callahan last year and charged him with the responsibility for obtaining the passage of a sales tax, the assignment would have been carried out, and a sales tax would be on the statute books of the Commonwealth today.

So there is scant doubt in the minds of Beacon Hill observers that the bill authorizing Callahan to take over the Sumner traffic tunnel and build a second tunnel will be given the stamp of approval within the next few weeks by the Republican Senate.

Even now there is talk in the State House corridors about a proposal to vest Callahan with the power to erect the new State office building which is to be a part of the contemplated government centre in Boston's Scollay Square.

That undoubtedly will be followed by a move to allow him to build the underground garage beneath Boston Common.

Right now, however, it seems likely that the Massachusetts Port Authority — which business and civic leaders felt would mean so much to the future of the State — will go down the drain. Some people may not yet realize it, but Chairman Callahan already has pulled the plug in preparation for its descent.

Years of Experience As Parents Have Prepared Council Panelists

As parents of a total of 32 children ranging in age from toddlers to teen-agers, panelists at the forthcoming Newton PTA conference feel well qualified to discuss such topics as "Why PTA?" and "The Guidance Program in the Junior High School."

The experienced mothers and fathers who will examine the PTA question include newly-elected PTA Council President Irving J. Helman; past president, Edward C. Uehlein; council secretary, Mrs. Roger Hamilton, and Frank Zervas, principal of the Beethoven School.

Melvin J. Dangel, another past president as well as a parent will moderate, and Mrs. Herbert Rubin, council executive secretary, will act as recorder.

With Mrs. William A. W. Krebs, Jr., as moderator, members of the guidance and counseling committee will discuss the second installment of a three part survey of the guidance program in the Newton schools. Dr. Joel W. Bloom will act as recorder and Mrs. Louis S. Chase, Mrs. Bernard Rosser, Mrs. Milton Schneider and Mrs. George Rubin will be panelists.

Although "merely parents," the members of this group have had a variety of experience to help them present their subject in detail. One was a college psychological consultant for three years; others were college majors in psychology. Three have been chairmen of child-study groups in recent years and several have worked on additional surveys.

Their service on PTA boards in various capacities from president on down total 21 years. Another 33 years have been devoted to other parent services such as home room mothers or Cub Scout and Girl Scout leaders. Dr. Bloom holds his doctorate in education and is the director of a boys' camp.

Tigers Roar Through A Successful Sports Year

By MARK BERENSON

Whether you measure success in terms of winning percentage or how one plays the game, every one would have to call Newton High a winning team in all sports.

Coach Bud Hawkes' squad got the ball rolling as the football team, captained by Charlie Snider, crushed Gloucester, 39-0, in the first scrimmage of the year, and swamped Chelsea by a score of 33-6 in the first regular season game.

Sparked by the two-platoon quarterbacking of Charlie Vento and Buddy Russo (next year's captain-elect), the unequalled running of Manny Connerney, the fine all-around work of Jimmy Yancey (named Newtonite Sportsman of the Year), the great line play of Perkins, Maxcey, Haywood, and Callendar, and the pass-receiving of "Vee" Rollins, the Tigers remained undefeated until the last two games of the season, when they were overcome by arch-rivals Waltham (27-7) and Brookline (34-6).

ONE OF THE REASONS for Newton High's outstanding sports record this year has been Charlie Snider's performance in baseball and football. He captained the N.H.S. eleven, and managed to maintain a high academic standing as well.

Also contributing to an otherwise highly successful year on the gridiron were Rennie Russo, Dick Moran, "Doc" Zolli, and Pete Thompson.

Captained by Jimmy Leonard, Coach Jack Hall's pucksters fought to second place tie in regular season competition. It was two defensemen who provided the victory margin, as Dave Craig and Dave Blomberg scored to defeat Belmont, 2-1.

Certainly a factor in the Hallmen's not reaching a higher place in the standings was the loss of Ronny O'Laughlin for a good part of the season. Hampered by a football injury, Ron got a late start, and was reinjured later in the season.

Those helping to bring the Tigers to victory were Pete Thompson, Martin Tormey, Billy Markey, Snooks Kelly, and Joe Reingold, along with those already mentioned.

The highlight of the indoor track season was of course the astounding high-jumping of John Thomas of Rindge Technical. Once defeated by Rindge in the Met League Meet for their first loss in three years, the Boilermakers came back to win in the BAA Meet at the Boston Garden.

Marty Beckwith set his own personal record of 6 ft. 4 in., but was overshadowed by Thomas as he was in the hurdles. Larry Smith and Jim Yancey were our most consistent one-two punch in the longer distances. Gary Sneerson and Dick Abrams were top point-getters in the shot-put.

Even though Ed Poskitt's basketball team wasn't as successful in the win-loss column as Newton's other teams, there are a few things which should be made clear before they can be evaluated. Overtime losses to Phillips Exeter and Cambridge, two, three, and four-point losses to Watertown, Brockton, and Arlington didn't make the boys any too happy.

But once again, it must be noted that Dave Louis, the high-scoring forward who was expected to be the key of the hoopsters' success was out of action for most of the season with a kidney ailment.

The highlight of the season, however, was a squeaking victory over Brookline, 45-43, on Dwight Rideout's last second jump shot, followed by a resounding victory over the same club in the last game of the season. Assisting Captain Bob Calvert on the court were Charlie Vento, "Vee" Rollins, and Neil Driscoll.

Currently performing on the NHS baseball diamond are Mr. Ferguson's boys. Led by Captain Ron O'Laughlin, they seem destined for a high spot in the playoffs,. and. possibly — very possibly — the state championship. Sparked by Buddy Russo, Dave Craig, Charlie Snider, Manny Connerney, Jimmy Leonard, and Dave Seely, the Tigers seem sure to be a threat in a very close race.

Mr. Boyle's trackmen, captained by Scotty Brent are off again to a great start. Having won the GBI Meet and the St. John's Relays, the Boilermakers (at press time) seem a good bet to come out as state champs. Marty Beckwith, Jimmy Yancey, Mike Huberman, Vin Cooney, Larry Smith, Phil Johnson, Fran Woodbridge, and Jim Gifford have been the stars on this great track team.

Katy Gets Copy Out Along With Appendix

This is the second annual Newton High School page, prepared as a tribute to the graduating class.

Special credit goes to journalism student Katy O'Donnell, who wrote and edited the bulk of the material although hospitalized with appendicitis shortly before the deadline.

A pretty and popular senior, Kathleen lives in Newton Lower Falls and has been secretary of her class as well as an editor of the Newtonite.

Status Wins "Extras" for NHS Seniors

At a recent senior class meeting, Asst. Principal George Neilson announced another senior class "extra".

"Seniors will be released from classes this year two days earlier than in previous years," he said. "Wrereas seniors formerly attended classes up until graduation, they will now do so only on Monday and Tuesday of graduation week. The graduation rehearsal will be held on Wednesday morning, the Senior Prom Thursday night and no senior will have to attend school on Thursday or Friday."

This is one of three announcements issued by the administration this year. The first decree gave seniors who had a study block the past period of the day the right to leave school for the remainder of the afternoon.

This change was beneficial to students who had other early afternoon commitments. During the course of the year, seniors were allowed to arrive at school at 10:20 on Wednesday mornings when Sophomore and Juniors were taking a series of tests. A few added hours of sleep were the overall gain for most students.

Through these various changes on the part of the administration, more responsibility to manage their own time has been given to the class of '58, making the eventful year more meaningful for seniors.

Pair Win Bronze Medals For Creative Writing

The annual Heintzelman bronze medals were presented to Minda Tessler of Newton Centre and Thomas Martin of Newtonville for their outstanding creative work in English.

The two M. Roland Heintzelman Memorial Awards have been presented by the Heintzelman Fund Trustees for outstanding work done by one junior and one senior preferably, or two seniors and juniors if there is not a contribution to merit a prize from each class.

Minda's essay was entitled "Agnosticism: The Lonely Courage" and the other prize-winning essay written by Tom Martin, was entitled "Oasis".

The program held during S-Block, featured three main points — the introduction which explained the Memorial and Commemorative Medal, the presentation of the medals and a special highlighting address by Arthur Ballet entitled "The Dramatic World".

Mr. Ballet is on leave from the University of Minnesota where he is the director of the theatre department in the graduate school.

The award medal designed to commemorate the teacher-spirit of a former NHS faculty member and reward student efforts was designed by the deceased man's father, Mr. Arthur Heintzelman, curator of prints at the Boston Public Library. His son last taught at NHS in May, 1955.

David Sachar represented the alumni trustees in the ceremony and Miss Emily Burdon represented the faculty trustees.

Time for Signing Yearbooks Here

The handsome 1958 yearbook, the Newtonian, was distributed last week and congratulations are being received by the staff who worked hard to produce the attractive volume.

This year about 1500 Newtonians were sold to the 2600 members of the student body, with 80 paperbound editions purchased by the faculty.

Features this year are lighter and more numerous, with a wide selection of photos from every school activity. The signature page, an innovation this year, occupies two full pages. Each yearbook has a transparent plastic cover for the first time.

Editor-in-chief was Sandra Douglas, and her staff included Bethel Bilezikian, Lewis Bolen, Pat Gravellese, Bruce Swerling, Toby Gross, Bob Kantor, David Trilling, Lois Shapiro, Allan Warsowe and Earle Lane.

Faculty advisers were Edwin Little, James Silva and Miss Jane Kelly.

The '58 annual is dedicated to Harold Howe II, who is just completing his first year as NHS principal. The dedication pays tribute to his open-mindedness and his receptiveness to new ideas, and expresses the hope that NHS will have his leadership for many years to come.

Elected Newtonian Queen was Penny Doswell of Central Close, Auburndale, who is featured in a two-page spread in the book. Active in many school groups, Penny is vice-president of the Associates, chairman of the Rally Committee and President of Tri-Hi-Y.

By JUDY ARNOLD

HIGHLIGHTS . . . Once again in the third year group. In the it is time to bestow honors on many worthy high school students. During the past weeks, several pupils have received awards in different competitions. On Monday, May 19, in an S-Block assembly, the M. Roland Heintzelman Award was presented to Minda Tessler, a senior, and to Tom Martin, a junior. Through contributions from pupils, teachers, and friends, the M. Roland Heintzelman Memorial Fund has established two annual awards for creative work in English.

Each award is intended to recognize a student's sustained effort to write or speak effectively, using his skill so that others may share his accomplishment and to declare the merit of a single piece of work representing the student's finest creative achievement. The prize-winning essays were Minda's "Agnosticism: The Lonely Courage", and Tom's "Oasis."

The award medal is designed to represent the teacher-spirit of Roland Heintzelman and the student achievement. It was created by Arthur Heintzelman, Curator of the Print Collection of the Boston Public Library and father of the former Newton High English teacher. The medals were presented to Minda and Tom respectively by Miss Lannigan and Miss Burdon. After the presentation, Dr. Arthur Ballet, who is on leave from the University of Minnesota where he is the director of the theatre department of the graduate school, spoke on "The Dramatic Word" for the remainder of the period.

In a contest held at Wellesley College for students in second, third, and college level Spanish, James Bachman, a Newton High Senior copped first prize morning each student was given a selection in Spanish which he had to read for pronunciation. He was then asked questions about the selection. From this examination, three members from each year of Spanish were chosen to compete in the afternoon finals to decide whether they would place first, second or third. The afternoon consisted of oral questioning about Simon Bolivar and Venezuela.

The students had been studying the aforementioned topics since this winter. James won the first two volumes of the life of Bolivar, a set of records in Spanish with an accompanying textbook, a medal and a certificate for the school. Dorothy Gurvitz, from Newton, competed in the second year level group.

Two Newton seniors, Ken Rower and Sandi Douglas were selected by examinations given to National Honor Society members in many high schools in the United States and foreign countries, as recipients of honors in the Scholarship Program. By ranking among the top 197 students from schools with chapters of the National Honor Society, Ken won the highest possible award. Sandi was one of the top 313 students who won a certificate of merit.

Another subject brought praise to a Newton High Student. Mary Auryansen, a junior, won the Boston Regional Prize in high schools in an examination sponsored by the University of Massachusetts Math Club. The award was a medal and a $50 check. This test was administered at Boston Latin School.

Again in math, Felix Schlaepfer won a lapel pin from the Mathematics Association of America in a contest sponsored by that organization.

Another group of excited winners were the newly selected cheerleaders. The girls were picked after weeks of practice sessions and two try-out periods. The nine girls who will be cheering the Newton High boys on to victory next year are Marcia Boyd, Jill Schofield, Ivy Nesson, Nancy Lillis, Nanci Preston, Cheryl Kuebler, Emily Newton, Diane Costa and Liz Lubell.

Recently, Walton Gordon, superintendent of Farrington High School in Honolulu, and Hubert Everly, dean at the University of Hawaii, visited Newton High. Under a plan, these men are visiting schools where the Ford plan is in effect, in preparation for the Ford Foun-

Jim Yancey Voted Athlete of Year

Jim Yancey of West Newton, who Friday set a new State Meet Class A broad jump record with a near 23-foot jump, captured the Athlete of the Year award sponsored by the Newtonite, NHS newspaper.

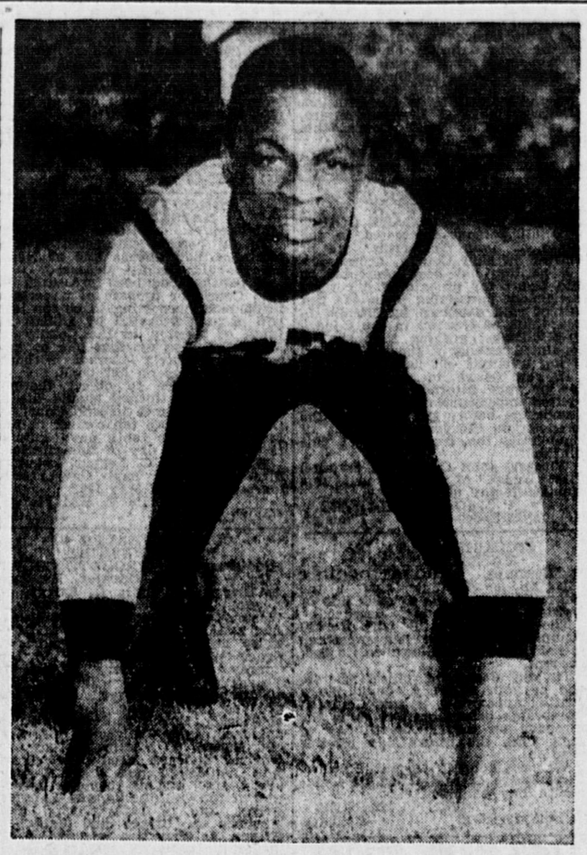
Nominated for the honor in three sports, indoor and outdoor track and football, Jim won in all three categories. He beat out Manny Connerny by 36 votes in the final tally, while Ron O'Laughlin edged Marty Beckwithh for third place.

Jim, who makes his home at 99 Hicks street, was class president in his sophomore year, and is a versatile and popular athlete. A triple threat in track, he is a dash man, a high jumper and broad jumper. In football, he has played both fullback and end.

Runner-up for the coveted sports award was John "Manny" Connerney of 160 Pearl street, who starred in football and baseball. Top scorer for the football squad this year, Manny will attend the University of Wyoming next fall.

In cross-country, the poll revealed Fran Woodbridge to be the top winner. Bob Calvert was head man in basketball, Jim Leonard in hockey, Len Bernheimer in tennis and Alan York in golf.

Placing second in the voting were Vern Rollins in basketball, Gerry Ross in cross country, Ron O'Laughlin in hockey, Nick Charney and Phil Currier in tennis, and Jim Burke in golf.



ATHLETE OF THE YEAR at N.H.S. is Jim Yancey, only player to be nominated in three sports in the Newtonite poll. A record-breaking track star in both indoor and outdoor competitions, Jim has also been a football standout this year.

Majorettes Have Fun Instilling School Spirit

Barbara Axt, Suzanne Maguire and Eleanor Moore will soon be marching in cadence with the Newton High School band. This attractive trio are the new drum majorettes and were chosen for their ability and citizenship after a week of final tryouts.

Two veteran twirlers who will return to lead the band next year are Debie Emerson and Judy Solby.

Gail Spuler, who is completing three years as a majorette, says, "I looked forward to football season every year with the anticipation of having fun and we all enjoyed helping to instill school spirit."

Other three-year members of the majorette squad are Pat Howard and Sue Spangenburg, while Mary Oliveri and Penny Doswell were one-year members.

Quill and Scroll Pins for Editors Of NHS Paper

Quill and Scroll Awards for excellence in journalism were presented recently to the retiring editors of The Newtonite by arold Clancy, managing editor of the Boston Traveler.

His talk to the aspiring members of the fourth estate touched upon sensationalism in journalism, make-up, the yellow press, and highlights in the career of a rising young reporter.

Pins were awarded to the following members of the 57-58 Newtonite staff: Mike Huberman, Mark Berenson, Marion Mayzer, Kenneth Rower, Kathy O'Donnell, Joan Andler, Phyllis Andler, Eliot Gardner, Barbara Dubins and Steven Secunda.

Parker, Jr., of 27 Varick Hill Road, Waban, was recently elected treasurer of the Clearing House, student governing body, at the Amos Tuck School of Business Administration. Fifteen girls have requested permission to join the club, and if ten more girls sign up another section may be found.

The club's executive committee comprises Mike Weyler, Francis Dahl, Harvey Spear, and John Derr. Faculty advisor is Mr. Willard.

Radio-TV Executive Is Commencement Speaker

Close to 800 pupils will receive diplomas at Newton High School's 99th commencement exercises to be held Saturday evening, June 7, at Dickinson Stadium.

Graduation speaker will be Philip K. Allen, assistant general manager of WGBH for finance, who formerly served as deputy assistant Secretary of Defense and as chief clerk for the Senate Armed Services committee in Washington.

dation Program in Teacher's Education. The two were especially interested in School and University Research and Development.

Starting this year, the Massachusetts Scholarship Foundation is going to give $100,000 to between 150 and 200 needy students. The grants will range from $200 to $800, depending upon the need.

On Wednesday of last week a round-table discussion was held about what to expect in college for senior girls. This talk helped to prepare them for the educational change they will be experiencing next year.

Last week a junior English class journeyed to Cambridge one evening for a most profitable and enjoyable experience. About 15 students first dined at the home of an Indian college student near Central Square. The group then discussed Indian affairs with the boys, and finally proceeded to a nearby theatre, where they met more members of the class, and all went in to see and hour and one-half film on the life of Ghandi.

JOTS AND DASHES . . Most recent senior standouts were Sue Sholkin, Helga Muelder, Al Paulson, and Marty Beckwith.

The library is presently working on a plan whereby it will be able to sell paper-bound books to students at low cost. This would be a very great convenience to all high school boys and girls.

The Newtonian Queen, who was elected earlier in the year by vote of all yearbook purchasers, but not made public until the book actually came out, is Penny Doswell, present girls' vice-president of the Associate Council.

MERRYMAKER . . . At the recent Senior Night, many Seniors provided the entertainment for the large audience. They were Jim Draper, Roger Kaufman, Nancy Scammon, John Kattwinkle, Wally Blackwood, Peg Zottu and a group of eight girls and eight boys who interpreted "Eight Young Men", Emily MacMillan, Bethel Bilizekian, The Newtones, Dick Gordon, John Martin, Marie France, a group of eight girls doing the Charleston led by Charlotte Marden, Alan Howard, John Deming, Nancy Durham, Sandra Douglas, Judy Simone, Marilyn Klein, Cathy Harper, Clint Shaw, Jerry Healy, The Tigerettes, Judy Ricen, Bunny Warshaver, Judie Becker, Alice Jacobson, Bruce Swerling, Doc Zolli, Phil Johnson, Dick McCarthy, The Newton Gymnasts, Pat Howard, Nick Charney, Howie Gidez, Candy Bullock, and Gary Hiess. The script committee consisted of Clint Shaw, Judie Becker, Roger Kaufman, and the stage helpers were Nancy Scammon, Sandi Douglas, Joan Lewis, and Seta Der Hohannessian, chairman.

The Newton High Orchestra played a concert last week at the Underwood School, a Newton elementary school.

AFTER-CLASS . . . The Camera Club is attempting to work on a project that will go down in history. Its members are taking pictures of all parts of Newton, particularly the old sections. These photographs will be put away, to be removed fifty years hence, so that they can be used for historical data on the city of Newton. The project, which was recently started, will be completed in the fall. The group also bought a new enlarger recently.

Hal Cohen and Larry Yeo were the most recent guests at the Rotary Club luncheon series.

As its final activity of the year, the French club is planning a dinner in a French restaurant for the members of the organization. The officers of the group: Bob Snyder, Dave Brown, Carol Chandler, and Bobbi Stempler, expect this to be a very successful trip.

A special presentation of an important personage at midnight at the Senior Prom has been announced by Prom Chairman Pat Howard.

Hal Cohen, NHS Junior, Heads Classical League

Hal Cohen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell A. Cohen of Newton Centre, a junior at Newton High School, was elected president of the Massachusetts Junior Classical League, an organization composed of more than 1300 High School Latin students.

He is president of the Newton High Latin Club, one of approximately 1500 Massachusetts High Latin Clubs which sent delegates to the annual convention held at Norton, Mass., High School. Others attending from Newton High were David Bailen, Elaine Cohen, Brooke Kruger, Nancy Mahoney and Stanley Wallack. The Junior Classical League is a national organization affiliated with the American Classical League.

Where They Are Going to College

With most colleges acceptances issued, the halls of the high schools are ringing with the phrase "Where are you going to school next year?"

A few of these inquiries may be answered by the following rundown of some of the NHS lads' and lassies' choices.

If you happen to be in the neighborhood of the Fenway next fall, you could find classmates Claire Tevekelian, Nancy Oncely and Barbara Faire at Simmons College.

Across the Charles at Harvard will be Dick McCarthy and Reinier Beeuwkes, while Elaine Remley will be hitting the books at Pembroke College in Rhode Island.

Further south in Maryland will be the stamping ground of Ann Holmes and Carol McFarland, who are enrolled at Hood College.

If you are looking for a small class reunion you might try the University of Massachusetts, where Ruth Butterfield, Lois Anderson, Bob Masow, Ann Havey, Billy Woodlock, Gail Thompson, and Jim Haner will give you a warm welcome.

Heading toward Pennsylvania, Paul Gleason and Ken Rower will be holding up at Havorford College, while Marian Young expects to be a freshman at Ohio-Wesleyan.

Up North in Maine you can expect to see Peter Meyer and Al Howard strolling along the Bowdoin campus, while Judy LeBaron enjoys collegiate life at the University of Maine.

Colby College is the choice of Lynn Spencer, a girl who could make a choice, as she won acceptances to several fine schools.

In up-state New York, Martin Tormey and Charlie Snider may well be roomates at Corneli. Roberta Litzerman is headed for Rochester University, in the same general area, while Ellen Kahn has been accepted at Skidmore.

Junior Girls Fly To West Coast for J.R.C. Conclave

Suzanne Maguire and Kathy Dynes, two N. H. S. juniors, should have much to offer at Red Cross meetings next year, after their recent trip to the National Red Cross Convention in California.

The two representatives left by plane on May 18 and returned on May 22. Topics concerning different phases of Junior Red Cross, plus various planned activities and discussion groups constituted the main part of the convention.

Suzanne, who lives at 309 Bellevue St., is a volunteer at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital and vice-president of the Junior Red Cross council at the high school. Kathy Dynes has over 100 hours of volunteer work at the hospital and is program chairman for the high school council. She lives at 74 Vista Avenue, Auburndale.

KENNETH ROWER

SANDRA DOUGLAS

Two NHS Scholars Rank High In National Honor Program

Newton High School's Kenneth Rower and Sandra Douglas have been awarded honors in the National Honor Society Scholarship Program.

Ken won the highest possible award, ranking among the top 197 students from other schools. The pair were selected from students in schools with chapters of the National Honor Society which has members in the United States and Argentina, Cuba, England, France, Germany, Italy, Spain and Japan. The winners were chosen by examinations -- the Scholarshihp Qualifying Test and later the General Aptitude Test for those surviving the first weeding.

Both Ken and Sandy are active members of the senior class. Sandy is editor-in-chief of the yearbook and a drama festival participant but she still finds time to keep up honor marks. Ken spends much of his time working on the Newtonite as Production Editor. He was also a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Test.

Sandra makes her home at 11 Fairview Street, and Ken lives at 11 Maplewood Avenue, Newton Centre.

Surprise at Midnight for Prom Trotters

On Thursday evening, June 5, the senior class will dance to the music of Ted Bernard's orchestra at the Totem Pole. This 14-piece ensemble and refreshments catered by Seiler's will be all a part of the long awaited senior prom.

The dance committee has worked diligently to guarantee that everyone will have an enjoyable evening. A planned surprise will await the couples at midnight. This and other features should make the prom a success.

Phil Johnson, Pat Howard, Charlie Snider, Judy Goldstein, Virginia McLaughlin, John McKloskey, Ruth Butterfield, Penny Doswell, Bob Kantar, Ellen Kahn and Alan Howard constitute this year's prom committee. Head ushers will be Martin Tormey and Richard McCarthy.

Seniors will be ushered through a receiving line at 9 o'clock, headed by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Howe. The dance will end at approximately 1 o'clock.

Tennis Season Now In Full Swing On Recreation Courts

The Newton Recreation Department tennis season has opened with the use of blacktop courts and courts in some locations, with the remaining clay court areas to be made available as soon as possible, weather permitting their conditioning.

Blacktop courts are to be found at the High School, Weeks Junior High School, Warren Junior High School, Memorial School and Wellington Playground.

For those who prefer clay courts, these are to be found at Burr Playground, the High School and Newton Centre Playground.

Recreation Commissioner C. Evan Johnson has announced the following tennis court regulations.

1. There will be an attendant at these courts(Newton Centre, Burr Playground and Newton High School) on Saturday afternoons from 1:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. on days when the courts are playable.

2. All persons using these courts must check with the attendant before starting play.

3. No play period will exceed one hour if there are persons waiting to play.

4. Tennis permits will be $1.00 for adults, 50c for students, for the season.

5. Newton citizens must have a permit to play. Guests of Newton citizens (one guest to a resident) will pay a 50c fee for the opportunity to play.

6. Persons purchasing permits must show proper identification to the tennis attendant when making the purchase. (Automobile license.)

7. Players may still sign up ahead of time for play periods on week ends but not for more than one hour.

8. Cooperation in promoting this extensive use of tennis court areas is earnestly encouraged.

9. This service will be extended to other tennis court areas if we find there is adequate need and demand.

10. Permits may also be purchased at the Recreation Office at Newton City Hall.

11. Players must be dressed in proper tennis costume at all times.

12. Tennis shoes (smooth soles and no heels) must be worn.

Commissioner Johnson pointed out that tennis, as an international sport, follows certain basic standards or rules of sportsmanship, behavior and dress. He believes all players will benefit by the strict observance of the basic rules and the following regulations:

1. Read and follow the posted detailed regulations governing the use of the tennis courts.

2. All players should purchase a permit at the Recreation Office, City Hall, or from the recreation leader at the playground.

3. Tennis shoes (smooth sole) must be worn at all times. Heeled shoes are prohibited.

4. Proper tennis costume must be worn at all times. For men, T-shirt, sport shirt or equivalent, optional pants, for women, complete dress, skirt and blouse or equivalent.

5. Applause is always appreciated. Loud voices and boisterousness are considered objectionable and unsportsmanlike.

6. A permit is granted with the understanding that the holder will at all times abide by the basic rules and standards governing the use of the tennis courts.

Mr. Turner, who is a teacher at the Williams School in Auburndale, was honored this past year in being named Newton's "Outstanding Young Man of the Year" at the annual Distinguished Service Award Dinner.

At the conclusion of the elections, the new president outlined his program for the coming year. He stated, "that it was important for the Jaycees to continue those youth programs that had been carried on in past years, but that the Jaycees should endeavor to initiate other activities that would enable the members of the chapter to play a greater part in the civic life of Newton. Only when we have offered to our members a well-rounded program of activities, then can we assume the Junior Chamber of Commerce title of being 'Young Men in Action'," Mr. Stevens concluded.

After making his remarks, the new elected president presented the outgoing president, Albert Horton, a diamond past president's pin along with a plaque upon which were engraved the local chapter's appreciation for his leadership during the past year.

Take No Action On High School Parking Appeal

A petition signed by 2000 Newton High School students asking for further parking privileges on certain streets near NHS, which had the approval of the School Committee, the police department and the Mayor, was taken under advisement after a hearing Monday night by the street traffic committee of the Board of Aldermen.

The committee, whose chairman is Charles Cosgrove, postponed decision on the matter, which is one of serious urgency to a large contingent of NHS pupils led by Bruce Swerling, Richard Adams, and Clinton Pollack.

These three students are members of the NHS Legislature committee on parking. They seek repeal of ordinances prohibiting parking on the west side of Pulsifer and Blithedale Streets and Kimball Terrace, the south side of Otis Street, and the north side of a portion of Clyde Street.

The aldermanic committee asked for further details on the high school parking situation. At present about 10 percent of the school's 3000 students drive to school, in addition to a large number of teachers.

The students' committee claims the space available is inadequate, and has scheduled an open meeting at the NHS auditorium for next Tuesday night so that residents of the streets in question may speak on the issue.

They charge that the spaces provided are located purposely so far away from school as to discourage driving, which they state is the cheapest and most practical methhod of transportation for many NHS pupils. They also declared that participation in after-school activities was hampered by the necessity of making a 2:30 bus every day.

Penalty Charges To Be Added To Tax Bills July 1

It will cost more to be a delinquent taxpayer after July 1. What taxes? Any and all taxes collected by the city.

Listen to the words of Newton Treasurr and Collector Archie B .Whitman and make a firm resolve to pay those taxes on time in the future.

"Attention of Newton taxpayers," says Mr. Whitman, "is called to Chapter 306, Acts of 1958, which amends Section 15 of Chapter 60 of the General Laws having to do with the collection of costs to be charged on all tax bills remaining unpaid beyond the 30-day period.

"Under the provisions of this chapter all demand notices sent to delinquent taxpayers after July 1, will incur an additional charge of $1, instead of 35 cents charged up to this time.

"In addition, if the bill remains unpaid for a period of 14 days after demand notice is sent out and the collector issues a warrant to a deputy to enforce the collection the charge will be $1, instead of the usual 50 cents. The deputy collector's charge for his notice to the delinquent taxpayer will be $4 instead of $1.

"In view of these changes in the law and the additional costs they incur, it becomes more and more important for the taxpayer to pay his tax bills promptly upon receiving same and never allow them to remain unpaid beyond the 30-day period."

Visit them ,and see ideas on lamps designed for the casual informal mood of summer living.

● LEUKEMIA

Q. Is it correct to say that leukemia is "cancer of the blood"?
A. It would be better to say that leukemia is cancer of the blood-forming organs. Even this is not technically correct unless "cancer" is used in terms of how body cells behave. As in other forms of cancer, the basic trouble in leukemia lies within the body cells.
Q. Is leukemia as deadly as other forms of cancer?
A. Yes, and much more so than most forms of cancer. There is no known way to cure leukemia but doctors do have ways of prolonging the life of many unfortunate victims of this disease — something that was not possible a few years ago. Recent animal experiments using bone marrow injections may lead to better ways of treating leukemia.
Q. Can leukemia be inherited?
A. The question is still pretty much up in the air. One doctor estimates that the chance of a relative of a patient with leukemia getting the disease is 1 in 250 as compared with 1 in 4,000 in the case of families in which no member has had leukemia. Leukemia can strike twice in one family but it does not happen very often..

Beaver College Student From Newton Honored

Miss Ruth Fritz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Fritz, of 20 Cotton street, Newton, has been named a student counselor at Beaver College, Jenkintown, Pa.

Miss Fritz is a graduate of Brimmer May School and is majoring on English at Beaver.

She was one of 69 students to receive this honor. Only outstanding members of the junior and senior classes are selected to serve.

Counselors are advisers to the incoming freshmen and assist them throughout the academic year. Counselors return to the college early in September to welcome the first-year students on campus.

Beckwith Cops 3 Firsts in Milton Quadrangle Meet

Marty Beckwith showed the way with three first place wins as Newton's track team topped Brookline, Quincy and Milton Academy in a quadrangular meet at Milton Academy.

Marty topped the field in the high jump, the broad jump and the 110-yard low hurdles. Other Newton winners were Larry Smith in the 100, Fran Woodridge in the mile; Jim Gifford in the 880; and Bill Young in the discuss. Jim Yancey would have been in the charmed circle, too, no boubt, but he was sidelined by a groin pull, while Gary Snerson, who was counted on for shotput points came up with a muscle pull and was shut out.

The Newton relay team made up of Larry Smith, Arnie Lasker, Neil Buchanan and Vin Cooney ran a 1:36.4 job to lead Quincy, Brookline and the Academy's host team in that order.

Passed State Exam

Albert R. Alexander, Jr., of 80 Dalby street, Newton, passed a civil service examination to qualify for appointment as conservation officer in the State Department of Natural Resources, it was announced this week at the State House. Of 211 men who took the test, only 81 passed it.

The modern pesticide industry had its start with the development of oil-based DDT late in World War II. Farmers today buy well over one billion dollars worth of DDT and other pesticides every year.

Brothers Receive Military Awards

Two brothers from West Newton, attending Boston University, were the recipients of medals at the annual review and awards presentation ceremonies of Boston University's Army and Air Force ROTC units at Boston University Feild.

John R. Farrington, a junior in the University's College of Business Administration, was the recipient of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution award honoring the outstanding Air Force ROTC cadet, and his borther, Anthony J., received the Scabbard and Blade award, as the outstanding sophomore Air Force cadet.

Berish is social chairman of the fraternity and is also active in student government.

An industrial engineering major in the College of Engineering, he is a graduate of Newton High School and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Berish.

He is employed at the Quality Steel Products, Inc., West Roxbury, as part of Northeastern's Co-operative Plan of Education.

Ump's Decision Upset; St. Pats Get Belated Win

An umpire's not always right—at least when the protest has merit and it comes before the CYO Advisory Board.

The board recently cost Sacred Heart High a victory which the Newton boys thought they had won May 13 in 12 innings overt St. Patrick's of Watertown.

In the 11th inning of that game the Ump allowed a St. Pat runner to advance only one base on an overthrow of first. A St. Pat runner who went all the way home from second on the throw was sent back to third. St. Pat's protested.

Sacred Heart's winning run in the 12th was tossed out. The CYO board ruled that St. Pat's runner should have been allowed to go all the way home and that run would have given St. Pat's the ball game. It was recorded as victory for St. Pat's—a belated victory—but nevertheless a win.

Jim Fitz in Good Form As Sacred Heart Wins 10-1

Jim Fitzpatrick held St. Thomas to six hits and fanned 15 to hang up his seventh win of the year for Sacred Heart High School and maintain his team's one-game leadership edge in the Catholic Suburban League. The final score was 10-1. Fitzpatrick contributed two hits to his team's cause, one of them a triple.

Newton Tops All In Class A Meet

For the seventh year in a row Ed Boyle's Newton High School tracksters annexed the Class A outdoor championship.

They did it with style and eclat, too, running up a record meet tally of 48 points; grabbing 24 points in the field events on one day and scoring in six of the eight track events on the next.

Jim Yancey set the pace for the Tigers by leaping 22 feet 11¾ inches in the broad jump in the White Stadium competition to set a new Class A record.

Trailing Newton in the point totals were Boston English, 37; Weymouth, 24; Rindge Tech, 18; New Bedford, 17; Brookline, 16; Medford, 10; Malden, 8; Boston Tech, 8; Boston Trade, 6; Lawrence Central, 5; Brockton, 4; Boston Latin, 3; Somerville, 3; Quincy, 3.

First place winners for Newton included Marty Beckwith in the low hurdles; Bill Young in the discus and Yancey in the broad jump.

COMPETITION MOVES in on little David Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Gray, of Newton, when this over-eager animal friend decides to share David's bottle at the Animal Forest, York Beach, Maine. David appears somewhat reluctant to surrender the bottle entirely to the monkey.

For the first time TV was used in a religious service at Temple Shalom of Newton last Sunday. The sermon comprised a religious discussion transmitted from Channel 4. Subject of the discussion was the festival of Shavuct and its significance today .

Peter F. Volante of 48 Bow street, Newton Centre, will be graduated Sunday from the University of Notre Dame at exercises to be held at South Bend, Ind. He will receive the bachelor of science degree in engineering.

Dave Craig Holds Brockton to Four Hits to Win 7-0

Dave Craig pitched nine more innings of shutout ball — this time against Brockton — as the Newton Tigers ran up their total wins in the Suburban League to 11, against only one defeat.

While Dave was limiting the Shoe City nine to four scattered hits, Newton batters pounded out 13 to gain a 7-0 decision at Keith Field, Brockton.

Craig's performance brought his season record to just five earned runs in 59 2/3 innings of mound work. Earlier the classy lefthander had shut out Arlington. His earned run average for the season after he had retired the last Brockton batter was .75.

He contributed a single and a triple to the offense against Brockton.

Nangle Fans 16 As Sacred Heart Defeats Marian

Bob Nangle had plenty of stuff and Sacred Heart batters were in the groove as they won their ninth victory against two setbacks in Catholic Suburban League competition. Nangle toyed with Marian High to gain a 9-2 decision.

Bob fanned 16 and allowed only six hits.

The Sacred Heart batsmen didn't really get down to work until the fifth inning when they pushed across their first two scores. After that it was a breeze to the finish.

Our Lady's Holy Name Tourney At Wayland Sat.

Our Lady's Holy Name Society which conducted a remarkably successful golf tournament last year, plans a bigger and better opportunity for Newton golf devotees to show their skills at another tournament to be held Saturday at the Wayland Country Club.

Under the system of handicapping which will prevail, all members of the Society will have an equal shot at the top prize.

Members who are interested in participating may contact one of the following committee members — John Shields, DE 2-3409; Roger Kavanaugh, BI 4-6123; John Neville, BI 4-1197; Austin Stokes, WA 4-3641; Lieutenant Joseph Fitzgibbons, LA 7-2266.

Final meeting of the season for the society will be held Sunday, June 8, when a Communion Breakfast will be served in the High School cafeteria following the 8 o'clock Mass. A very interesting program has been arranged.

7 Promotions; 5 New Patrolmen Bring Police To Top Strength

Seven promotions—filling all vacant spots on the top echelon of the police department—and five appointments of new patrolmen—bringing his department to its authorized strength for the first time in years—were announced by Police Chief Philip Purcell.

The promotions include those of William J. Burke from lieutenant to captain; Richard F. Donahue and William J. Bell, from sergeants to lieutenants; William F. Quinn, Robert F. Mahoney, Charles W. Kennedy, and Richard J. Nugent from patrolmen to sergeants.

The newly appointed patrolmen, all veterans, were George F. Sorenson, Jr., of 9 Dalby street, Newton; Joseph A. Mason, of 288 Newtonville avenue, Newtonville; Richard F. Dunn of 214 Concord street, Newton Lower Falls, Domenick J. DeMaio of 24 McCarthy road, Oak Hill Park, and Donald E. O'Neil of 85 Gardner street, Newton.

A series of re-assignments, made possible by the promotions and the new appointments were also announced by the chief.

The top officer vacancies were created by the retirements of Captain Daniel E. Crowley and Sergeant Thomas H. McCormick, and the death of Lieutenant John H. Sheridan and Sergeant Thomas B. Concannon.

Captain Burke is 50 years old and makes his home at 124 High street, Newton Upper Falls. He will observe the 20th anniversary of his membership in the police department June 6.

Captain Burke received his oath of office from Assistant Clerk of Court David C. Lombard and the other newly promoted officers received theirs from Clerk of Court Walter F. Slattery.

The new patrolmen were assigned to night relief duty and will serve with older members of the department during a training period. All have served in the navy with the exception of O'Neil who was a member of the Air Force.

They received their oath from Clerk Slattery in a special induction ceremony in the guard room at the police station.

Following the induction, an informal reception was held for both the promoted officers and the rookies. Nearly 100 persons attended including members of the families and friends of the newly advanced men and the new patrolmen.

Memorial Day Parade Route

Here is the route for Newton's annual Memorial Day parade which will leave its starting point at the First National Store parking lot at Washington and Craft street, Newtonville, promptly at 10:30 a.m., Friday.

It will proceed west from that point along Washington street to Wainut street south on Walnut street to Commonwealth avenue to the War Memorial flag staff where a halt will be made for the placing of wreaths and the offering of prayer by the Rev. Patrick J. Gilmore of Sacred Heart Church. The column will then proceed along Walnut street to Newton Cemetery where ceremonies will be held at both the GAR Memorial and the Soldiers' lot.

Following the ceremonies at the cemetery the parade will continue through the main gate of the cemetery, north on Walnut street and west on Commonwealth avenue, where it will pass in review before Senator Saltonstall, Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., Adjutant General Mario Di Carlo and their staffs. The column will proceed to Homer street near Commonwealth avenue where the parade will be disbanded.

Good Shepherd Strawberry Fete

The annual Strawberry Festival of the Women's Auxiliary of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Waban, will be held Monday at the Waban Neighborhood Club. Following dessert and coffee at 1 p.m., a couturiere fashion show by Nancy Morris' pupils will be presented. At intermission there will be a drawing for the many door prizes donated by members.

The afternoon will feature canasta and bridge. Homecooked foods featuring strawberry items will be on sale at one table and gifts made by members at another. Tickets may be purchased from Mrs. George Brookhiser or Mrs. Neil W. Swinton.

All proceeds will go to the church organ fund.

Mrs. Gordon B. Gifford is general chairman.

Memorial Day—

and there make one of the two principal addresses of the day will be Senator Leverett Saltonstall, a veteran of the first world conflict.

His chief marshal will be Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., a veteran of World War II. The Adjutant general will be Mario Di Carlo.

Given good weather, this year's observance may outstrip those of the past in numbers in the line of march and the spectators who will line the parade route and attend the two services at the cemetery.

The parade will get under way at 10:30 a. m. at Washington and Craft streets in Newtonville and proceed to Newton Cemetery, over a route now familiar through long use. There will be one stop en route to the cemetery. That will be at the War Memorial on Commonwealth avenue, where a halt will be made while wreaths are solemnly placed at the foot of the flag staff and the Rev. Patrick J. Gilmore of the Sacred Heart Church offers prayers.

The column will then resume its march to the cemetery.

There will be ceremonies at both the GAR Monument and the Soldiers' Lot. Senator Saltonstall will deliver the traditional address at the Monument. The introduction will be given by Jayne C. Driscoll, the invocation by Rabbi Murray Rothman of Temple Shalom. Robert Reidy of Our Lady's High School will read Lincoln's Gettysburg address and wreaths will be placed by the commanders of the veterans organizations and the presidents of their auxiliaries. Father Gilmore will give Benediction.

At the Soldiers' Lot the address will be delivered by Mayor Whitmore, who will also place the city's wreath. The Newton Veterans' Council wreath at the lot will be placed by Edmund T. Duncan. Prayer will be offered by the Rev. Louis Ford of the Myrtle Baptist Church.

At both memorials the Newton Veterans Honor Guard will serve as the firing squad and taps will be played by John C. Malgieri.

Aides at the GAR Monument will be Edward Theriault and Frank Howley and at the Soldiers' Lot, Howard Carley and Betty Cunningham.

Four Divisions will make up this year's parade.

In the first will be military detachments representing the Army, Navy and Air Corps as well as two National Guard Companies, Co. E and F of the 101st Infantry. Also in the division will be a detachment of the 15th AAA under Captain McCoy.

The Boston College ROTC drill team under Lieutenant Colonel Philip R. Cibotti, Jr., will be a feature of the division.

The Second Division, under Marshal Carey Proia, will be made up of veterans' organizational units and their auxiliaries.

The Third Division under John T. Evans will include members of the Auxiliary Police, Sea Scouts, representatives of the Newton Boys Club, the Norumbega Council Boy Scouts of America, the Newton Girl Scout Council, Camp Fire Girls, Cub Packs of the Boy Scouts, Rainbow Girls and various civic and fraternal organizations.

The Fourth Division will feature three floats by the George D. Carson and Nonantum Posts of the American Legion and the Lieutenant Stanton Amesbury Post, VFW. Also in this division will be units of the Auxiliary Fire Department, Civil Defense, a Red Cross Disaster Unit and the National Lancers.

There will be four good bands to supply the music. They will include the Newton High School Band, under Director George W. Doren; the Bruno Band, the Levi Warren Junior High School Band under Director Vincent J. Marotta, and the John W. Weeks Junior High Band under Director Raymond Smith.

After the ceremonies at Newton Cemetery, the parade will march before the reviewing stand at City Hall where Senator Saltonstall, Mayor Whitmore, Adjutant General Mario Di Carlo and their staffs will review the marchers.

Basis of membership in the society is high scholarship, exemplary character, and outstanding personal qualities.

Rawson to Seek Renomination In G.O.P. Primary

Representative George E. Rawson today announced his candidacy for renomination in the Republican primary next September.

He represents the Fourth Middlesex District in the House, comprising Wards 1, 2, 3 and 7 of Newton. The Rawsons have made their home at 22 Marlboro street, Newton, for 39 years.

The legislator is a native of Holliston. He was educated in the public schools of that town and at Amherst College where he was graduated with "magna cum laude" honors and was a member of Phita Beta Kappa.

He has been active in the affairs of his graduating class throughout his alumni years and has served it as secretary. He is also active in the affairs of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

His business career has been identified with insurance and as a broker and representative of the Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia.

He has been long active in various civic and community affairs in Newton. He served with the original Newton Community Chest organization in 1932 and was associated with its subsequent organizations for 24 years. He served as village mayor in the Newton-Wellesley Hospital building fund campaign. He is a director of the Stone Institute and the Newton Improvement Society. He is a member of the Eliot Church of Newton.

For many years Rawson was a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen. In his board service he was chairman of the claims and rules committee for seven years. His work on the committee was connected with two revisions of the zoning ordinances and with the enactment of Newton's excellent new building code.

Rawson was first elected to the House in 1942. In nine years he has not missed a Legislative roll call and the only committee meeting absence recorded against his name was due to a death in his family.

He served as clerk of the committee on election laws and later as chairman. He took a very active role in the first revision of the election laws of general character since 1911. He was the author of numerous improvements in the election laws, including the Corrupt Practices Act of 1946 and the Pre-Primary Convention Act of 1953.

Passengers taking the final commuter runs on the Highland Branch line this week will receive special communications from Mayor Whitmore informing them that the line they have been riding is to go out of existence and that the special bus service to the Main B & A line is to be provided for their convenience:

The Mayor's letter says:

"After a long and exhaustive study of the decision recently rendered by the ICC, denying petitions for further hearings and motions to postpone the entry of the final order of abandonment of the Highland Branch line, the city has decided not to appeal to the courts for a stay of execution of the order.

"This decision was made with reluctance and only after weighing realistically the chances of eventual success against the substantial costs involved.

"An analysis of the 500 commuter questionaries returned to this office indicate that many of you prefer to commute via the main line railroad and that parking spaces for our cars in the station are desired.

"Such parking spaces as are available without necesary restrictions are not too numerous or convenient. This fact, plus the increasing traffic congestion on the north-south streets, especially in the mornings when schools are in session, resulted in the effort to promote, with the cooperation of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway, the institution of the express bus service herein announced.

"We believe this will prove a convenience for you. We shall continue to study the overall situation as it develops and to make such refinements as are possible.

Seek Roof Over Trucks, June 17

A hearing will be held June 17 before the Board of Aldermen on motion by Alderman Melvin J. Dangel which would require that trucks of more than one-ton capacity be kept under cover when they are regularly stored in residential areas. The Alderman believes that big trucks stored after their business day in driveways and yards in residential districts offer something of an affront to good taste and might even be considered eyesores.
